DANVILLE
COMMUNITY SCHOOL CORPORATION

Invitation to Apply for Superintendent of Schools
Danville Community School Corporation
Danville, Indiana

The Next Leader

The Danville Community School Corporation (DCSC) seeks an experienced leader who embraces its mission to maximize students' success through personalized experiences, so they will make a difference in any community. The ideal candidate will have a significant record of accomplishment as a leader, outstanding communication skills, a strong background in school administration including teaching and learning and financial management, and a collaborative philosophy. Central office administrative experience is preferred. A doctorate is preferred but not required.

The District

Danville Community School Corporation serves 3,000 students in grades PreK-12. Students attend the same school as their grade level classmates regardless of where they live, giving them the chance to build lifelong friendships and strengthen the community. The schools:

Danville Community High School (grades 9-12)
Danville Community Middle School (grades 5-8)
Danville South Elementary (grades 2-4)
Danville North Elementary (Little Warrior Preschool, K, and 1)

The district has experienced significant growth. The facilities have all been recently renewed, are very welcoming, and set to meet current growth demands. The implementation of the Master Campus Plan is nearing completion. Recent years have provided expanded opportunities for communication and community engagement. DCSC has a highly active student body with athletic teams, FFA, and extra-curricular groups enjoying tremendous success. Students received a 97.3% passing rate on IREAD3 and outperformed the state average for ILEARN in every grade tested (3-8) in both English/Language Arts and Mathematics.

Additional information about the district may be found at www.danville.k12.in.us.

The Community

Danville is the county seat of growing Hendricks County, just west of Indianapolis. Danville offers its residents a small town atmosphere with a vibrant business sector and historic downtown.
