"United We Stand"
The Bruin 2001-2002

Lea' Porter and
Lisa Rasmussen
Co-Editors - in - Chief.

Our theme for this year was "United We Stand" in lieu of the events that took place on September 11th and also for the way we feel about our school, sports, clubs, and activities. It also reflects on our community as a whole for only through unity do we flourish as a nation, community and school. We thank all those that had a part in bringing this yearbook together and look to the future with hope and anticipation of better things to come.

Katie Garrett and Tiffany Weber share a moment during an assembly.

Jr. Varsity Squad: Tina Kuhn, Tigra Martin, Amy Hunt, Kristi Winterfield and Jennifer Follansbee.

This was a wonderful group of young ladies to work with again this year. They were most responsive to my suggestions and displayed the spirit that goes with the idea of being a cheerleader. I was very pleased with their effort and am very appreciative for their efforts and cooperation.

Tigra Martin seems happy with the proceedings of the moment.

Brandi Henki takes part in the Pep Assembly.

Kelly Farmin displays her charm for the audiences approval.

Rachel Hull is raised to the top of a pyramid during a Pep Ralley in the gymnasium.

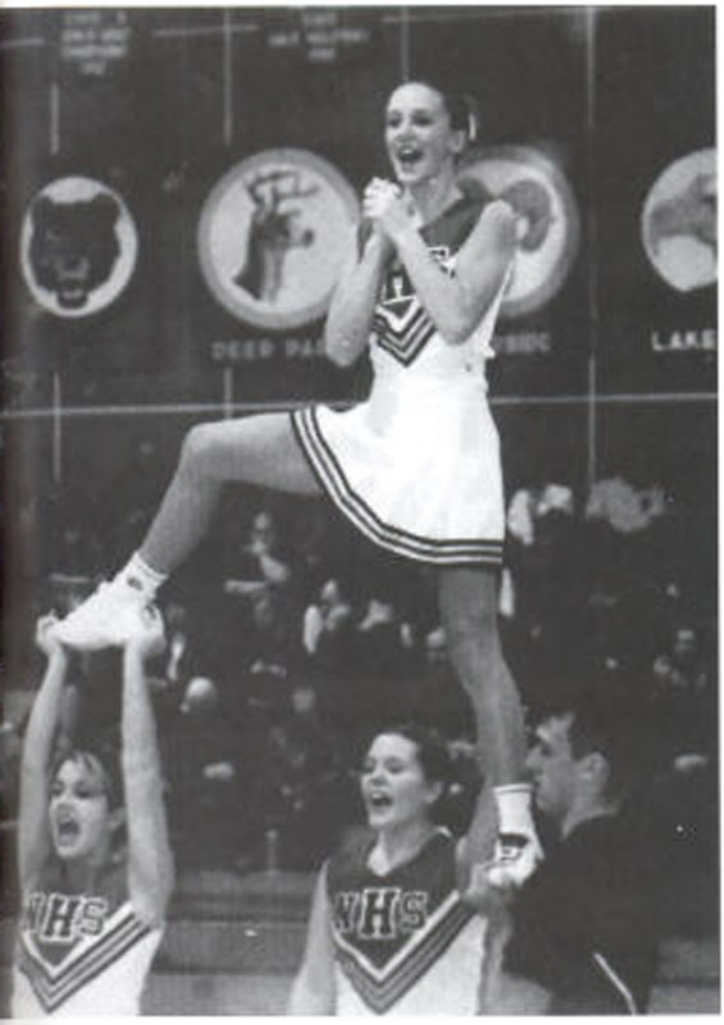
Winter Cheerleaders



Amy Hunt gets raised by Jessica Winje and Zack Hedquist as Kori Rippee spots.

Katie Garrett seems to enjoy Lacey Aubrey's enthusiasm

Kori Rippee and Bea Manwill appear to be reacting to the game in somewhat contrasting moods.

We had quite a large group of enthusiastic young people on the team this year. The boys were of an essential element since they allow us to do more stunting and special drills. The girls were just phenominal, the level of expertise just seems to be growing with each continuous year. I look forward to next year with anticipation.

Ashley Hollingsworth and Zack Hedquist hoist Jessica Winje up for a cheer.

Rachel Hull, high above Steven Swanson, Zack Hedquist and Steve Lucas.

Kori Rippee salutes the Grizzlies.

Jr. Varsity: Amanda Swoboda, Shaina Campbell, Jamie Patterson and Amy Close.

Boys' Basketba

Danny Drum appears to be on the receiving end of a more than acciden foul.

Colin Willenbrock suffered an injury and was out for the season before it actually began. He showed his devotion to the team and completed the season by assisting Coach Milionis as a student coach.

Despite many disappointments of unforseen nature, we had a pretty good year. The boys surprised many opponents and the high-light of the year had to be our victory over Lakeside on our home court. We lose many fine young men but look to the future with even higher hopes and aspirations.

Girls' Basketball

Trista Ward closes in on her opponent as she leads the defensive set for the team.

Caroline Gearaghty looks over the play as she comes down the floor.

Amy Chichester is ready for any move her opponent may make.

This was another emotional year for me. The Senior leaders are going to be greatly missed but the up-coming years show good promise. The girls work hard and have high aspirations for success. They work hard both during and off season to become a better team. Catch us again next year.

Wrestling Cheer

Kristen Moody and Katie Pifer work up a cheer at a Winter Pep Ralley.

Kristen Moody displays the enthusiasm that lead her to a Varsity position.

Katie Pifer patiently awaits the next match.

It was a great year. The girls were very supportive and while we had fun, we also learned a lot over the season. I am looking forward to next year with anticipation as the squad has the opportunity to return, intact. This the first time that we have had so many returning since I took over the program.

Sarah Johnson, the Squad Captain, leads a cheer at our first home match of the year.

Lacey Aubrey awaits the crowds attention prior to speaking at an assembly.

Amy Klein speaks to an issue at hand at a recent meeting.

Kevin Yahne and Colin Willenbrock look on while Lacey Aubrey addresses the student body.

The ASB officers and body had a very busy year, as usual. They brought about many changes, most notably the Student Court, some school rule changes and addressed the parking situation at the high school. We still have much to do as this is a job that never ends.

JordAnn Byrd recieves an award at the Regional competition in Spokane.

We had a good year. Lots of kids were envolved and they worked very hard on their presentations for competition. The results of their efforts were depicted by the number that made it to Regionals this Spring. I appreciate their hard work and look forward to continuing to work with them in the future.

Ryan Bennett listens to the information being presented at a club meeting.

Chad Hogg smiles roguishly as he leaves the shop area after a meeting.

I enjoy working with students who have a real interest in the working areas of agriculture. These kids have the opportunity to become some of the most important people in our lives, the providers of food, energy and shelter. They are not afraid to get their hands dirty or face a difficult challenge.

Honor Society

Mr. Pat Stahl, our High School Principal, was the guest speaker at the Induction Ceremony near the end of the school year. He stressed examples of why they were chosen and how they could continue to set themselves as examples for others to follow during the rest of their lives.

Amy Chichester listens patiently as her qualifications are read to the audience upon selection to the Honor Society.

Meggan Hahn was recently inducted into the Honor Society at a Spring Induction Ceremony.

What can I say? These are the highest academic achieving students in the school and they act accordingly. They are a delight to work with and they take every assignment to heart. They really want to better than anyone else could have done. They simply choose to excell.

Peter Kobylarz, Elizabeth Stuart, Colin Willenbrock, Danny Drum, Kevin Yahne and Craig Monk. Will Manwill, Trista Ward, Beth Carlson, Kim Remick, Kassie Remick, Justin Birch and Chad Evans. Rose Sauer, Lacey Aubrey, Jenny Schulz, Amy Klein, Shelly Shaver and Amee Walden.

" Lost in the City "

Tigra Mottet and Wynona Chantry display some emotion in the performance of this musical number.

Erin Weir was most impressive in her rendition of her solo at Cabaret.

Danny Bell performed a sentimental solo as he was accompanied on the guitar by his father.

Mike Metzger was one of our wacky M.C.'s for the opening night of Cabaret.

Sam Yeow exemplified both enthusiasm and talent in this Broadway musical number.

Jennifer Hollandsbee, Paul Lewis and Lisa Rasmussen take part in a large group number at the Spring Cabaret.

Aimee Walden was the Student Director of the Cabaret this year.

Jordann Berd performed an impressive solo on the final night of the Cabaret.

Lexi Potter gets into the spirit of the song, emotionally and physically.

A New York Cabaret 2002

Micah Dela Cruz stole his portion of the show with his performance as a street musician in New York City.

Alicia Barranco delivered a nights rendition of a patriotic song for the Cabaret.

Shelly Hensley, Tony Thelin and Erin Weir lock arms during this portion of their group number.

Amy Hunt and Kristi Winterfield performed a spirited dance number for the audience's appreciation.

Annie Hixson performs a delicate rendition of her song, one that moved both herself and the audience.

Nick Shafer and Brendon Johnson were our M.C.'s for Cabaret this year. They appear enthralled by the performance.

Tigra Martin looks as pretty as the song she performed during the Friday evening performance.

Reid Schlotthauer appears enthralled by something in the distance.

Jazmin Reeves, Tiffany Weber, Sarah Johnson and Jerien Anderson are more than ready for beach exploration.

Jessica Meek works her way out of the underbrush on one leg of the trip.

This was a very hard working group of kids. They more than earned their way to the Biology Trip and had a wonderful time while they were there - learning, and having fun at the same time. The trip was enjoyable, the weather was good to us and all had a good time.

Mike Metzger, Nick Shafer, Brendon Johnson and Micah Tyler really "HAM" it up for the camera.

Student Court

Wynona Chantry, Officer Sargaent and Nicole Kilian relax after completing a recent case as Amy Klein and Levi Carey talk in the background.

Once again the ASB fostered the idea of having our own Student Court. The leading officers acted as Judge, Prosecutor and Defense Attornies. Cases were heard and sentences passed down in lieu of going before Mr. Strahl for some disapline matters.

Peter Kobylarz acted as one of the attorneys who aided the accused with representation before the court.

Kim Kanev was a member of the panel that heard the cases brought before the court.

Kevin Yahne acted as the Prosecutor in the Student Court cases.

ASB President Lacey Aubrey presided as Judge over the Student Court.

Colin Willenbrock sat on the panel of jurors that heard the court cases presented before them.

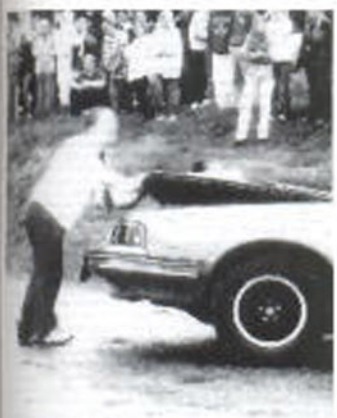
Mock Accident

This year Newport's H.S. S.A.D.D program joined together with the Selkirk, Priest River, and Cusick schools to put on a mock accident involving sixteen students and one adult.

The mock accident was a dramatization of what could possibly happen in a drunk driving accident and was an attempt to show the devastation that such and act could cause.



This event was also used by the police station, fire station, and hazardous waste crews as a training exercise in how to handle an incident where drunk driving and/or hazardous waste is involved.
