Real Skills, Real Products: Don't Miss the RJUHSD Adult Transition Program Showcase

Roseville, CA – The Roseville Joint Union High School District (RJUHSD) Adult Transition Programs (ATP) are hosting a district-wide trade show where students will highlight and sell products from their successful, student-run enterprises. The event serves as a vital showcase of the job skills and real-world learning these young adults are developing.

The ATP Student Enterprise Showcase will take place on Friday, December 5th, from 12:00 PM to 2:00 PM at the RJUHSD District Office in the boardroom.

All five ATP classes will come together to demonstrate the work-based learning skills they are cultivating. Students are gaining practical experience by running their own businesses and managing all aspects of their enterprise. Attendees will have the opportunity to purchase a wide variety of custom, student-created products, including:

- Handmade home décor and jewelry
- Fresh baked goods
- Flower bouquets
- Specialty drinks

All proceeds generated from the sales are reinvested directly into supporting the students' businesses and funding essential community-based learning experiences, such as navigating public transportation, earning a paycheck, and managing personal budgets.

The community is strongly encouraged to attend and shop in support of these hardworking young entrepreneurs as they proudly share their achievements and progress toward independence.

Media interested in attending or scheduling interviews with students and staff, reach out to:
