Inventing the Unwritten Future

What should educators preserve, rethink, and invent as the future of learning continues to unfold?

ABOUT THE EXCHANGE

Educators from different schools come together to investigate emerging questions, exchange practices, and develop ideas they can put to work in their own learning communities.

The Pingry Learning Lab Exchange

KEYNOTE

Jane Beckwith ·Director of Teaching and Learning, Holland Hall
The science of learning: productive cognitive friction, student agency, and the conditions that support deep learning in an age of AI.

EVENT DETAILS

DATE
January 29, 2027

TIME
8:45 a.m.–2:00 p.m.

LOCATION
The Pingry School, Pottersville Campus

FEE
$125

TOPICS

- AI-assisted coding and instructional design
- AI, research, and information literacy
- Writing in the Age of AI
- The Extended Mind: Immersive Course Design in the Age of AI
- Data Analysis
- Students & AI
- Two Lane Assessment Model
- AI Problems of Practice

REGISTER NOW

https://events.veracross.com/pingry/571-unwrittenjan

The Pingry School, Pottersville Campus, 51 Pottersville Road, Pottersville, NJ 07979

#ProfessionalLearning #TeachingAndLearning #IndependentSchools #SchoolLibraries #ArtificialIntelligence #EducatorLearning