IV. STUDENT ACHIEVEMENT LIAISON REPORT

V. LEGISLATIVE LIAISON

Mr. Schymanski reported on the following:

Federal Legislative News

Budget news: It is time for Congress to pass approximately 12 bills to continue to finance the Federal Government. This includes the Education Budget. The Secretary of the Treasury and The Speaker of the House have agreed to pass Clean Continuing Resolutions (CR). Passing a CR allows the Federal Government to continue to operate on last year's budget numbers. A "Clean" CR means that there will not be any amendments to each bill and that should allow quicker passage, preventing a government shutdown. What I found interesting was that 15-20 years ago, it was common for Senators or Representatives to individual sponsor one or more of these financial bills. Now, House or Senate leadership tends to be responsible for these financial bills, shielding individual members of Congress from district backlash by those not liking the bill.

Stimulus Funding: The Senate is addressing a mini stimulus package that is not likely to pass the Senate. The National School Boards Association (NSBA) did send out two text alerts asking members to write their Senators requesting they do not approve a provision in the bill relating to tax credits for private school scholarships. I did respond to the first text alert and also sent all board members a copy of the text alert in case they also wanted to respond. Then I sent a separate email to Senator Brown and Senator Portman with more details on my opposition. I explained that I personally don't like tax credits, the USG has a serious financial crisis and significant deficit spending (in my opinion) and that we don't need to find new ways to reduce federal revenue when we are running record deficits. But I qualified that to say that if either Senator does support tax credits, then, under the school choice provisions, I would like similar ability to donate my taxes to a public school of my choosing. Based on already writing two letters and that it doesn't appear that the Republican Stimulus package will pass, I decided not to respond to the second text alert. I thought I had written enough and didn't want to hound folks expressing the same thought time after time.

Title IX rules from the Department of Education continue to evolve and at least one rule conflicts or seems to conflict with a recent court case. This does bear watching, especially since there are some cases in the courts and appeals process that could confirm or conflict with the Department of Education rules. Also, depending on election results, these rules could change.

Finally, Secretary of Education, Betsy DeVos is encouraging the state to “rethink” assessments and consider competency, mastery-based assessments as part of restructuring a states educational plan. She stated that her department would be open to conversations about flexible “assessment” processes as part of a state’s accountability model. She also stated that states should not expect testing waivers this year.

Ohio Education Legislative News

SB358: Change Educational Laws in response to COVID-19. OSBA and others including some teachers spoke in favor of this bill. One item of many is that if it does pass, it directs the State Department of Education to apply for a testing waiver. There are several key aspects to this bill to review and also to look at some of the recommendations that OSBA has made about additional items to consider like freezing voucher payments or at least making the state, not the district responsible for funding vouchers. A variety of organizations and individuals spoke including OSBA, OASBO, BASA, Association of Elementary Principals, Association of Secondary Principals, OEA, Public Education Partners, teachers, Charter School Support Association and public school administrators. All spoke in support of HB358 and of the recommendations from OSBA letter. The support and details provided to address not testing this year was interesting and full of references supporting the desire to stop testing.

EdChoice or SB89 conference resolution. The Senate has identified its 3 members of this resolution committee. They are Senator Bob Peterson, Senator Matt Huffman and Senator Teresa Fedor. I cannot find, at this time, the House members. They may not have been identified yet. I do hope that language will be put into SB358 that eliminates SB89 and makes resolving Senate and House differences by removing Vouchers from the discussion element. This is more important when we consider the potential tax credits the federal Government is proposing for private Schools as well as a bill proposed by Senator Matt Huffman to offer similar state tax credits if the federal legislation passes.

HB606 was signed by the Governor and when it becomes law, about 90 days from now, the bill does provide some legal protection to businesses, educational institutions and state and local Governments relating to COVID-19 impacts to individuals who become sick. This is technical with rules for organizations to follow for the law to provide some protection.

SB350 was introduced by Senator Andrew Brenner and appears to be a result of some of the larger school districts trying to find ways to control cost of transporting Charter School and Private School students. The bill, if passed, would limit or prevent transportation vouchers but does include provisions for the exceptions we use for certain special circumstances. It doesn’t look like this bill will affect our school district, at least not right now. But districts like Columbus, Cleveland and Cincinnati could face serious financial pressure if this bill is enacted. In the future, this bill could even affect smaller districts like ours, but time will tell. The bill addresses the requirement for public schools to transport non-public school students. The issue is that some public schools are virtual only and not planning on running any bus routes. They would provide a voucher for non-public school students to ride public transportation. That is the problem.

State Budget: across the country, many states have yet to update their 2020-2021 budget. Speculation is that states will wait until middle of the budget year around January, 2021 to adjust their spending to match projected revenue. This could mean more late cuts for school systems.

VII. SUPERINTENDENT REPORT

Mr. Mengerink reported on the following:

- A couple additions to the consent agenda...
 - Add Band Boosters to Item #17
 - Add Tony Wiechart, Special Education K-5 to Item #4 - TBY/PLC Lead Teachers
- Discussed briefly USDA Free Meal Program
- We will be looking to file the annexation documents with the county commissioners yet this week.
- Midterm grades will be done and posted in Schoology Friday. No printouts will go home with students.
- We will begin the signup period mid to late next week for requests to changes in Remote vs. In-School learning. Deadline to switch will be Oct 2.
- We had an inspector here at the football game vs. Bath. Everything and everyone did really well. We got several compliments from the inspector - he even stated that we had done the best of the 3 schools he had visited to date.
- Lots of credit goes out to athletic department and our grounds crew making these things happen in a positive manner.
- Elementary Update
 - Soon ready to pour concrete roof on gym/storm shelter
 - All concrete flooring is done on first level and most of second level
 - Lots of brick going up
 - We will be looking to give elementary staff a tour as soon as the steps to the second level are complete - possibly Sept 28
 - May look to give Board members a tour in October sometime
- Report cards are out - not really much to report.
 - Graduation rates improved slightly over the previous year.
 - Chronic absenteeism has improved.
 - Report cards don't do much to demonstrate the opportunities that schools provide for students, whether it be the arts, athletics, or other activities, but does continue to show that students in high-poverty districts don't do as well as those that are in low-poverty districts.
