Arrupe Jesuit High School is a Catholic, college preparatory school offering students with limited economic resources a premier educational experience through rigorous academics, formation in faith and discernment, and a unique work-study program – fostering community, opportunity, leadership, and personal growth.

Corporate Work Study Program

Arrupe is modeled after the extremely successful Cristo Rey Jesuit High School located in Chicago. Arrupe is also part of the Cristo Rey Network® which is a national association of high schools that provides quality, Catholic, college prep education to low-income families who otherwise could not afford such an opportunity.

Cristo Rey-model high schools currently enroll 12,900 students in 41 schools in 23 states and the District of Columbia. Each school has its own identity and curriculum but is characterized by the Corporate Work Study Program.
