Dear Educators and Youth-Serving Organizations,

Lake County Rising is pleased to announce that it is once again hosting a youth contest as part of Lake County Rising, an annual program which seeks to end violence against women in all its forms.

Students in middle school are encouraged to submit original art work creations. High school students have an opportunity to submit original work in the following categories:: art, essay, or poetry.

Attached please find details for each of the contest categories as well as an entry form. Please share this information with the young people in your sphere of influence. In past years, teachers and youth organizers have found ways to integrate the activity in lessons including English and social studies/government. It has also been a catalyst for discussing and encouraging community/civic engagement.

Please feel free to contact us at LakeCountyRising@gmail.com if you have concerns or questions. The deadline for submissions is January 28th, 2027. Contest winners will be contacted by February 5th and are encouraged to attend the Lake County Rising program scheduled for February 8th, 2027. There will be a resource fair from 5:00-5:50pm and the program runs from 6 PM to 7:30 PM at the College of Lake County.

Sincerely,

Lake County Rising Planning Team
Jennifer Couty, Chairperson

Lake County Rising brings our community together to raise awareness about the abuse women and girls experience and to take a stand to end it. Inspired by One Billion Rising—a global movement started by the playwright formerly known as Eve Ensler—this event is about rising in solidarity and taking action.
A big part of the event is the youth contests, where young people can speak up, share their creativity, and help end gender-based violence.

The theme for 2027 is:

“Rise for Our Bodies, Our Earth, Our Future.”

Essay entries should be 500 words or less, double-spaced, and connect to the theme—what it means to you, why it matters, or how it influences society.

Poem entries will be judged on originality, creativity, and artistic quality. Any style is welcome (except block or blackout poems), and they should connect to the theme. Poems should not be longer than two pages.

Poster entries must be original artwork and can use any medium—paint, crayons, digital, handwriting, etc.—just avoid stereotypical or harmful images of domestic violence, like bondage.

Submit your project and waiver form to lakecountyrising@gmail.com by January 28th, 2027. Contest winners will be contacted by February 5th and are encouraged to attend the Lake County Rising program scheduled for February 8th, 2027. There will be a resource fair from 5:00-5:50pm and the program runs from 6 PM to 7:30 PM at the College of Lake County.
