SENIOR BUDDIES PARTY

Our kindergarten and senior buddies celebrated the end of an amazing year together. The seniors gifted their buddies a book, made ice cream sundaes, and played together one last time before our seniors say their official farewell to Aletheia.

2ND GRADE TEA PARTY

Second graders in Mrs. Davis's class celebrated finishing their class novel, The Trumpet and the Swan, with a fancy tea party. Students dressed up in their best, sipped tea, and nibbled on snacks like you would do if staying at The Ritz Carlton like Louis did in the book. What a treat!

SPECIAL ANIMAL VISITORS

Last month, Mrs. Childers's third graders learned all about warm and cold-blooded, vertebrate and invertebrate creatures. They were even visited by a bearded dragon, a hedgehog, and a tarantula in class. So cool!

3RD GRADE IN ALLIGATOR ALLEY

Our third graders recently wrapped up their reptile science unit with an exciting trip to Alligator Alley in Summerdale, AL! They discovered tons of cool facts and had the chance to observe, feed, and even hold these incredible creatures.
The adventure didn't stop there—they also got up close with tortoises, turtles, snakes, and even a scorpion!

COMPETING WORLDVIEWS

Seventh graders are studying Islam in their Competing Worldviews Bible class. Last month they looked at abrogations (contradictions) in the Quran. Students acted out the contradictory statements so the class could identify them and understand why the Quran is not an immutable text like the Bible is.

CODING TIME

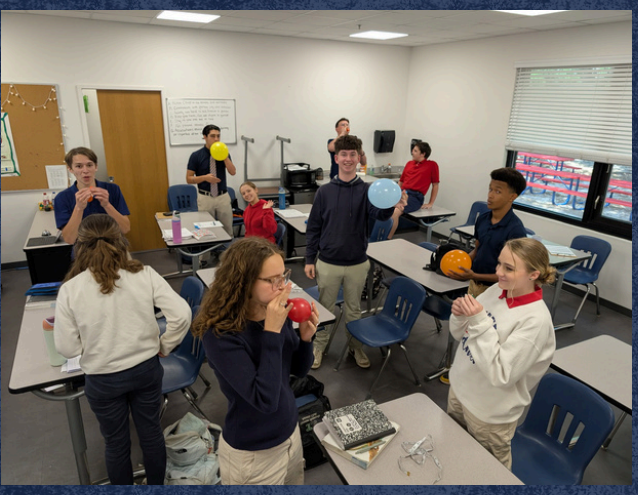
Sixth graders brought creativity and coding to life in the library! Using Makey Makey STEM kits, they designed and built their own input devices—then tested them out by playing games they coded themselves. Game on!

HONORS LUNCH

Upper School students who earned a 3.8 GPA or higher, maintained no grade below a “B,” and challenged themselves with an Honors or AP course this year were celebrated at a special Honors Lunch last month. Our guest speaker, Aletheia alum Andrea Mendoza, encouraged students to draw from the right source—Jesus—to find everything they need. Fun, food, and fellowship was enjoyed by all.

SHAKESPEARE FIELD TRIP

AP Language students enjoyed an unforgettable evening at the Alabama Shakespeare Festival, where they experienced Much Ado About Nothing brought to life on stage. It was a night full of laughter and appreciation for Shakespeare’s timeless words.



BALLOON SCIENCE

Biology students explored the respiratory system through a hands-on lab. In this activity, they measured their lung capacity by inflating a balloon, recording its circumference, and then applying a formula to calculate the volume of a sphere.

PAPER MAKING FUN

Mr. Chasser's paper-making activity period has been such a unique experience for students. They began by soaking paper scraps and blending them into a pulp. Then, they used a deckle to strain and dry the pulp to form pages. Next, they bound the pages together using waxed thread and will soon begin making book covers to be attached.

YEARBOOK PARTY

Aletheia's yearbook representatives from Josten's visited last month to host a pizza party for our yearbook staff. ACA won a sales contest and this was their reward!
It's not too late to order your yearbook: ORDER HERE

TREASURE HUNT

Students in Mr. Skaggs Geometry class navigated a treasure map using vector analysis (magnitude and direction) to determine where the treasure was located.

GARDEN OF EDEN SKITS

Mrs. Thompson's ninth grade students were tasked with creating skits to report what happened during the 'The Fall" as a breaking newscast from The Garden of Eden.

UPPER SCHOOL CHAPEL PANEL

Last month students enjoyed a split chapel for boys and girls, creating space for honest conversations with teachers and parents about the importance of being plugged into a local church body and how to become a Godly man and woman. We are grateful for the teachers and parents who led this special time.

Legacy of the Lions

What a special chapel Legacy of the Lions is each year! Each high school and kindergarten graduate was honored, and the senior class presented a special gift to their kindergarten buddies, symbolizing the passing on of the Aletheia Lion legacy. After, parents and seniors were honored with a breakfast.
