Boylston Elementary School:

School Committee Report

Principal Rob Pelczarski
September 2025

The first two weeks of school at Boylston Elementary have been filled with positive energy, smooth transitions, and exciting moments for our students and staff. We kicked off the year with a successful fire drill in partnership with the Boylston Fire Department, led by Chief [Insert Name], which helped ensure our safety practices are strong and well-practiced.

Attendance across all grade levels has been encouraging, something I am carefully monitoring as this was a major area of focus last year. Seeing such strong attendance from the start sets a great tone for the rest of the year. Students themselves appear to be settling in quickly and have already acclimated to routines and expectations, creating a strong sense of community within our classrooms.

One area I have been particularly curious about is school lunch, so I have been stopping in to ask students about the food. The feedback has been overwhelmingly positive! From Kindergarten to Grade 5, students are saying the meals are delicious, which is wonderful to hear.

Our youngest learners, the Kindergarten class, celebrated their start with a popsicle party and their very first bus ride around the neighborhood. Families lined the streets, waving and cheering, making it a truly memorable and heartwarming tradition for students and their loved ones.

We also held our first meeting of the Boylston Elementary Collaborative (our PTO), and the team is already hard at work planning some amazing events and initiatives to make this school year a success for everyone.

On a personal note, I am committed to being in every classroom every day so I can connect with every student, and I am also spending a great deal of time outside during recess to observe and support safe, fun, and inclusive play for all children at BES.

Finally,we are pleased to share that as of today, BES is fully staffed. While we had two paraprofessional positions open at the very last minute, we are now in a strong position and feel confident that we have the right team in place for an amazing school year.

The first two weeks have been filled with learning and excitement, and we are ready for all that is to come this year at BES!
