

The Yearbook Staff Presents 1980-81 HIGH FLYER

Flandreau High School

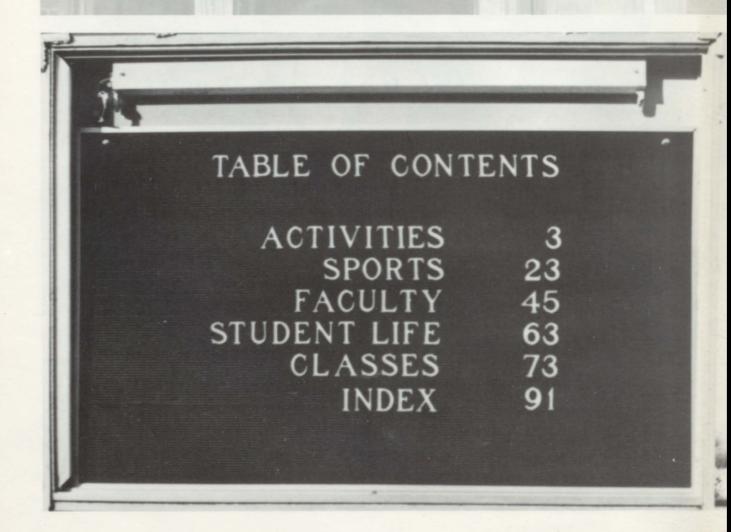

600 West 1st Flandreau, SD 57028 Volume 44

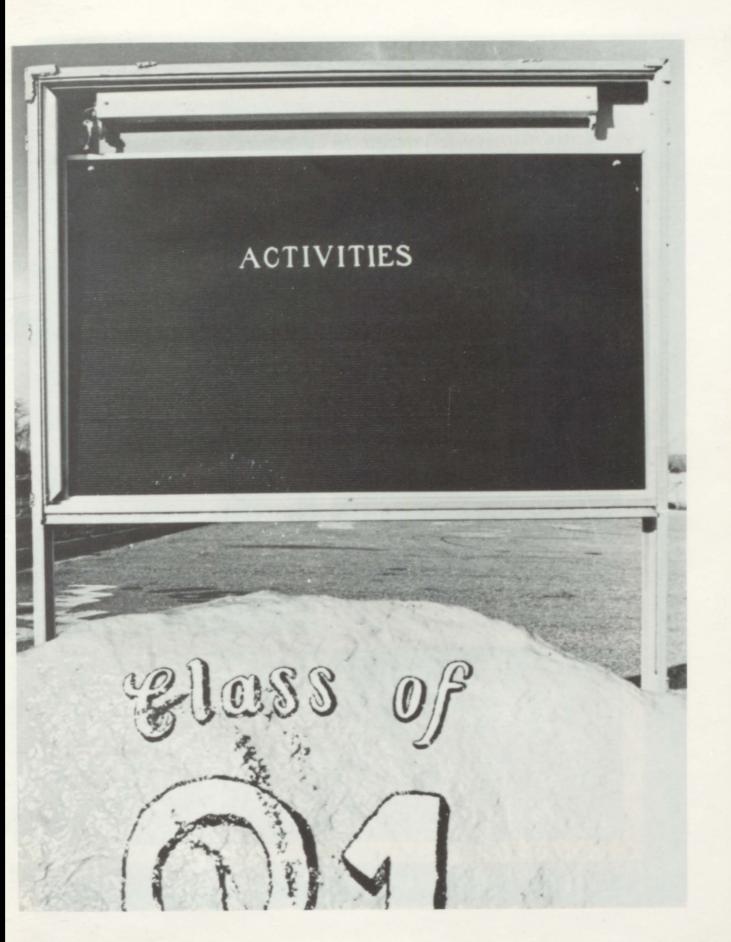

TO PRINCIPAL WILLIAM V. HASS

Whose devotion through the years deserves a greater tribute.

A foundation of good sense, and a cultivation of learning, are required to give a seasoning to retirement, and make us taste its blessings.

Community Involved In Homecoming 1980

Homecoming week found the art classes decorating the halls for the festivities of the week. Each day of the week was designated as Farmer Day, Jersey Day, Slop Day, etc.

The community was more involved this year. A trail-gate party and a community pep rally highlighted their activities.

Little Orpheum was held Thursday with the class skits and coronation. After the Orpheum there was a bon-fire. The Fliers capped Home-coming week by winning the football game, 13-0.

Band Performs In Many Ways

Whether performing as a marching, concert, or pep band, the high school band worked to entertain spectators, families, and students.

The band marched in the Homecoming Day Parade, Viking Day Parade, and Hobo Day Parade. During home events, the performed to help "pep up" the cheerleaders, drill team, and fans.

The band traveled to the boys' district basketball tournament to play championship night. Three concerts, Christmas, Pops and Spring, were also presented during the year.

Top is a portion of the band playing during a girls' basketball game.

Annual Staff Preserves Memories

"What now?" "How's this?" This is what can usually be heard on Monday night, as you are passing by the typing room.

The annual staff was busy this year with two workshops, a summer camp, and putting the annual together.

During regular meetings, copy was written, layouts drawn up, and pictures chosen for the pages.

Top are the school photographers. Back row are David Jueschke, Sue Walker and Susan Ahlers. Front row are Erin Dailey and Jill Dougherty.

FFA Rates Second Overall In State

The Parent and Member banquet kicked off the start of the FFA Chapter's busy year. The FFA participated in the District VII FFA Leadership Contest, where the officers received a 1st place on their conduct of meetings. The members sold magazine subscriptions and fruit. The Chapter broke their record for the highest fruit sales ever. Various judging schools and contests were also attended by Chapter members.

In the spring, three members received their State Farmer Degrees at the state FFA Convention and the Chapter was rated second overall by the National Chapter Award Program.

FHA Chapter Largest In State

The FHA chapter was an industrious organization this year as Flandreau had more members than any other chapter in South Dakota.

One of the bigger projects that the members were involved with this year, the style show, took place on April 9. The style show entailed a lot of hard work which was used on skits, background, and sewing of their individual outfits. Other things that the FHA were involved with were: a bake sale, nutrition center, Christmas dance, a "Daddy Date Night", and a Senior Tea.

The FHA'ers held meetings once a month emphasizing parliamentary procedure. After the meetings, there was a recreation planned, usually with the FFA chapter.

Top are Boh Barnes, Carol Dietrich, Mindy Peterson, Gene Taylor, and Steve Christenson goofing around hefore the style show.

Prom, Banquet— Big Events

The juniors were busy, weeks before the Banquet and Prom, planning for the big event.

The Banquet, catered by Walkers of Flandreau, was held in the Ss. Simon and Jude Catholic Church hall. Nine waiters and waitresses served the meal, which consisted of prime rib, baked potatoes, corn, and ice cream.

The junior girls sang the theme song, "Shadows in the Moonlight".

Shadows In The Moonlight Theme Of Banquet-Prom

On May 25, the junior class presented "Shadows in the Moonlight," as the Junior-Senior Prom and Banquet. The Prom, held at Spafford, was in honor of the seniors final year of high school.

The band, "Silver Heart," provided music and entertainment for the students. The punch bowl was in a gazebo, and a swing, surrounded by pictures and trees, served as the picture taking area.

Fliers Go 5-3, Find Big Sioux Tough

On August 21, 1980, 47 potential players turned out for the first of many practices. By the Arlington game, Coach McGlone had moved the backfield to the line and the line to the backfield and the season was underway.

The Flier football team entered the Big Sioux Conference this year. After an 0-2 start, the Fliers came back to win 5 out of the last 6 games. This was enough to give them 3rd place in the Conference.

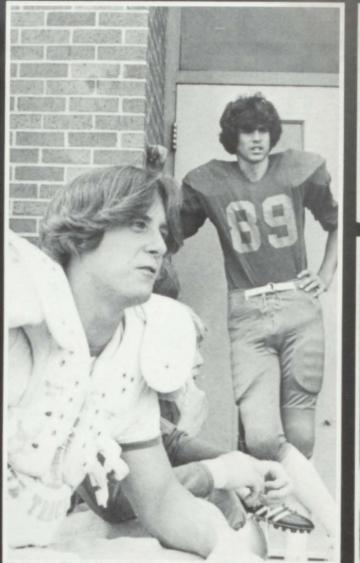

The football season was made complete by the 12-0 victory over Canton. It was the first time in 26 years the Fliers had beaten the C-Hawks of Canton.

Seniors Lead Team

The 1980 Flier Football team was led by 10 seniors. They were essentially the back bone of the grid squad. Their spirit and skills helped the team to a 5-3 record.

Three of these seniors were named All-Conference and one was named First Team All-State.

Girls Finish Season With 9-10 Record

The girls' "A" basketball team won more games this season than any other team has done. They had a final record of nine wins and ten losses.

In the Big Sioux Conference tournament held at Tri-Valley and Salem, the girls walked away with 3rd place. The girls, also, took 4th place in the district #10 tournament at Brookings.

Fliers Improve; 2nd In Districts

The Flier basketball team showed improvement over last year and finished the season with 9-11 overall record; a 4th place in the Conference Tourney; and 2nd in the Distict 10 Tournament.

Coming off a bad season last year, the basketball players worked through long hard practices to improve their win/loss record 900%. With the number of juniors and sophomores out this year, the next year looks to be even better.

"B" Squad 12-4; Has Best Record

The boys' "B" squad had the best record of any of the basketball teams this year. They went 12-4 and at one time (December 9-February 13) had a nine game winning streak. They were, also, 4-2 in conference play.

The squad, which was made up of sophomores and juniors, should be able to provide a solid nucelus for next years' varsity.

Freshmen Gain Needed Experience

The freshmen team finished their season 2-8 and placed third in their only tournament of the year at Arlington.

Basic fundamentals were stressed in practice. This began to pay dividends near the end of the year, especially in the YMCA tournament, where the team lost its only game to the eventual champion.

Fliers Experience Building Year

The Fliers fielded a young wrestling team with only eight seniors. They wrestled in six tournaments overall with their best placing in the Conference. A dual record of 4-5-1 was accomplished.

The "B" squad didn't fill all weight classes, so their matches were usually exhibition matches.

Girls Set Up Teams For Next Year

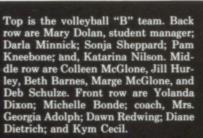

The 1981 volleyball teams could have used a few more "bumps" to help them through their losing seasons. The first year coach had a turnout of 24 girls for the teams.

The "A" team, with only two seniors, gained experience that should help, next year, to improve on a 3-15 record.

The "B" team was a mixed group with all grades of girls playing together. They finished the season with a 4-8 record, while the "C" team, made up of freshmen, ended with a 0-4 record.

Middle Right is Patty Mach serving the ball.

Golfers Have Short, Successful Season

The golf team's season only lasted three weeks during May but was very successful. During this time, the team went 3-0 in conference duals. In the Conference tourney held in Flandreau, the team won first place by a big 15 stroke advantage.

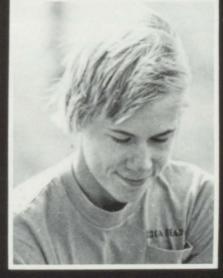

The Region II tourney held in Beresford found the team placing second but qualifying everyone for the State tournament.

In the State tournament, which was held in Pierre, the team placed fourth overall.

Left is Carl, who seems pleased with the position of the ball. He placed eighth in the State tourney.

Girls' Team Young

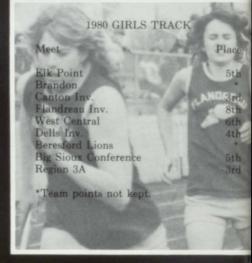

The girls' team, with three seniors, was very young this year.

The girls started practice in April with only 16 girls participating. The coaches filled in the rest of the team with recruits from Jr. High.

The girls had their best showing in the Region 3A meet at which they placed third. They qualified six girls in five events for the State.

Boys Capture Conference Meet

The boys' track team had 24 members this year, 6 of them seniors. Practice started in April and by the first meet most members were ready.

This year was a building year as most of the team were underclassmen. The winning of the Conference meet was the highlight of the year as the Fliers were not considered "a favorite." The trackmen put forth their best effort to win this meet.

Pep Club Raises School Spirit

FHS's newest club, the Pep Club, has worked to get the crowd pepped up for all sporting events.

Making pep posters and yelling in the stands are ways the Pep Club has tried to raise the school spirit.

Top is the Pep Club, Starting at top, left to right, are Carol Dietrich, Peg Wilts, Mindy Petersen, Denise Clark, Marla Johanson, Jody Petersen, Jackie Schatz, advisor Miss Wietrich, Chris Thompson, Yolanda Dixon, Colleen McGlone, Patty Mach, Michelle Bonde, Jill Hurley, Tammy Dappen, Darcy Johnson, Mary Dolan, Cindy Buersch, Doris Elverud, Gina Schatz, Kym Cecil, Diane Dietrich, Sonja Bock, Danette DePietro, Beth Barnes and Deb Schulze.

Middle Right are Kim Hahn, Lori Ahlers, Katarina Nilsson, Karen Duffert, Brad Thielson and Steve Utech cheering the team on.

Cheerleaders Provide Pep

During the Spring of '80, the varsity cheerleading squads were chosen, while the "B" team basketball squad was chosen in the fall.

The cheerleaders attended a cheerleading clinic, sold jerseys, made posters and decorated players' lockers. During games, pep rallies, and on booster buses, they helped raise enthusiasm and "fire-up" the fans.

Top is the girls' basketball and wrestling cheerleading squad. They are, back row, Cindy Buersch and Yolanda Dixon. Front row are Barb Bennett and Doris Elverud.

Drill Team Livens Half-Times

Besides performing at the home basketball games, the drill team also performed at the District 10 boys' basketball tournament.

The drill team also started getting ideas for fund raisers to buy new uniforms.

For part of the year, the girls were without alternates, so they had to perform with less than a full team.

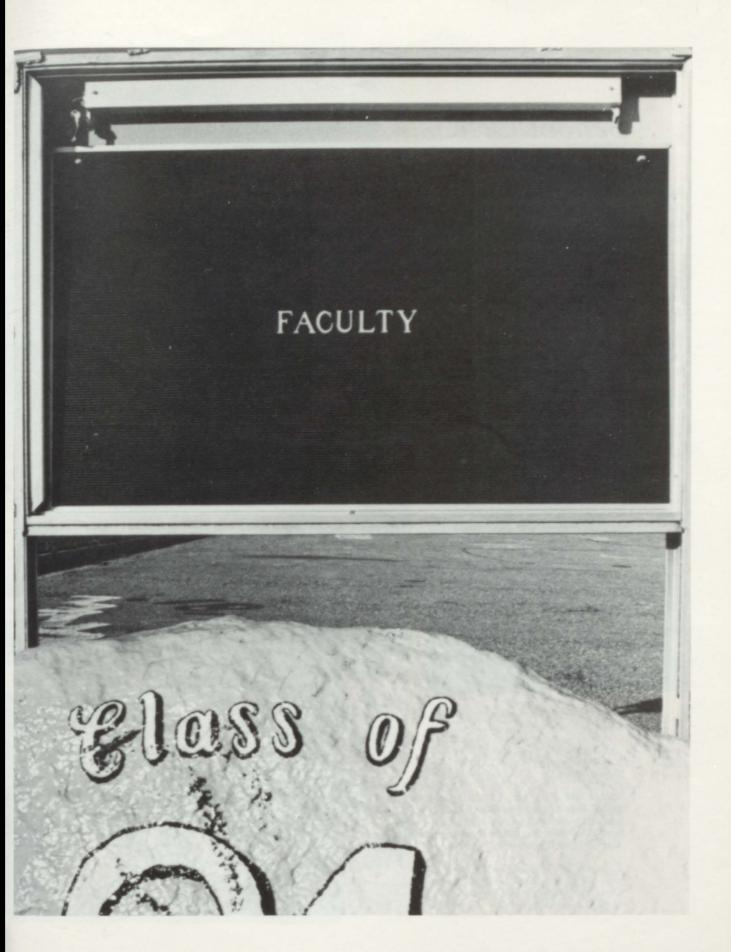

Top are the senior drill team members Tami Urquhart, Linda Eikmeier, Ellen Nelson, Lori Ahlers, and Cheryl Duncan.

School Officials Share Adm. Load

Seven members of the school district make up the school board. Their responsibilities include finances, setting policies, and hiring or releasing school employees.

Carrying out the board policies, representing the school in local, state, and federal areas and preparing a school budget is the superindendent's job.

The business manager takes care of all secretarial duties the board meetings and handles the financial activities of the school district.

The Multi-District director works with boards of the four districts to provide a quality vocational program.

Middle Right is part of the school board. Included are Mr. Gene Gullickson, Mr. Conway Lee, Mr. Gary Luttman, Mrs. English, business manager, and Mr. Stan Hammer.

Right are Mr. Vigness, Mr. Duane Sutton, Mrs. Betty Keck, and Mr. Dann Cecil, the individuals who made up the rest of the school board.

The principal's responsibilities are to arrange schedules, supervise students, detention, and evaluate teachers.

The principal's secretary issues lunch tickets, make-up slips and takes incoming calls.

The guidance counselor's duties involve helping students select colleges and seek financial aid for further schooling - personal problems.

The Multi-District secretary's duties are general office work and keeping all school records.

Top is Mr. John Evans, guidance counselor, looking over a few papers.

Above is Mrs. Bev Burchill, the Multi-District's secretary.

Beginning Teachers Learn From Students

During the course of the year, FHS had five student teachers from SDSU, who came to get their first taste of being a teacher. The student teachers spent their first weeks observing their cooperating teacher, and then took over during the last few weeks of their training period.

The five student teachers studying at FHS specialized in home economics, agriculture, and physical education.

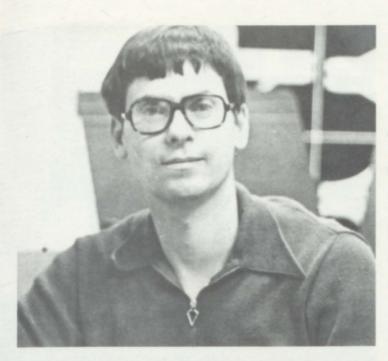

Top is Mrs. Regina VanDyke, the student teacher for home ec.

Right's Mr. Larry Stockenbroker, another Ag. student te ache r.

Students Practice Musical Talents

Chorus provides students with learning experiences in different styles of music—choral, pop and contemporary. Vocalists wishing to entertain for special events are in the swing chorus group, which sings pop songs.

Band gives the students a familiarization with instrumental music. The band performs in pep band form at half-times of sporting events, marches in Homecoming parades and presents concerts.

Top is Mr. Larry Wilske, chorus instructor. Mr. Wilske was most embarrassed when he "dropped and broke a present I had received at a concert."

Middle is Mr. Wilske directing a chorus rehearsal.

Middle Right is Gina Schatz, majorette, leading the marching hand.

Left is Mr. Kevin Masemann, hand instructor. Mr. Masemann, a graduate of Augustana, is in his second year of teaching hand at FHS.

Occupational Skills Offer Challenges

Home Economics I teaches the basics of foods, clothing, and careers. Home Economics II studies meal services and meats, in depth. Home Economics III has special units on budgets and consumer protection.

Ag. I covers crop production and simple carpentry. Ag II looks into the aspects of animal science. Ag. III deals with agriculture mechanics. Ag. IV works, in depth, with farm management.

Bookkeeping offers the basics of accounting. In typing I and II students learn and improve typing skills as well as the uses of typing. Shorthand introduces theory and the writing of shorthand.

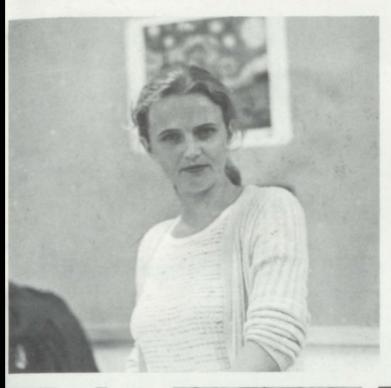

Top is Mrs. Linda Siebrasse, Home Economics teacher. She teaches cooking and sewing as well as basic living skills.

Right is Mr. Clifton Sutton, who has as one purpose in life to "make it to retirement age." He teaches typing, shorthand, and bookkeeping.

Art, I.A. Mold Student's Talents

Art instruction involves much of some student's time. Art as a future career interests some, while others take Art for personnal reasons. Art history, lettering, drawing, and other principles of art are presented. The art students promoted Homecoming by decorating the halls with posters and other art work.

Industrial Arts students work with woods, metals, and drafting throughout the year. Woodworking takes the most time with the students holding an "open house" at the end of the year to show their work.

Top is Mrs. Holly Langenfeld, who is in her first year of teaching Art. Her hobbies include art work, visiting art galleries, and cross country skiing.

Bottom is Mr. Bergjord soddering. Mr. Bergjord, who has been teaching for ten years, "enjoys working with the young people."

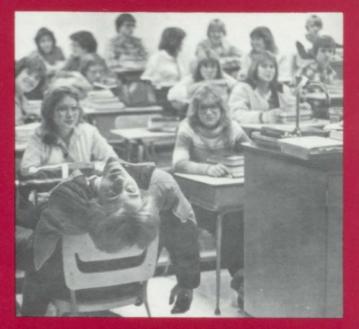

Math Creates Concepts

Math courses, except Algebra I and General Math, are electives with many students choosing to continue their math with these electives.

Geometry, Algebra II, and Senior Math are offered to help students prepare themselves for college, ACT tests and Vo-tech schooling.

Geometry students develop their reasoning powers and state their thoughts in a logical manner. Senior Math studies trigonometry and analytic Geometry. Alg. II is a continuation of Alg. I.

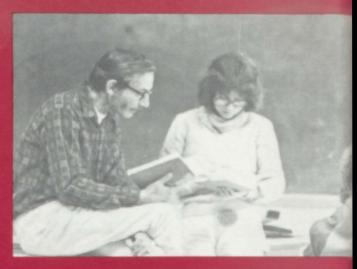

Top is Mr. William Boyd, a West Point graduate and a retired serviceman. He teaches Algebra I and II, Geometry, and Senior Math.

Right is Mr. Leroy Benson, a graduate of Augustana and Colorado State University, who teaches General Math.

Sciences Explore Different Aspects

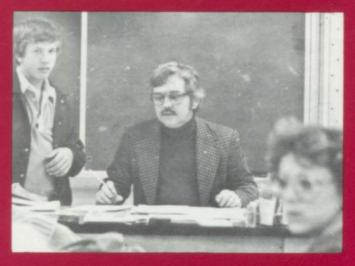

Chemistry I and II deals, with the analysis of known elements and liquids. Organic chemistry is included along with many labs.

Biology I and II concentrates on the environment, populations of plants and animals, human anatomy, and various other biological elements.

Physical Science, a required course, is taken by the freshmen.

Physics contains four units on astronomy and related subjects; machines, heat, and waves; nuclear physics; and, electricity.

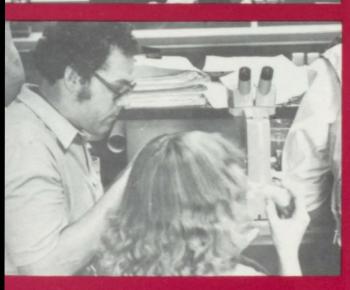

Top is Mr. Keith Burns, a graduate of Menno High School, who teaches Physical Science, Chemistry, and Physics. He has taught for 19 years.

Middle Left it Mr. Bruce Porisch, who in his first year of teaching, has taken up his duties in Biology I and II, and Physical Science.

Election Year Brings Excitement

American History classes inform students of the problems America has had since its discovery.

The World History course finds students learning about the many civilizations which have formed since the beginning of mankind.

Government/Senior Problems are taken for one semester each. During this election year, Government students held an election in which they urged fellow students to become involved in politics. Senior Problems dealt with general business trends with an emphasis on money, banking, credit, personal accounting, and budgets.

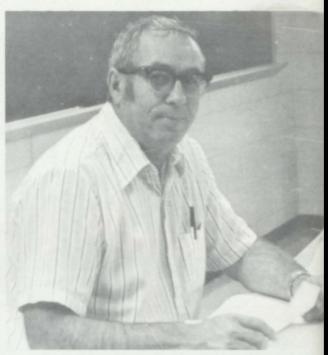

Top is Mr. Eldon "Gus" Barnes, a graduate of General Beadle College (Dakota State). He teaches Senior Problems, Sociology, and U.S. History.

Middle Right are some History students, "busy as usual."

Right is Mr. James McGlone, Government, World History, and PE teacher. He is a 1951 graduate of FHS.

Developing Mental, Physical Behavior

Psychology/Sociology classes are offered to the seniors for a semester each. Psychology gives the students a chance to understand himself and his or her relationship with others.

Sociology offers students a chance to express their views of society's problems.

Physical Education courses are required for freshman and sophomores, but are an elective for juniors and seniors. PE emphasises the rules and strategy of team sports as well as team spirit.

Top is Mrs. Peg Fargen, who teaches girls' PE. Her favorite food is pizza.

Above is Mr. Dennis Rhead, who teaches boys' PE. He finds teaching enjoyable "because of the challenge."

Languages Influence Student's Routines

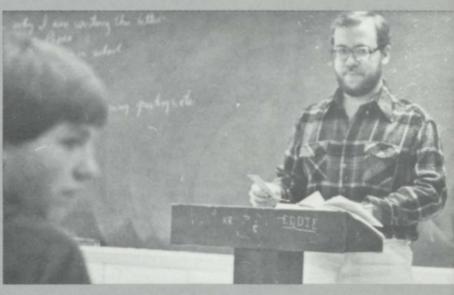

English I-IV students review the basics of grammar, literature in short story and novel form, composition, and vocabulary.

English II involves speech/literature. Speech helps the students to prepare and present topics. Literature discusses the different interpretations of condensed plays, short stories and poems.

Students wishing to learn the German language and culture build their skills in German I-IV courses.

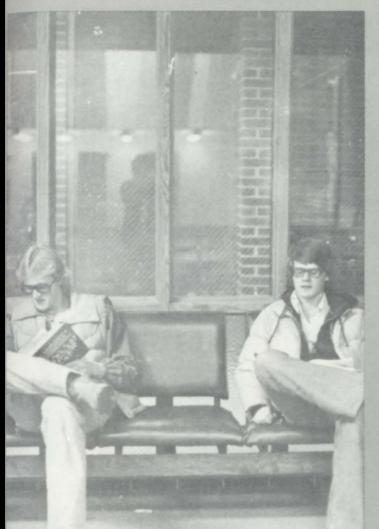

Top is Mrs. Mary James, English I and IV instructor. Mrs. James hopes her first full year as a teacher will give her students a workable knowledge of grammar.

Middle Left is Mr. Lowell Linder, German and English II instructor. He is especially interested in any type of camping.

Middle Right is Mr. Douglas Dunn, the "proud parent of Jay Tyler." He is in his second year of teaching English III and speech.

Right is Mr. Dunn helping Laureen Herrick with an assignment.

Special Needs, Assistance Provided

The library provides a wealth of material for research or leisure purposes. The library also contains audio-visual equipment, microfische readers, and a computer for use by students and faculty alike.

Students needing special assistance in their classes may attend the Resource Room. This program, in its third year, assists students with various classes such as English/Reading, Math and Science.

Top are Jerry Headrick and David Jueschke "reading" in the library.

Above is Miss Debora Wetrich looking over her class. She gives special help to students needing assistance. Miss Wetrich enjoys teaching because she "feels she is giving her students a service."

Far Left is Mr. Dale Johnson, who was a candidate for State legislature in last fall's election. He is the Librarian and is also in charge of all audio-visual equipment.

Left are Todd Krantz and Gene Taylor using the libraries' facilities.

Trades Learned At Multi-District

Business Education at the multi-district provides information about careers in the business field. This class helps students improve their skills which are necessary for employment in office work.

Distributive Education is a program of cooperation with the business community. This class is designed to give students practical, on-the-job experience in business areas.

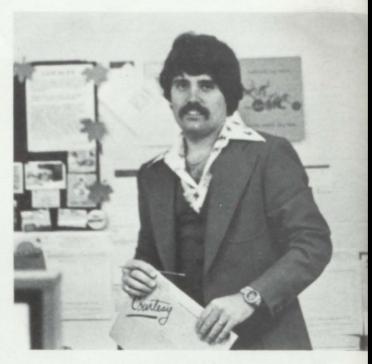

Health Occupations serves as an introduction to job opportunities in the field of health and related areas. An essential part of this program provides an opportunity to observe and practice basic nursing skills.

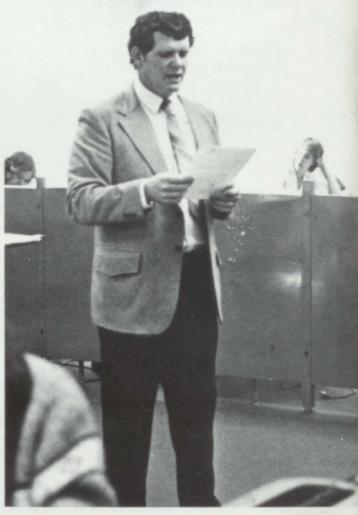

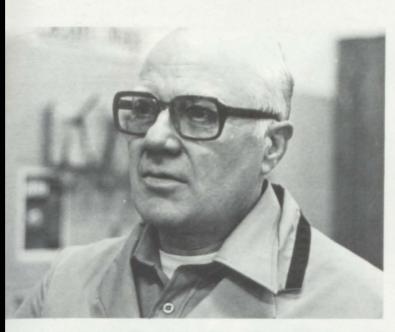

Top is Mr. Brad Bonde talking on "courtesy." He teaches Sales and Service.

Right is Mr. Les Kor, who teaches Business Education.

On-The-Job-Training Aids Students

Automotive Services provides instruction in the theory and operation of engines. Students are given practical lessons in service work, as well as, diagnosing mechanical problems.

Building Trades gives students an opportunity to explore this industry. During the course of the year, students construct a house thereby gaining some practical experience.

Electronics deals with the basic fundamentals of electricity. These fundamentals are necessary to explore the many opportunities for a career in this field.

Top is Mr. Marvin Iverson, Auto-Mechanics teacher.

Cooks Create Meals, Festive Moods

During the two lunch shifts of the school day, hungry students can be found dashing for the lunch line. The cooks fix meals for high school and junior high students. Chef salads are available besides the regular meal.

Before a holiday, the cooks are kept busy preparing a special meal and creating a mood traditional of that holiday. Seniors receive a special meal at the end of the year, also.

Bottom Right is Mrs. Joyce Jurgens cleaning a huge pan. What did you find, Mrs. Jurgens?

Aides Kept Busy During Year

Watcha want? Peas or corn? The kitchen aides help the cooks in any way they can, by washing dishes or by helping serve the food, or punching tickets as the students go through line.

The laundry lady, knee deep in soap suds, folding clothing, or listening to country music, talks with the students while they are in the whirlpool.

Personnel Help Maintain School

The high school cleaning team keeps the floors shiny and clean, straightens trays at noon, and becomes bleacher pushers after a game. On occasion, their work calls for them to stand guard against possible egg throwers and vandalists. Much time is also spent keeping the heating and cooling systems in order.

Our chauffeurs are those who devote one or two hours of their time picking up the students. They get them to school despite the hazards that may occur on the way. At 3:40, the bus drivers arrive to take the students home once again.

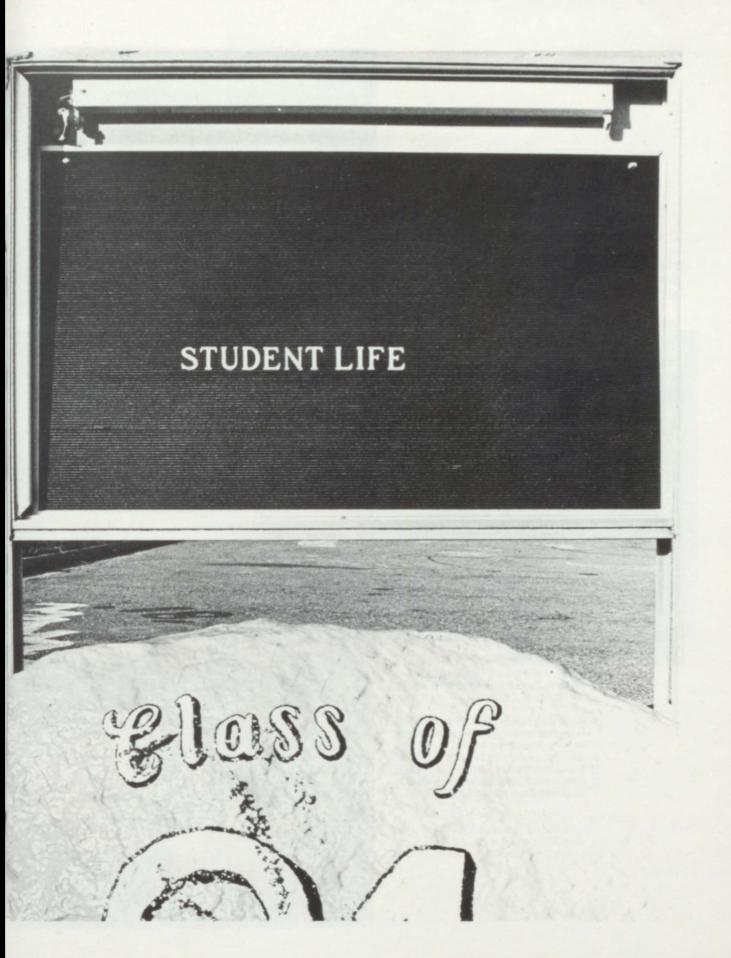

Top are the bus drivers and some of the students they have charge of. They are, first row, Mr. Vernon Auren, Mr. Bob Christiansen, and Jim Caulfield. Second row are Mr. Les Schrecengost, Nathan Johnson, and Mr. Ed Uilk. Third row are Mr. Al Powers, Lorraine Barthel, and Mr. Les Riffel. Spare Time Spent At Teen Center

The local teen center is where many students go on weekends to spend some of their spare time. Playing pool is enjoyed there as is ping-pong, foose ball, pin ball machines, and many other games. Food is also sold.

When not at the teen center some students will "cruise" main street or stop by the bank parking lot to see what's going on.

Four School Dances Highlight Year

School dances were held for Homecoming; Dance-a-thon in the fall; Christmas dance before Christmas vacation; and the Prom in the spring. Music was provided by a disc jockey for Homecoming, Dance-a-thon, and Christmas dances, while Live music was provided at the Prom.

The teen center also had a few dances through the year for the high school students.

Freshmen Cope With First Year

Adjusting to high school can be a very different experience as most of the freshmen would agree. Many of the freshmen got active in some of the social events as well as many of the different organizations of FHS.

The freshmen class officers chosen this year were Marge McGlone, secretary-treasurer; Brian Emter, representative; Marietta McGlone, representative; Darren Ailts, president; Laurie Ernesti, vice-president.

Graduation Brings Special Honors To Seniors

Graduation was a special and nervous time for seniors. Those who were honor students wore a special "honor medallion" around their necks.

Four scholarships were presented to various seniors along with other "special" awards. In all, nine individuals were honored with these scholarships or awards.
