

Dr. Julie Moore

Assistant Superintendent of Innovation and Learning

Dr. Julie Moore is the Assistant Superintendent of Innovation and Learning for Liberty Public Schools in Liberty, MO. In that role, she works directly with building leaders on the implementation of district initiatives that impact student learning. Julie has spent 28 years serving in public education, 21 of those years for Liberty Public Schools. She also spent six years in the classroom as an ELA teacher and working with at-risk students. Julie holds a PhD in Educational Leadership and Policy Analysis, an Educational Specialist, and a Masters in Learning and Instruction from the University of Missouri-Columbia. She is happily married to her husband, Lance, and together they have a son whom they adore. Her passions include playing with her son, watching sports, and shopping. Dr. Julie Moore wholeheartedly believes that education should give every student the access and opportunity to reach any goal they dream of achieving.
