The responsibility of your counselor in preparing the "Secondary School Report" or letter of recommendation for colleges and universities is to provide a summary of achievements beyond your academic record. Conveying your unique qualities and potential for growth is not an easy task. Therefore, we would appreciate you giving us an honest estimation of yourself: what you have done, and what you have left to do, both in school and any other part of your life.

This form should be typed in the space provided. The more information we have, the better your Counselor can portray you in a recommendation letter. The less you write, the harder it is to describe you as a student.

1. List the schools you are considering or to which you have applied.

2. What would you like to study in college? What are your career goals?

3. List hobbies, interests, and special talents you have.

4. What three words describe you the best?

EXTRACURRICULAR & PERSONAL ACTIVITIES: Provide information on both school-related and non-school-related activities during your high school years. This might include clubs, teams, community or religious organizations, volunteer service, summer studies, travel, or work experience.

Activity (spell out / do not use initials)	Positions held / Honors won / Contributions made	Hours / week	Years of participation
