APPROPRIATORS EXAMINE FY26 EDUCATION BUDGET, PLANS TO DISMANTLE ED.

The House Appropriations Subcommittee on Labor, Health and Human Services, Education, and Related Agencies held a hearing on the Trump Administration's Fiscal Year 2026 (FY26) Department of Education (ED) budget request, featuring testimony from Education Secretary Linda McMahon. The agency's proposed $66.7 billion budget represents a 15.3% reduction and signals the administration's intent to phase out ED, consolidate programs into block grants, and return education control to states.

The U.S. House of Representatives narrowly passed the "One Big Beautiful Bill Act of 2025" by a 215–214 vote. The bill proposes extending the 2017 tax cuts and enacting substantial reductions in federal spending. Key provisions include imposing work requirements for Medicaid. The bill has advanced to the Senate. If the Senate passes a different version, there will need to be negotiations with the House. The GOP aims to finalize the bill by July 4 to avoid a looming debt crisis, but significant obstacles remain before it can be signed into law.

SPLIT SCOTUS DECISION DENIES OPENING OF OK RELIGIOUS CHARTER SCHOOL on Thursday May 22nd, the U.S. Supreme Court issued a 4-4 split decision in a pivotal case concerning the intersection of religion and public education, effectively blocking the creation of the nation's first faith-based charter school—St. Isidore of Seville Catholic Virtual School in Oklahoma. The deadlock leaves the Oklahoma Supreme Court's ruling against the school intact but sets no national precedent. The decision preserves the status quo, allowing states to maintain secular charter school systems without funding religious institutions. The ruling leaves unresolved broader constitutional questions, meaning similar cases could reach the Court again. The case had major implications for charter school policy nationwide, potentially impacting laws in 46 states and billions in federal education funding.
