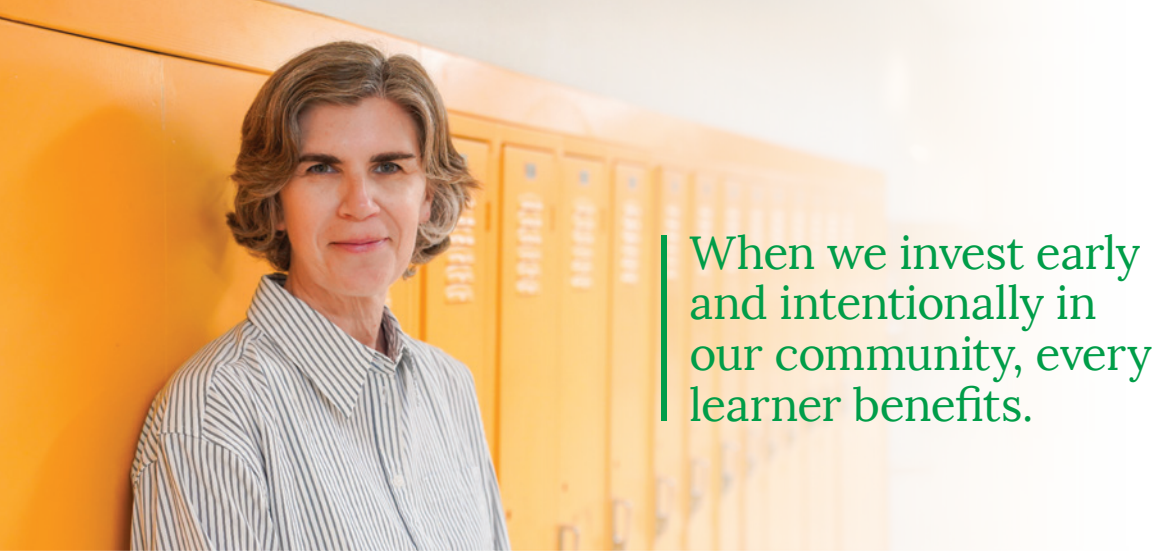
Edina
Community Education
DEFINING EXCELLENCE



When we invest early and intentionally in our community, every learner benefits.

Welcome to winter and spring. I hope your fall was a good one, and that the shorter days have you looking for bright spots to gather around. That's exactly what this season of Community Education offers. When the weather turns us indoors, our classes, camps, and programs become some of the warmest places in Edina to learn something new, try something bold, and find your people.

Before you turn the page, a quick word about the road ahead. Over the past year, our district focused on five areas of emphasis, from early learning and the Early Learning and Family Center to safety and security, our Spanish Dual Language program, elementary acceleration, and the future of Edina High School. That work is now in front of our School Board, which is considering a thoughtful set of priorities, ranging from staffing to modest facility enhancements to land acquisition, that would help carry these areas forward. No decisions have been made yet, and we'll keep you informed as the conversation develops. What I can tell you is that each of these priorities grew from the same belief that runs through everything we do: when we invest early and intentionally in our community, every learner benefits.

Which brings me back to what's inside. This catalog is full of reasons to look forward to the months ahead. Our littlest Hornets can explore, play, and grow at the Early Learning and Family Center and in ECFE classes designed for families to learn side by side. Elementary students can dive into everything from chess to clay to coding after school, on non-school days, and over the weekend. Middle and high schoolers can try new interests and step into leadership and volunteer roles. And our adults, always some of our most enthusiastic learners, can choose from fitness, lifelong learning, woodworking, cooking, languages, and so much more. Every offering on these pages exists because someone in our community told us it mattered.

Page through, circle what sparks your curiosity, and join us this winter and spring. Registration opens December 1, 2026, and there's truly something here for every age and every stage. Thank you for being part of our community. We can't wait to learn and grow alongside you.

INSTRUCTOR SPOTLIGHT

Creek Valley Choir Gr. 3-5
with Marin Schmid

Join Creek Valley music teacher, Marin Schmid, to sing varied repertoire, develop singing techniques, and have fun in a community of 3rd-5th graders who love to sing! We will perform in a concert at the end of the session.

Why are you excited to continue partnering with Edina Community Ed?

I'm excited to continue to partner with Edina Community Ed to provide additional opportunities for students to have an enriched musical experience beyond the school day.

Why are you inspired to teach this class? What started your passion for this?

As someone who grew up participating in youth choirs at an early age, I am passionate about leading a group of young musicians who also love to sing! Learning techniques and songs to strengthen their voice, students also have a very special opportunity to build connections and make new friends while doing something they love!

What can a student look forward to in your class?

In choir we have the chance to learn fun and exciting new songs that we wouldn't get to do in music class, and students often get to suggest and choose a couple songs that we will sing for our final performance. Adding harmony and advanced techniques, we will perform in front of an audience and some individuals may have the opportunity to sing a solo or add instruments for specific songs!

INSTRUCTOR SPOTLIGHT

Synchronized Swimming
with Emily Heckmann

Swimmers will learn the basic skills of synchronized swimming.

Why are you excited to continue partnering with Edina Community Ed?

Working with kids and watching them experience new things and gain confidence with new skills and building friendships.

Why are you inspired to teach this class? What started your passion for this?

Synchronized Swimming is a small, tight knit community that is always working to grow. I have been passionate about Synchronized Swimming since first experiencing it in seventh grade. I had always wished I had found this sport earlier and had gotten a chance to be involved as an athlete earlier so I love being able to create those experiences for other kids. Synchronized Swimming is a lifelong sport and there are so many opportunities to build community and skills.

What can a student look forward to in your class?

Swimmers will be able to build confidence while learning new skills. They will be able to perform a short routine by the end of classes to impress their friends and family!

Let Curiosity Lead

Help Us Build Your Child's Enrichment Journey!

Somewhere in your life is a kid who doesn't yet know they're secretly great at chess, if only someone would show them how the knight moves. Or that they're about to fall in love with choir, or watercolor painting, or that a Lego creation with seven wheels and one questionable castle tower is, in fact, engineering.

That's the mission behind our out-of-school time enrichment program. Each class on these pages represents the chance for students to step out of the structure of the school day and into something messier, livelier, and much more fun. Kids get to try new things, fail in low-stakes ways, and make friends with others who think cardboard forts and dance moves are just as important as they do.

Every offering in this catalog exists because a student or a family gave us the idea and told us it mattered. Next season's lineup will be shaped the same way. We need your help!

Please find some time in the next few weeks to ask your student what they've been into lately, and then fill out our quick community survey. Your answers might just become next year's favorite classes. Thank you in advance for helping us build a program that authentically fits our community.

Three supportive questions to ask your student:

1. What's something you've done lately that made you lose track of time?
   This question sidesteps the pressure of "what are you interested in?" and instead spotlights moments of complete absorption or "flow."
2. If you could learn to do anything, and you knew you wouldn't be bad at it at first, what would you try?
   This question removes the fear of embarrassment, which is often the real reason kids don't mention something they're curious about.
3. Who's a friend, a character, or an adult you know whose life or skills seem really cool to you? What about it seems cool?
   Kids often express interests indirectly, through admiration of someone else, before they're ready to claim the interest for themselves.

PRO TIPS:

Find a relaxing time to make bigger questions feel more approachable. Relaxing windows commonly share three traits: low eye contact required (side-by-side beats face-to-face), tied to an existing or rhythm or activity, and no time pressure. Try in the car, during a walk or bike ride, while doing a chore together, or while waiting in line.

Follow a child's answers with curiosity, not judgment, even (or especially) if it's not something you'd expect.

A Winning Celebration

Kids Club Brings the Homecoming Spirit to Edina Sites

On the Friday of Edina's Homecoming weekend, Kids Club sites joined the celebration, filling the afternoon with school spirit, good food, and plenty of games. Kids Club staff organized a lineup of activities just for the kids, including a tailgate with hot dogs, popcorn, and lemonade, and a round of Football Bingo. The excitement was easy to see. Across sites, kids brought big energy and enthusiasm to every activity.

At Normandale, the kids took on staff in a friendly game of football, and the staff came out on top. “We had a great time celebrating homecoming as a site, with hot dogs and football nothing can go wrong,” said staff member Sam Burkhardt.

At Concord, staff member Steph Koehnen said the best part of planning the event was watching everyone come together. “We just got to see the whole community come together and do something fun and something bigger than what we normally do at Kids Club,” she said.

The day's menu went beyond the tailgate. “We made hotdogs and popcorn and then we got some football games going, we are doing bingo, some dancing games so there is something for everybody!” Koehnen said.

> “We just got to see the whole community come together and do something fun and something bigger than what we normally do at Kids Club.”
> STEPH KOEHNEN, STAFF MEMBER

Over at Creek Valley, Program Supervisor Paul Miller saw the same community spirit in action. Families joined in, mingling over hot dogs and lemonade and playing yard games together. “Homecoming is such a good time for people to get together, it was fun seeing families hanging out socializing with each other, having hot dogs, lemonade, and playing yard games,” Miller said. “It would be fun if every Friday was Homecoming!”

With full plates, full hearts, and plenty of smiles, Kids Club sites showed that Homecoming spirit isn't just for the football field. It's about community, connection, and a little fun with friends.

Adults with Disabilities

Edina Community Ed is a place to belong. With all of the classes, programs and activities we organize, we are a step closer to our vision: for each and every learner to discover their possibilities and thrive.

While we regularly provide reasonable accommodations to support adults participating in our Community Ed programs, our newly revitalized Adults with Disabilities program offers classes specifically designed to serve adults with physical, developmental or cognitive disabilities. Our goal is to encourage community wide inclusion through a well-curated menu of educational, social and recreational opportunities.

Join our supportive community of learners!

Community Ed for All

We're committed to connecting all members of the community with our programming, and to helping them get the most out of it.

Accommodations

Edina Community Ed is a place to belong. Every day, we strive to make our classes, programs and events welcoming, supportive and inclusive for all learners, including students who may require extra support to participate safely and successfully.

For EPS students: Support in choice-based, out of school time programs, including school age care, enrichment and early learning programs, may look different from support students receive during the school day.

For more information on inclusion support and programming, visit our website or contact Inclusion Coordinator Brandon Sieck at brandon.sieck@edinaschools.org

For adults with disabilities: For accommodations, contact Inclusion Coordinator Brandon Sieck at brandon.sieck@edinaschools.org at least 10 business days before your class.

Financial Assistance

We are committed to ensuring that all learners have access to our classes and programs. We regularly offer financial assistance and partner with Edina Give & Go for additional resources. For more information, call 952–848–3952 or go to https://edinacommunityed.com/FinancialAssistance.
