6	The purpose of the seminar period is to serve as an extension of Campus High School's educational programs. It is to be seen as an interactive study time that teachers and students should view as an opportunity to enhance classroom instruction and learning. Seminar period has an additional function to limit disruption of class time by allowing clubs and organizations the opportunity to meet while also allowing the scheduling of assemblies, standardized testing, and accreditation surveys.	The purpose of an advisory/seminar class is to provide students with structured time during the school day to receive academic support, build essential life and organizational skills, and develop positive relationships with peers and staff. Advisory supports student success by addressing topics such as goal setting, study skills, graduation planning, social-emotional learning, and school expectations, while also giving students a consistent point of contact with a trusted adult who monitors progress and provides guidance as needed.
