Reading at Home

For parents

Show Interest

Showing genuine interest in what your child is reading is a simple form of encouragement for them.

Sit & Listen

Rather than just telling your child to go and read for a certain amount of time, take the opportunity to sit and listen to your child read.

ask questions

Ask your child questions and have conversation during and after reading. Doing so is a form of showing interest, allows them to create dialogue, and builds comprehension.

praise them!

Give praise at every opportunity! From sounding out a word correctly, to making connections, to completing a book, etc. Praise builds confidence that is invaluable!

October Students of the Month

Madelyn Long ~ Zachary Muller ~ Henry Ebeling ~ Raya Schlueter
Luna Kilburn ~ Yoan Ruiz ~ Lily Poplus ~ Riley Scardigli
Emily Deaton ~ Dominic Angelica ~ Shy Riley ~ Grayson Vinnett
Elijah Teel ~ Otis Ben ~ Thalia Fowler ~ Andrew McDonald
Reagan Long ~ Comi Liu ~ Johnny Clesi ~ Aibrean Crusto