Dear Lawrenceville School Community,

Thank you for your thoughtful engagement and participation so far in the search for our next Head of School. We are deeply grateful to everyone who has taken the time to contribute their perspectives and share insights to help guide the Search Committee in the work ahead.

In collaboration with our search partners from Spencer Stuart, we've conducted in-person meetings on campus and virtual listening sessions, and also shared a community survey to gather your insights. The Search Committee and Spencer Stuart worked together to prepare a comprehensive Opportunity Statement that reflects your input and aspirations for Lawrenceville and the next Head of School. We are pleased to share the Opportunity Statement with you here, and it has been posted to the Head of School Search webpage. This document will contribute to attracting and assessing a talented pool of candidates, and will help facilitate a smooth transition.

The Search Committee is excited about the next step of this process as we begin to engage with potential candidates. We will continue to provide updates to the Lawrenceville community as the search unfolds.

If you have any comments, advice, or nominations for the role to share with the Search Committee, please email LawrencevilleHOS@spencerstuart.com.

Again, thank you for your ongoing support and participation in this important process.

Sincerely,

Benjamin Griswold '99 P'28 '30 and Alexandra Buckley Voris '96
