Price: $410
Description:
Do you dream of being on TV, in movies, or starring in your own show? Then this On-Camera Acting Class is made for you! In this fun and creative course, young actors will learn the secrets of performing for the camera — from developing real, believable characters to showing emotion and building confidence on set. Students will discover how to prepare for film auditions, understand camera angles and shots, and make smart adjustments that bring their performances to life on screen. Throughout the session, each student will rehearse, film, and perform a variety of exciting scenes and monologues. All scenes are recorded and edited — and every participant will receive their own footage clips and edited scenes to use for acting or demo reels!

Last Day: May 6th
Days of no class: 3/4, 4/29
Price: $290
Description:
🎲 Welcome to the Board (but not bored) Game Club! 🎲
Remember the excitement of gathering around the kitchen table on a rainy afternoon, carefully unfolding a game board, and setting up all the pieces? Think back to reading those multi-step rulebooks with friends, plotting your next clever strategic move, counting out paper money, or learning the resilience of taking a funny setback in stride! Those classic, unplugged board game experiences shaped so much of how we learned to think, socialize, negotiate, and show good sportsmanship. We want to bring that same timeless magic to our 3rd, 4th, and 5th graders! Hosted right here in the school library, Board (but not bored) Game Club offers a cozy, welcoming space for students to step away from screens and connect face-to-face. Come play, build lasting friendships, and prove that getting "board" is the absolute best cure for being bored!
