EXPERIENCE THE VALUE OF A John Carroll Education

6 Reasons that Affirm the Investment

Experience the Value

A John Carroll education is an investment - it is about far more than a price tag. It is about an experience that sets young people up for a lifetime of learning, leadership, service - and ultimately, success.

Uncovering the reasons you're exploring a private school education is an important part of the process and defining what matters to you most will help you make an informed decision.

We hope this guide will help you better understand the benefits of a John Carroll education and the value of the experience it provides.

#1 FOUNDATION MATTERS

In the great Catholic education tradition faith life suffuses all we do at John Carroll.

Christ continues to be the center and mission at John Carroll. Through their studies, Cavalier students develop a knowledge of their faith, and are motivated to a life of prayer, spiritual growth, and participation.

An educational foundation rooted in Christ will anchor students throughout their lives.

A John Carroll education is an investment in a foundation for life.

#2 THE WHOLE PERSON MATTERS

A John Carroll education goes beyond the rigors of the classroom as we seek to educate and inspire the whole person; spiritually, academically, creatively, and athletically.

The education of the whole person seeks to build character and virtue, as well as knowledge (in and out of the classroom). John Carroll students are prepared to flourish because of the breadth of their experience and all it encompasses.

A John Carroll education is an investment in the whole person.

#3 COMMUNITY MATTERS

A strong sense of community adds value to our lives and helps us to feel more connected to the world around us.

At John Carroll you'll see community in the way we learn, compete, perform, and worship together. Cavalier students are a part of something bigger than themselves; a community of believers and achievers.

A John Carroll education is an investment in something bigger than ourselves.

#4 OPPORTUNITY MATTERS

Opportunity knows no bounds when it comes to the experience of our students and the impact it has on their future.

Cavalier students are encouraged to explore and immerse themselves in a multitude of opportunities. Whether it's being a multi-sport athlete and serving as a Student Ambassador, or leading the student government while being in the cast of the spring musical - students are encouraged to make the most of the opportunities available, and faculty & coaches cooperate and embrace the mission as being mutually beneficial to all interests.

A John Carroll education is an investment in opportunities.

#5 SERVICE MATTERS

Our faith in God is manifested through our love, concern, and service for others.

John Carroll students learn and understand more about the needs of other people, and talents, so often taken for granted, become more appreciated and developed.

Whether it's serving the student-body through Campus Ministry, hosting a prospective student for a Shadow Day, packing food and hygiene kits for the disadvantaged in our community, or traveling in our city, state, or country to assist - Cavalier students grow in service.

A John Carroll education is an investment in growth.

#6 VALUES MATTER

Just as you have worked hard to instill your own values in the upbringing of your child, the right school will build upon this foundation.

Families in private schools are part of an educational community by choice; where students and faculty reflect their own family values through attitudes and behavior.

Cavalier families are a part of an environment that goes beyond the classroom - an environment where learning happens 'beyond the bell'.

A John Carroll education is an investment in values.
