SOARING OVER

Money Earned For Sparetime

Money seems to be the talk everywhere these days; everything from commercials wanting people to buy products, to inflation, or putting money away for college. Students try to beat inflation by holding jobs.

Students have jobs for various reasons. It may be to help or meet people. However, money is usually the major factor. The money that is made is spent on spare time items, cars, or saved for various reasons.

Breaks Add To School Life

You mean there's life outside of classes? You bet! Every time that familiar bell rings ending class, the student body wakes up and springs back to life. Whether it's lunchtime gossip, cruising in the halls, or just plain "shootin' the breeze," there's always action to be found within the walls of FHS.

Top is Robin Fisher and Carol Dietrich posing in their "Grub Day" attire.

Daily Routine Plays Active Part

Some of the normal, but not quite everyday activities that occur are birthday celebrations at lunchtime, face painting for Halloween, special-occasion dressing, and the wearing of purple togas by seniors during Homecoming Week.

A few of the quieter day-to-day happenings are playing chess in the library, relaxing in the halls after lunch, or "quiet" conversation in study hall.

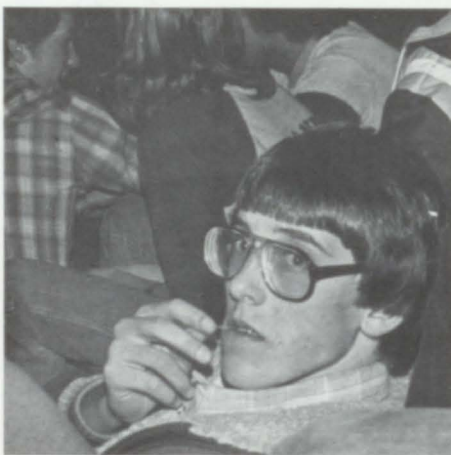

Top is John Broghammer concentrating on his next chess move.

Right is Gerald "Beaver" Ailts at a basketball game.

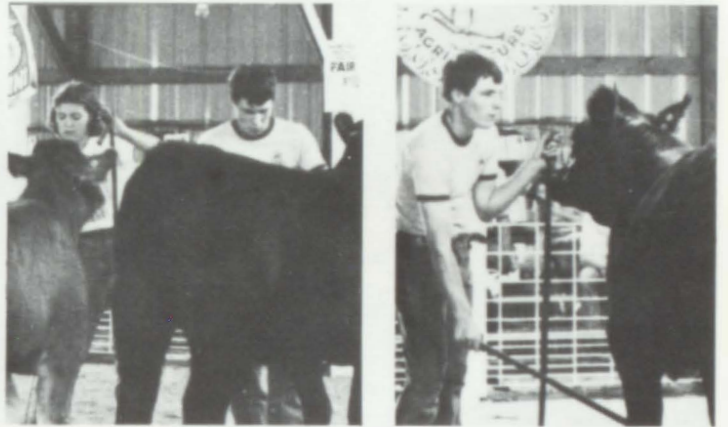

4H'ers Get Involved

During the year, the activities of 4-H have led many students in the school and community into public speaking giving demonstrations and Fairs.

One major highlight this year was the 4-H recognition banquet in which the 4-H'ers were presented Achievement Awards for accomplishments.

Top is Tammy Dappen giving a demonstration on household cleaners in 4-H.

Weekly Routine Includes Church

Wednesday nights are set aside for church activities that students may participate in.

The youth groups become involved in a wide variety of activities. They watch films, play games, and plan parties. Some attend camp in the summer or participate in youth rallies in their area. Regular devotional meetings and planning fund raisers are also an important part of the activities.

Top are Patti Buck, Jill Johns, Dave Meyers, and Dave Ziebarth concentrating on a game of chess at Presbyteens.

Middle are Bob Dolan and Eric Thielssen, not quite awake yet, at the Catholic breakfast.

Right is Wendy Sutton doing her share of the painting in the Methodist basement.

Sparetime Keeps Students Busy

Various activities keep students busy during their sparetime. The Teen Center seems to be a place where students can go to play coin operated machines such as Pac-man, Space Invaders, and pool.

Top is Matt Burns wrestling with Wyman Gageby. Everyone can guess who will win!

Various Activities Make-Up Spare Time

When the Teen Center isn't open, that's when the Crystal Theater and stereos come in handy to pass time.

Other things to occupy sparetime are wrestling for the fun of it; making your own music; or, sometimes it's just as enjoyable to sit around and watch everyone else goof-off.

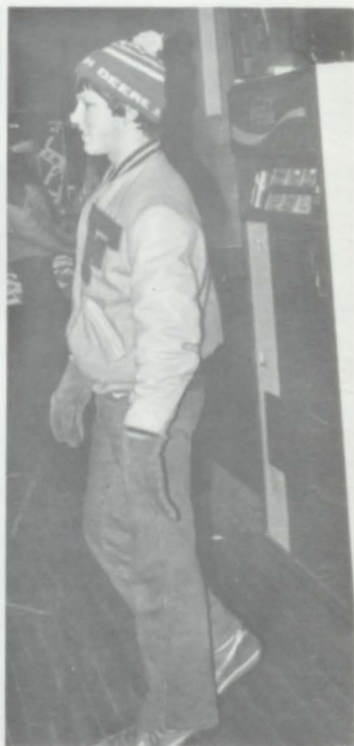

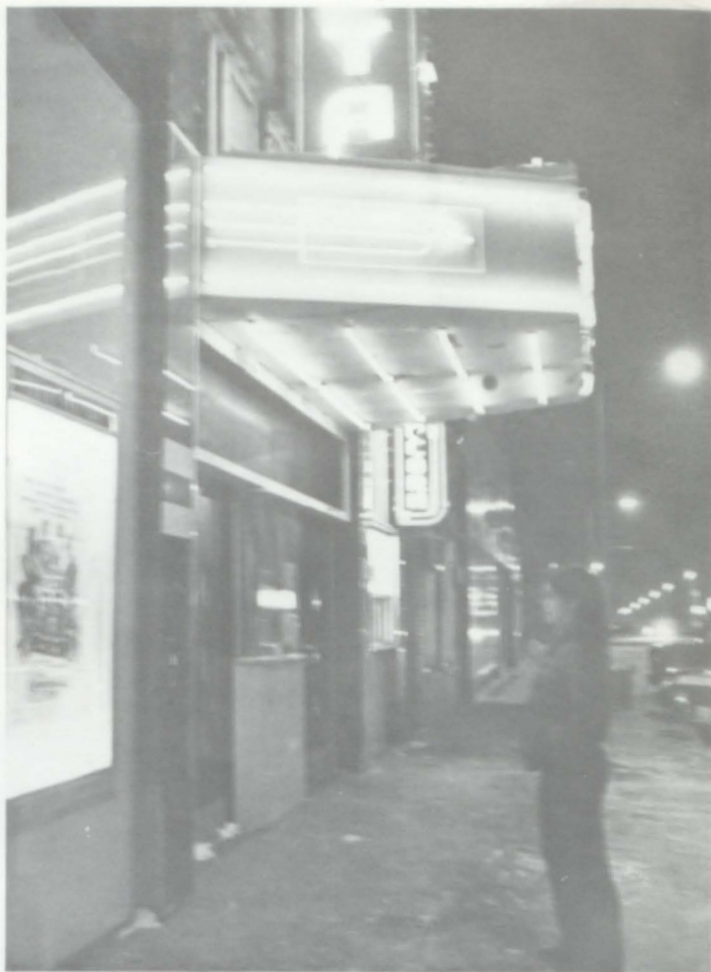

Top is Connie Emery standing outside the Crystal Theater checking out the showbill.

Right is Blaine Tirrel "watching the action."

STARTING

Playoffs Missed By .175 Points

South Dakota got its football playoffs for the first time this year. FHS narrowly missed the playoffs by .175 points. The playoffs divided the eleven man teams into three classes and the nine man teams into two classes.

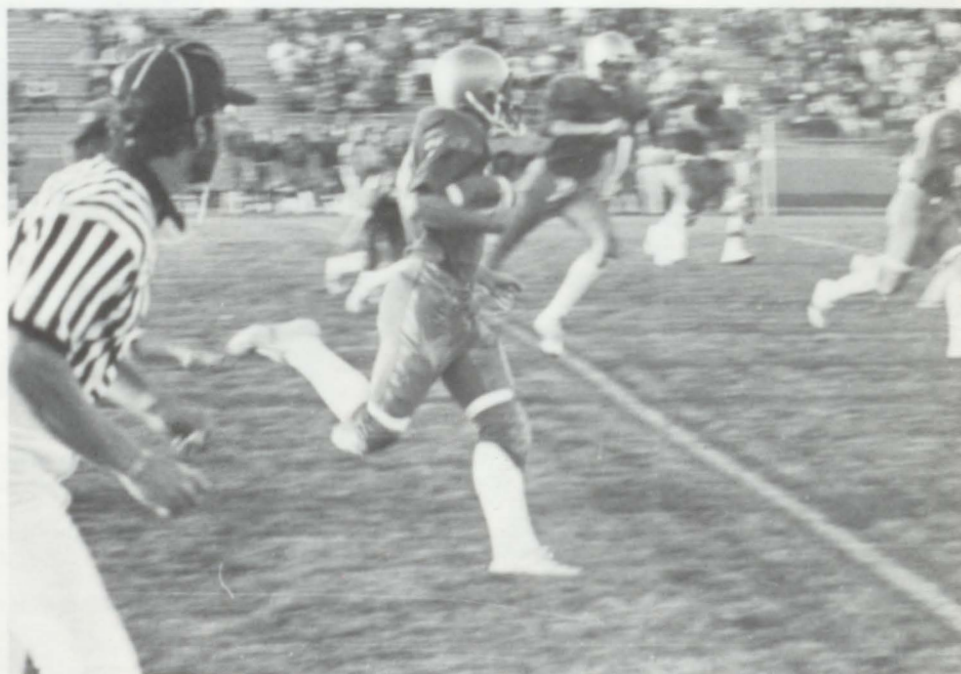

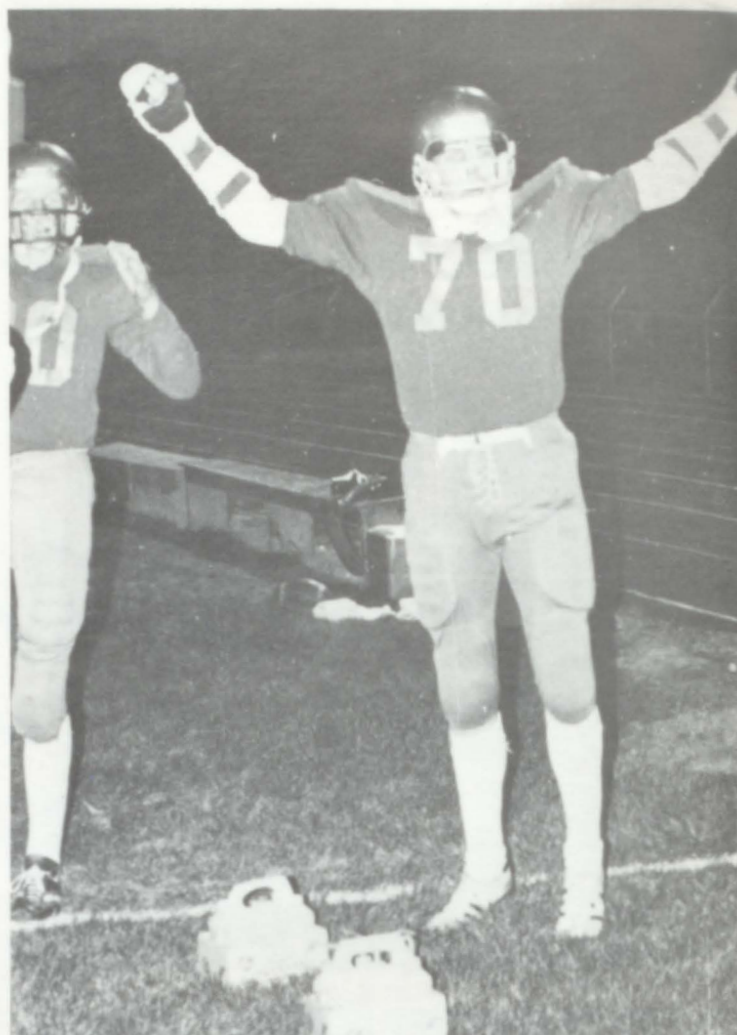

FHS competed with eight other teams in Region I. Beresford won the Region I title but lost in semi-final action to DeSmet, the eventual Class 11A winner.

Top are Dave and Wayne Ziebarth cheering on the Fliers.

Fliers Capture Second Place

The Fliers finished the conference in a second place tie with a 4-2 record. They had a chance at the championship but couldn't beat Dell Rapids.

JV Team 3 - 1; Seniors Get Awards

The JV football team had a record of 3-1.

The freshmen had a rough season. They failed to record a win in four games.

Ten seniors led the 1981 team. Four were named to the All-Conference team, and three received honorable mention. Also, one received the "Unsung Hero Award" from the Cocoa-Cola Company in Sioux Falls.

Top are the seniors. They are, back row, Dave Ziebarth, All-Conf.; Dennis Pasch, All-Conf.; Steve Ailts, Honorable Mention; Matt Burns, All-Conf.; and Barry Zephier, Honorable Mention. More Girls Run; 3rd In Conference

The girl's cross-country team this year increased their membership. Last year there were nine members including three seniors. This year there were five returning letter winners and seven new members for a total of 12 runners.

The girls participated in eight meets. They placed third in the Conference meet at Dell Rapids and eighth in the Region meet at Brookings. Other standings were: first at the FIS meet, fourth at Salem and West Central, fifth at Sioux Valley, and seventh at Clear Lake and Arlington.

Top are Laurie Schoneman, Marietta McGlone, and Kym Cecil stretching out.

Cross-Country Has Young Team

Nineteen members came out this year, the largest team in seven years.

The varsity team consisted of three seniors, four juniors, and two sophomores. The junior varsity team was made up of one sophomore, six freshmen, and two students from junior-high.

The boys placed fourth in Conference action at Dell Rapids and fifth in Regions at Brookings. Other standings were: third at Salem, West Central, and Flandreau; fourth at Arlington and Sioux Valley; and ninth at Clear Lake.

Top are Murray McGlone, Louie Schreier, Barry Zephier, Joe Broghammer, Bob Barnes, Rick Gullickson, Chuck Derdall, Matt Iverson, and Todd Krantz running in competition.

Girls Earn Second In District Ten

The varsity girls' basketball team tied last years record of 9-10. They improved their District 10 placing fourth to second.

The girls placed fifth at the Big Sioux Conference Tourney. Their "revenge" win over Salem to take fifth was the highlight of the season.

The varsity team will have to replace six seniors, three of them All Conference. When practice begins next fall, five letter winners will pace the Fliers.

Girls Have Trying Season

The girls' JV team had to cope with a losing season. They failed to win any of their fourteen starts.

Half of the team were freshmen, and they will have a year's experience behind them to improve their record next year.

Far Right is Geriann attempting a free-throw.

Right is Lauri Ernesti defending the basket.

"A" Team Goes 10-11; Six Lettermen Return

The varsity basketball team finished the year with a 10-11 record. They placed sixth in the Big Sioux Conference Tournament and fourth at the District 10 tourney. They outscored their opponents 1197 to 1175.

Five seniors will graduate leaving six letter-winners to guide the team next year. These underclassmen had many minutes of playing time this year. Because of this experience, they are looking forward to next year's season.

JV's Gain Experience; Build For Next Year

The "B" team had the best record of all the boys' basketball squads. They finished the year 9-7.

Five of the "B" teamers, this year's juniors, gained experience on the varsity squad. These five and seven sophomores will provide the nucleus for next year's varsity and "B" squads.

Right is Rick getting ready to rebound Matt's shot.

Freshmen Stress Basics; Work To Improve

The freshmen used their first year of high school basketball to work on their basics and get ready to replace graduating seniors on the varsity squad or play "B" team ball next year.

They had a record of three and eight with a third place finish at the Arlington tourney. They, also, participated at the Tri-State tourney in Sioux Falls where they placed second in their division.

Top are Tab Peper and Lew Sherman "challenging" the competition.

Far Left is Kyle Johnston going for a "two pointer."

Varsity Strong; JV Members Needed

This year's varsity team finished with a dual record of 6-7, but the high points of the year were the team positions in the various tournaments attended.

Seven wrestlers made it to Regions with three qualifying for the State "B" at Watertown.

The JV team could not fill all the weights to make a complete squad, so all their matches were exhibition matches.

Bench Gives Team Moral Support

With most of the moral support coming from the players on the bench, the "A" volleyball squad finished the year with an 8 and 13 record.

As a member of the Alpha-4 group, the squad played Tri-Valley, Sioux Valley, and FIS throughout the year.

For the first time, the girls had to compete on a regional level to attend the State tournament at Brookings. They were eliminated by Sioux Falls Washington in the first round.

Young Team Shows Promise

A strong group of underclassmen led by four seniors made up the 1982 girls' track team.

The daily workouts of mileage, quarters, and running in the halls aided the girls in placing at six of their seven meets. Seven members of the team, also, qualified for the State.

Top is Laurie Schoneman long jumping at the Brandon Valley Invitational. Laurie attended the State meet to high jump and as part of a relay team.

Girls Run Well; Seven Go To State

The team's best placing of the year was at the Region III track meet held in Flandreau. Seven girls qualified in either field events or relays.

Underclassmen were the main runners in the relays that qualified for the State meet held in Sioux Falls and Brandon Valley.

Though the girls did not place at the State meet, four of the seven qualifiers will be returning for the 1983 season.

Seniors Lead Team To Successful Year

The boys' track team, lead by six seniors, won the Dell Rapids Invitational. The team, also, placed second at five other meets.

The void caused by graduation will be filled by five returning juniors and twelve other underclassmen.

Second At Regions: Eight Go To State

The Flier track squad, running in front of a home crowd, placed second in the Region III meet. Injuries to several runners kept all but one relay team from attending the State meet at Sioux Falls and Brandon Valley.

At the State meet, the 3200 meter relay team placed fifth. In an individual event, the two-mile run, a Flier placed fourth.

Freshmen Face New Adventures

High school begins a new adventure for freshmen. They wonder about what their new teachers will be like; where their new rooms are; and, how upper classmen will treat them.

Homecoming week found the freshmen facing another problem. They were initiated by upper classmen by being showered with shaving cream and rotten tomatoes at the bonfire pep rally. During Little Orpheum, they performed a skit, "Popeye the Flierman."

Juniors Earn Money For Prom

The junior class is involved in many activities throughout the year. Beginning with Homecoming they presented the skit "The Flier-izer."

Raising money for Prom is the biggest junior venture of the year. They raised this money by selling magazine subscriptions and operating the concessions stand for home games.

This money is used to pay for the Prom and Banquet.

Seniors Search For Lost Time

As graduation nears, the seniors look back and reflect, "where has the time gone?"

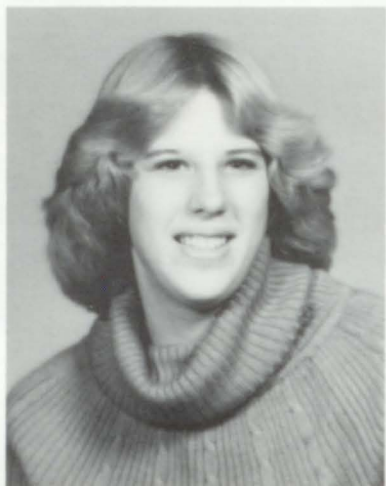

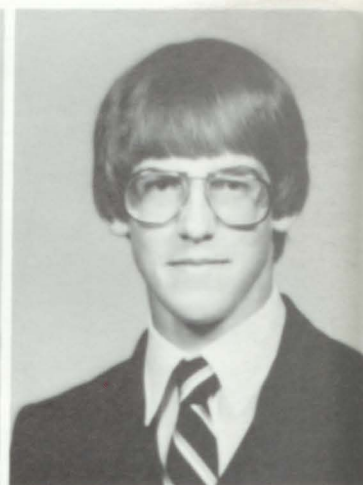

This question would, of course, be answered differently by every senior. But if each were to think about the question carefully, they might find these possible answers: The painting of the parking lot, Homecoming, the fight at Mobil, painting of the park bathroom, Prom, parties, dances, home games, away games, or band trips

"Where has the time gone?" It has gone to fill the senior year and make it complete.

Credits Received For Job Training

East Central Multi-District is a vocational opportunity offered to juniors and seniors. Those students attending Multi receive two credits in the area they choose to attend.

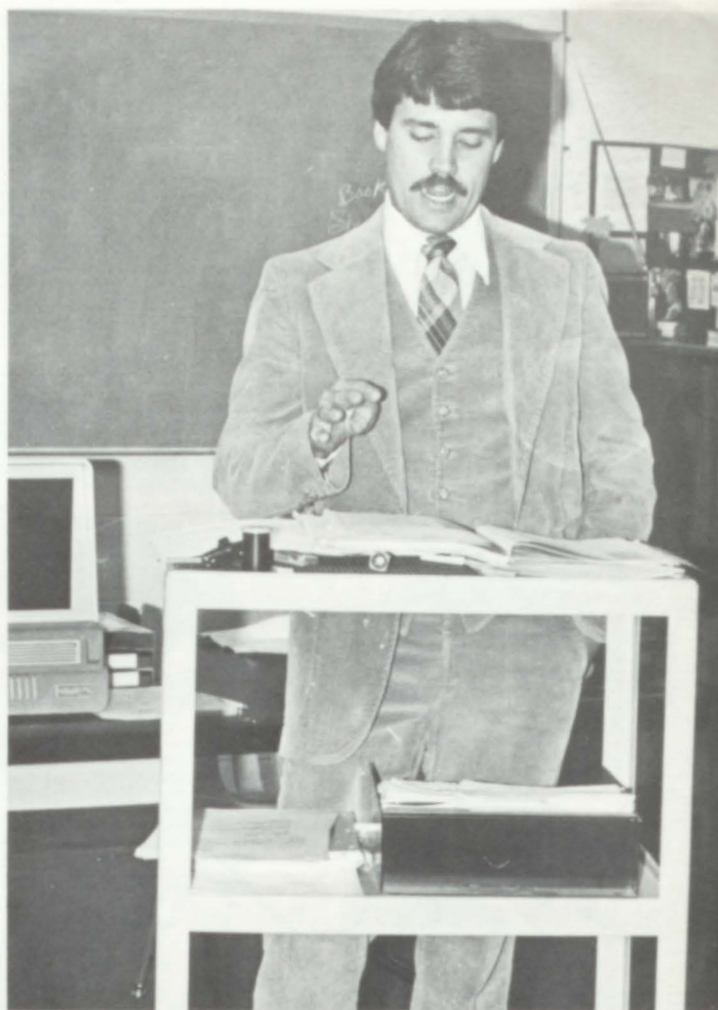

The students leave for Brookings at 9:25 a.m. and stay in classes until 11:50 a.m. They attend Multi with students from Deubrook and Brookings thereby learning to meet and work with different people.

Top is Mr. Brad Bonde explaining a work sheet.

Trades Made Available

Health Occupations gives a wide view of hospitals and other related health careers.

Sales and Service is an on-the-job training experience and also involves classroom work.

Business and Office Practices is a daily routine of how an actual company may operate.

Electronics offers a chance to experiment with the flowing of electrical currents.

Building Trades gives the students a chance to work with materials to build a house.

Auto is an area in which the basics of mechanics are learned.

Top is Mr. Dennis Blocker measuring beams to be used in a building.

Activities Vary In Language Arts

Tapes, films, slides, records, research centers, and a one-to-one basis are a few of the techniques used by the Language Arts instructors.

Term papers, journals and book reports are some of the class requirements students must complete throughout the year.

Octoberfest, festive singing, bake sales, and participating in the Flandreau Follies are a selection of the out of class activities that students also participate in.

Top is Mrs. Leigh Gipp, resource room instructor, correcting a paper.

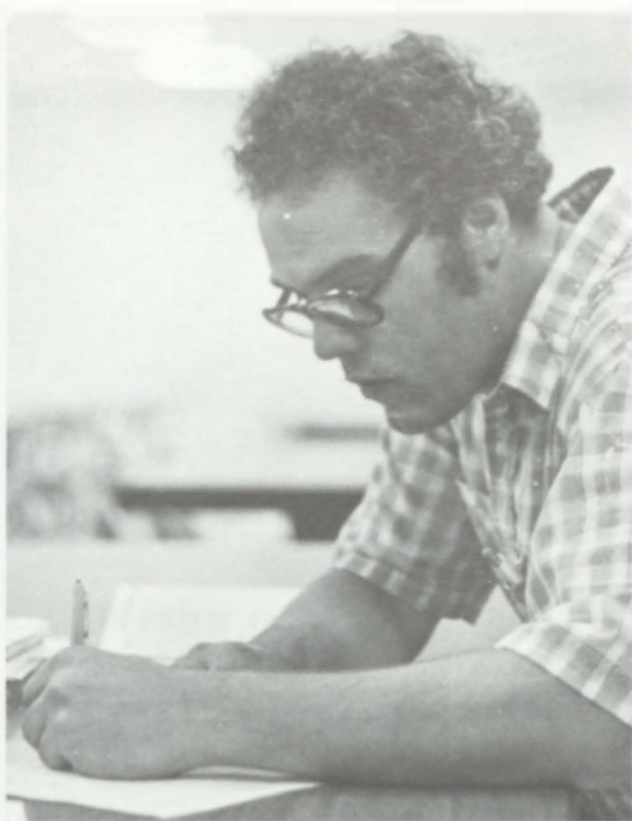

Middle Right is Mr. Lowell I. Linder reciting German for his German II class. He also teaches English Literature.

Above is Mrs. Mary James, teacher of English I and IV, giving one of her "well known" lectures.

Far Right is Ms. Gail Swensen, who's in her first year of teaching English II and III.

Right is Mr. Dale Johnson, high school librarian and audio visual director.

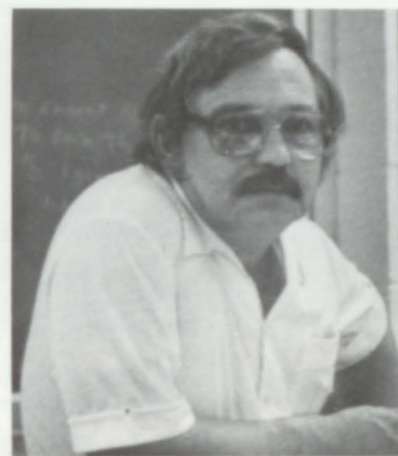

Math, Science Challenge Minds

These teacher's main interests are in the areas of science and math education.

During the year, labs, workshops, guest speakers, and a vegetation field trip were made available to students to make them aware of what is happening in various science and math fields.

Top is Mr. Bruce Porisch, writing out his plans for the day. Mr. Porisch teaches Biology and Physical Science.

Vocational Courses Guide Students

Visual aids, slides, independent study, and guest speakers are all part of the learning process provided by these teachers.

Their areas of study, business, agriculture, home economics, art, and industrial arts, provide knowledgeable and useful skills.

Middle Right is Mr. Clifton Sutton, who teaches the business courses: Typing, Shorthand, and Bookkeeping.

Right is Mr. Brian Bergjord, during a classroom lecture for Industrial Arts.

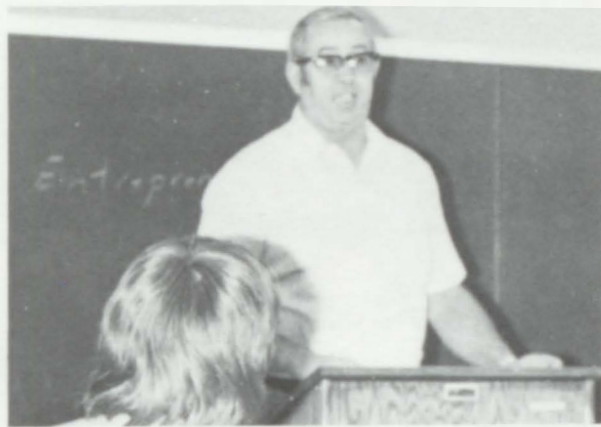

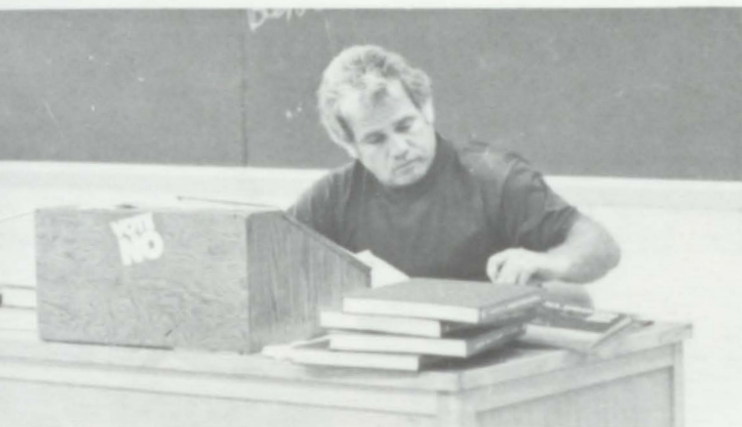

Community Used In Classroom

Students broaden their perspectives of the community and surroundings through activities presented by these teachers.

Students take field trips to funeral homes; learn about death and dying; observe school board and city council meetings; learn of activities to fill leisure time; or, have a local law enforcement officers speak on the ten amendments.

Top is Mr. Dennis Rhead helping Lisa Ludeman in Psychology.

Middle Right is Mr. James McGlone preparing a lecture. He teaches World History, Physical Education, and Government.

Above is Mr. Eldon "Gus" Barnes lecturing. He teaches Sociology, U.S. History, and Senior Problems.

Scheduling, Lessons Part Of Day

Band and chorus teachers are kept busy during the day with regular classes, first and seventh hours. They also work with junior high students and give lessons throughout the day.

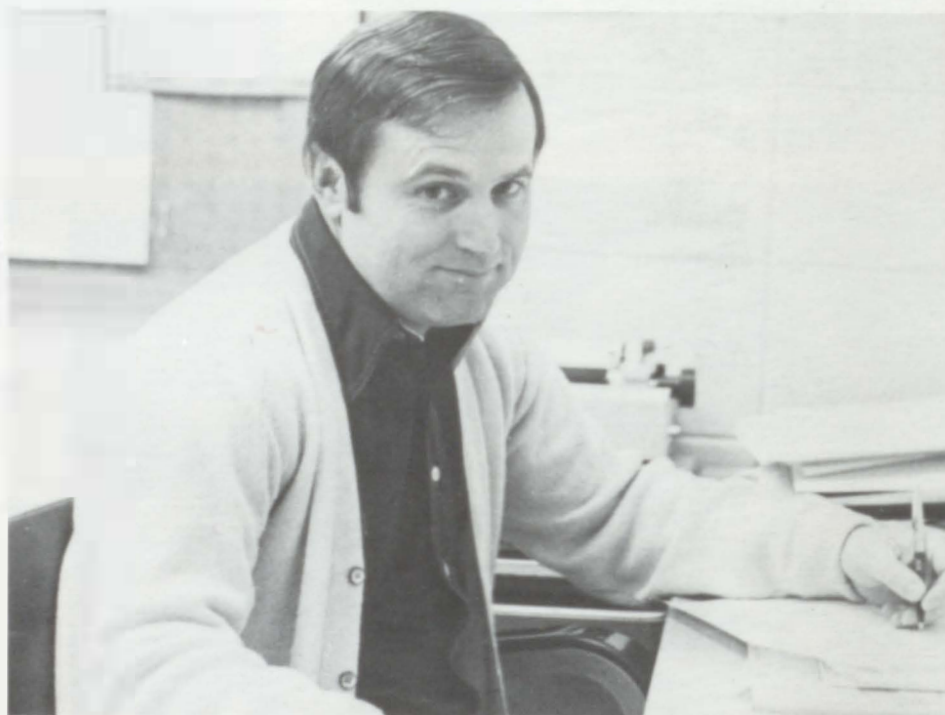

Guidance is given to many students including seniors with career or college plans, underclassmen with scheduling problems, and others with personal problems.

Top is Mr. Larry Wilske preparing to join the chorus for the Winter concert.

Right is Mr. John Evans, guidance counselor, filling out some of the necessary forms that go with his job.

Administrators Make Decisions

Okaying bills and trips for extra curricular programs of the school is one of the jobs of the administrative unit.

The superintendent and the director of the multi district are the chief buying agents for the school. They also work with their boards closely on any school related problems.

The principal gets involved with students as an advisor of the National Honor Society and student council. He, also, supervises detention students, along with the lunch room by keeping an eye on "Them Thar Kids."

Above is Mr. Sylvan Vigness, superintendent, filling out a form for a school report.

Left is Mr. Larry Klapperich on the phone talking to parent.

Secretaries Help Greatly

Bookwork and recording grades are two of the special jobs the office secretaries have to do.

Besides these, there are odd jobs to be done such as answering phones, making change, and collecting absentee slips.

Top is Mrs. Beverly Burchill, the Multi secretary.

Right is Mrs. Gladys English doing some of her paper work as business manager.

School Board Meets Regularly

Board members meet in the conference room on the second Monday of every month. Some of the subjects discussed at the meetings are scheduling of the school year, senior dismissal day, and the budget.

Top are Mr. Sylvan Vigness, superintendent, Mr. Dann Cecil, board member, and Mrs. Judy Johnson, board member.

Above is Mr. Hammer in thought about a motion before the board.

Cadet Teachers Gain Experience

A few of the regular teaching staff get a break during the year while student teachers gain experience and introduce new methods of teaching.

This year, also, the Art classes had a visiting artist work with them on the subject of animation.

Top is Mr. Bob Miller teaching an art class about animated films. He came from Rapid City and spent a week with all the art classes.

Cooks, Aids Appreciated

School cooks get very little credit for their long work day starting at 7:00 a.m. and ending at 2:00 p.m. They put together a well-balanced meal containing breads/cereal, meat, fruit/vegetable, and milk.

Some jobs that must be done during the lunch hour are punching lunch tickets, taking money for extra milk, and keeping track of the students who eat.

The laundry lady washes anything from towels to uniforms, while listening to country music.

Noncertified Help Keep School Running

The custodians and bus drivers are an often overlooked, but much needed part of the school system. The custodians keep the halls and classrooms neat and clean, clean up after ball games and other events, help the cooks, and maintain the heating and cooling systems.

The bus drivers spend a good deal of time hauling students back and forth. These trips include to and from school for rural students, Multi-District in Brookings, ball games, and other special events.

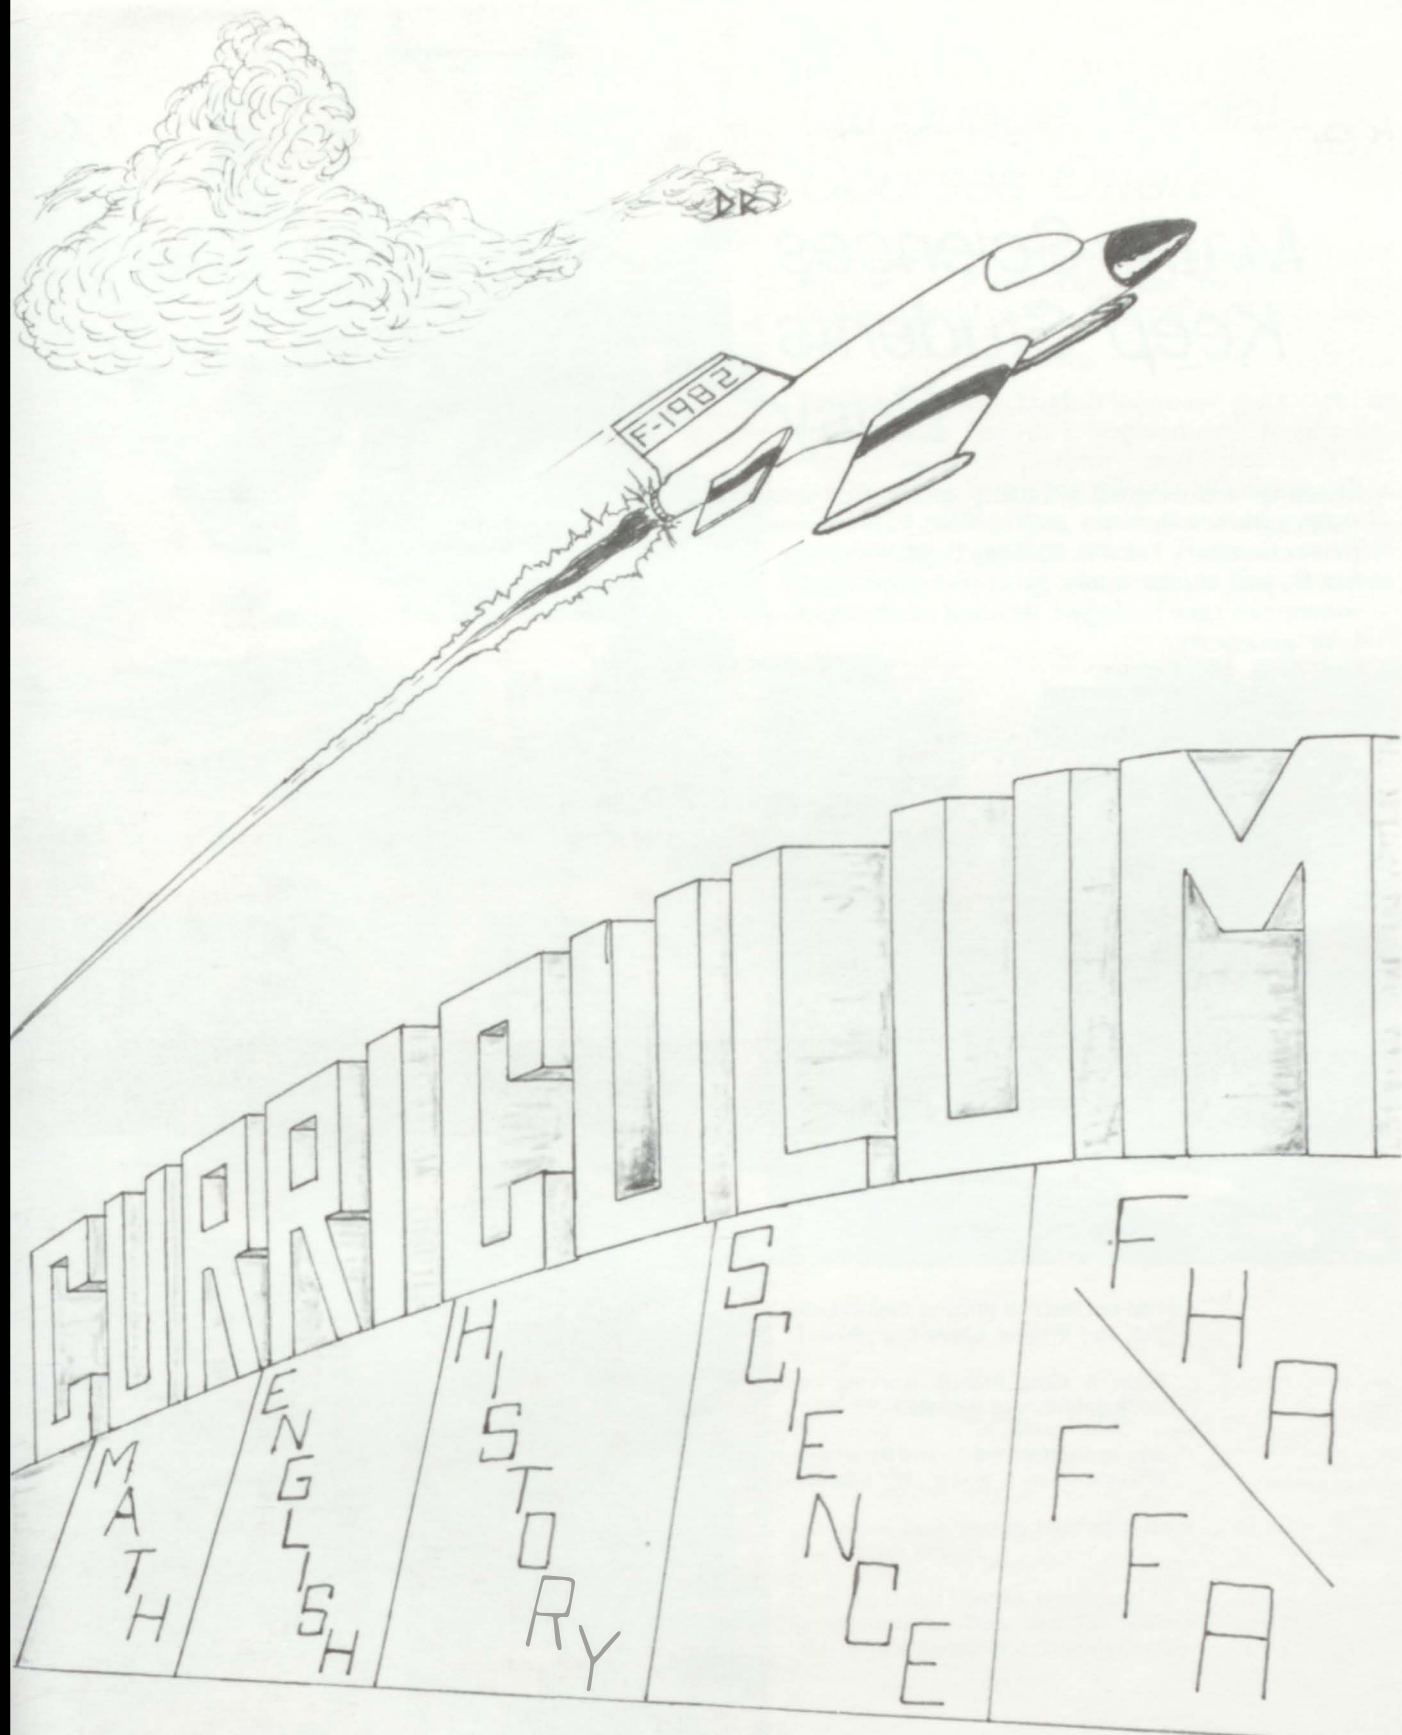

Top are Mr. Ole Wilts and Mr. Derwin Headrick, janitors at the high school, holding their trusty brooms.

Far Right is Mr. George Buresch, checking on the electrical system.

Math, Sciences Keep Students Busy

Students are offered a variety of science and math courses. Juniors and seniors can choose from chemistry I and II, biology II, physics, algebra II, and senior math. Freshmen and sophomores can take biology I, general math, algebra I, or geometry.

Top are Richard Wilkins, Chris Thompson, and Wyman Gageby in physics.

Right is Greg Brandli working on a book problem in Biology II.

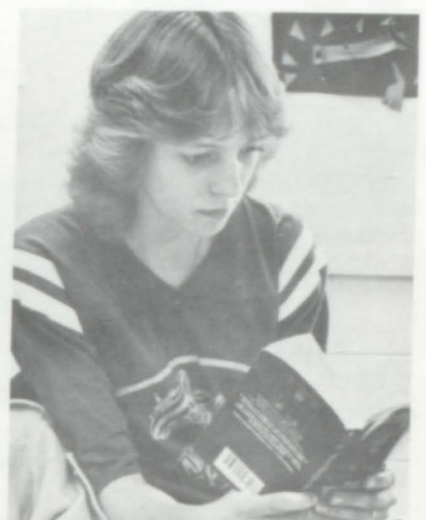

Above are Nora Solem and Beth Lang in physical science, going over problems.

Language, Social Courses Offered

U.S. History, senior problems and government are the social sciences taken by juniors and seniors. World history is also offered as an elective.

The basics of our English language are taught to freshmen in English I. Sophomores have a semester each of literature and speech. A research paper is the big project of English III for juniors. Seniors have a run-down of grammar and literature in English IV. There is also the added flair of foreign language in the electives of German I, II, III, and IV.

To Left is Dawn Redwing giving a demonstration in Speech class on how to plant a flower.

Above is Beth Barnes reading a book for a book report.

Left are Dawn VanHill, Lisa Burns, Fern Jorgenson, Jim Eich, and Jeff Nielsen doing an assignment in English III class.

Vocational Courses Give Varied Choices

FHS has many vocational-type classes to choose from, such as, home economics, agriculture, the business classes: typing I and II, shorthand, and bookkeeping; art, and industrial arts.

Some of the more relaxing classes where you can unwind are band, chorus, and physical education. P.E. is only offered to freshmen and sophomores, but band and chorus are open to all.

ACTIVITIES

Awards Given Deserving FHA'ers

The FHA Chapter helped plan and support the Christmas dance, along with holding an awards banquet. At which time outstanding members were recognized.

A new project this year was to adopt a "grand-parent" from the community. Holidays, special events, and birthdays were some of the activities spent with these "grandparents."

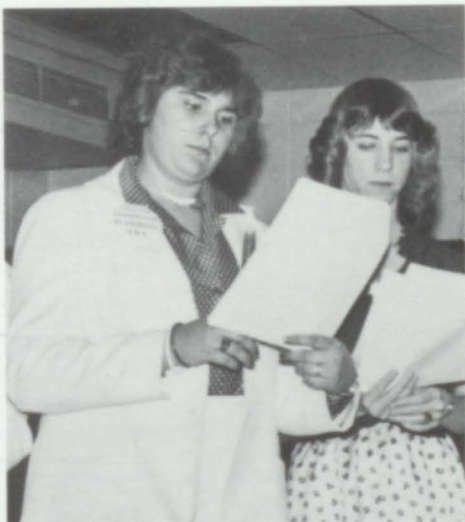

Top are Linda Svendsen, Michelle Krantz, Jeanini Christensen, Karol Birnbaum, and Dana Wentworth having lunch after a meeting. This was a regular and important event after the meetings.

Fund Raisers Held; Chapter Places 29th

Members of the FFA Chapter participated in fund raising projects, such as, selling fruit and magazines; held banquets honoring members; co-sponsored a Christmas dance; and, held a hog roast.

Throughout the year, individual members attended judging contests. They judged land, cattle, crops, etc. They, also, tested their leadership and speaking abilities.

The year came to a climax with the State Convention held in Brookings. The Chapter finished with a ranking of 29th. Their meats judging team placed first in the State.

Twelve In Declam; Debate Out

Declam had twelve students participating in the Sioux Forensics League. The season ran from October through March with the finals in Mitchell.

The team attended eight meets with eight individuals making to the Districts in Rutland and four attending the State meet.

There was not enough interest shown to form a debate group this year.

Dances Held Throughout Year

Dances are held throughout the year for various occasions. They are held in the lunchroom of the high school, Spafford gym, and, at times, the Teen Center.

Different bands, along with records, supply the varied styles of music.

Top are Jeanine Christensen, Ardean Albers, Pam Kneebone, and Steve Clark doing their thing.

Few Show Up; Make Time Count

"Off The Flier Runway" was the theme carried throughout the 1982 yearbook. Time was the main element involved. The few people interested in the outcome of the yearbook spent nights after school, as well as, after supper, putting the pages together.

The price of the annual almost doubled, so the staff tried to make this yearbook something special to remember. They attended workshops, to look at other annuals, to get ideas.

Drill Team Shows Spirit

The drill team worked out routines to a few of the more popular songs and performed them for the public at home games.

The girls, learning new moves, participated in a workshop put on by a student from SDSU at Brookings.

This year's drill team, also, performed at the boys' district in Brookings and the State B's in Sioux Falls.

Being A "Teen"; What It Is Like

In place of a "Spring" concert, the high school chorus presented the musical play, "Teen".

The swing chorus performed their program before the play got underway.

"Teen" is a play within a play about a teenager's life from Friday to Monday. It involves such teenage experiences as first love, dances, birthday parties, teenage rebellion, and feelings of independence.

Classes Unite In Musical Effort

This year, the chorus put together a concert, a musical, and music for Baccalaureate.

The winter concert presented on December 6, consisted of several Christmas selections, including "Carols for Christmas."

The chorus put on the musical "TEEN" about the problems of being a teenager.

The group finished the year by singing at Baccalaureate the songs, "Son of the World" and "So Many Bright Tomorrows."

Performances Given; All-State Chosen

Swing Chorus tryouts were held early in the fall. The group performed at various functions throughout the year, including the Spring Concert, a supper for Governor Janklow, and graduation. Members of the Chorus, also, had major roles in the musical, "Teen."

All-Staters were chosen in the fall, also. They went to Sioux Falls and performed a concert with All-Staters from across the state.

Band Members Receive Superiors

Band students must practice to play well and some, because of this practice, are rewarded with various honors throughout the year. A few received awards for superior ratings at a contest, two from each grade received outstanding band member awards, and the outstanding senior received the John Phillips Sousa Award.

Top is the clarinet quartet, Kris Reed, Tammy Dappen, Denise Wolterstroff, and Marla Johanson. This group received a superior at the music contest.

Uniforms, Concerts Highlight Year

Seventh hour rehearsals, as well as several dreaded early morning rehearsals, were held throughout the year to prepare the band for its public performances.

Three concerts, "Christmas," "Pops," and "Spring," were held during the year.

The band marched in the Homecoming, Hobo, and Veteran's Days parades. New uniforms, which had been ordered in the summer, finally came in time for the band to wear for the Veteran's Day parade.

Rib-tickling All-School Play

The all-school play was put on for the community April 30, 1982. This year's play was entitled "The Skeleton Walks" with a mystery-comedy plot.

The plot was about an evil doctor who tries to find hidden money in a house visited by a family looking at their inheritance. He will go to any extreme to find it. However, he is caught while trying to escape by private detectives.

Special Days Encourage Spirit

During the Fall, Homecoming highlights school activities. Special days, role reversal, slop, sucker, purple and gold, and 50's provide different settings for each school day.

On the eve of Homecoming, Little Orpheum is presented. During the Orpheum skits, students have a chance to display their "theatrical ability." A bonfire/pep rally follows Coronation.

Homecoming day finds the band marching in a parade, and the "big" game taking place that evening along with a dance.

Magical Setting For Banquet, Prom

The Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom were held on Saturday, April 24. The Banquet took place in the basement of Our Saviors Lutheran Church. Pastor Vold gave a prayer before supper, which was catered by Walkers.

The Banquet area was decorated in maroon and silver with yellow roses on the tables. This year's theme, "Hold on Tight To Your Dreams," corresponded to a magical setting.

Tears, Laughter Part Of Farewell

Father Jerome Durzinski delivered the sermon to the 1982 seniors at Senior Vespers on May 16. He talked of loving your neighbor as yourself, doing unto others in the name of God, and showing concern for your classmates and friends.

A former FHS teacher Mr. Craig Hoogestraat, spoke at graduation exercises. The graduating class of 46 carried yellow roses in memory of two classmates. Laughs, tears, and reminiscing were all part of the farewell event that took place on May 23rd.

Top are Matt Burns, Richard Haugen, Todd Peper, Murray McGlone, and Tom Hansen awaiting the start of the graduation exercises.

Far Right is graduation speaker, Mr. Craig Hoogestraat. Mr. Hoogestraat had taught at FHS in the Middle School when the graduating seniors were seventh and eighth graders.

Students Honored At Graduation

There were four main scholarships awarded to seniors this year. They were the George Rice, Wittern, Alice M. Rusch, and the Jelleffe.

Other awards such as American Legion, B&PW, Masonic, O.E.S., P.E.O., and Knights of Columbus were awarded to students who excelled in various social and academic activities.

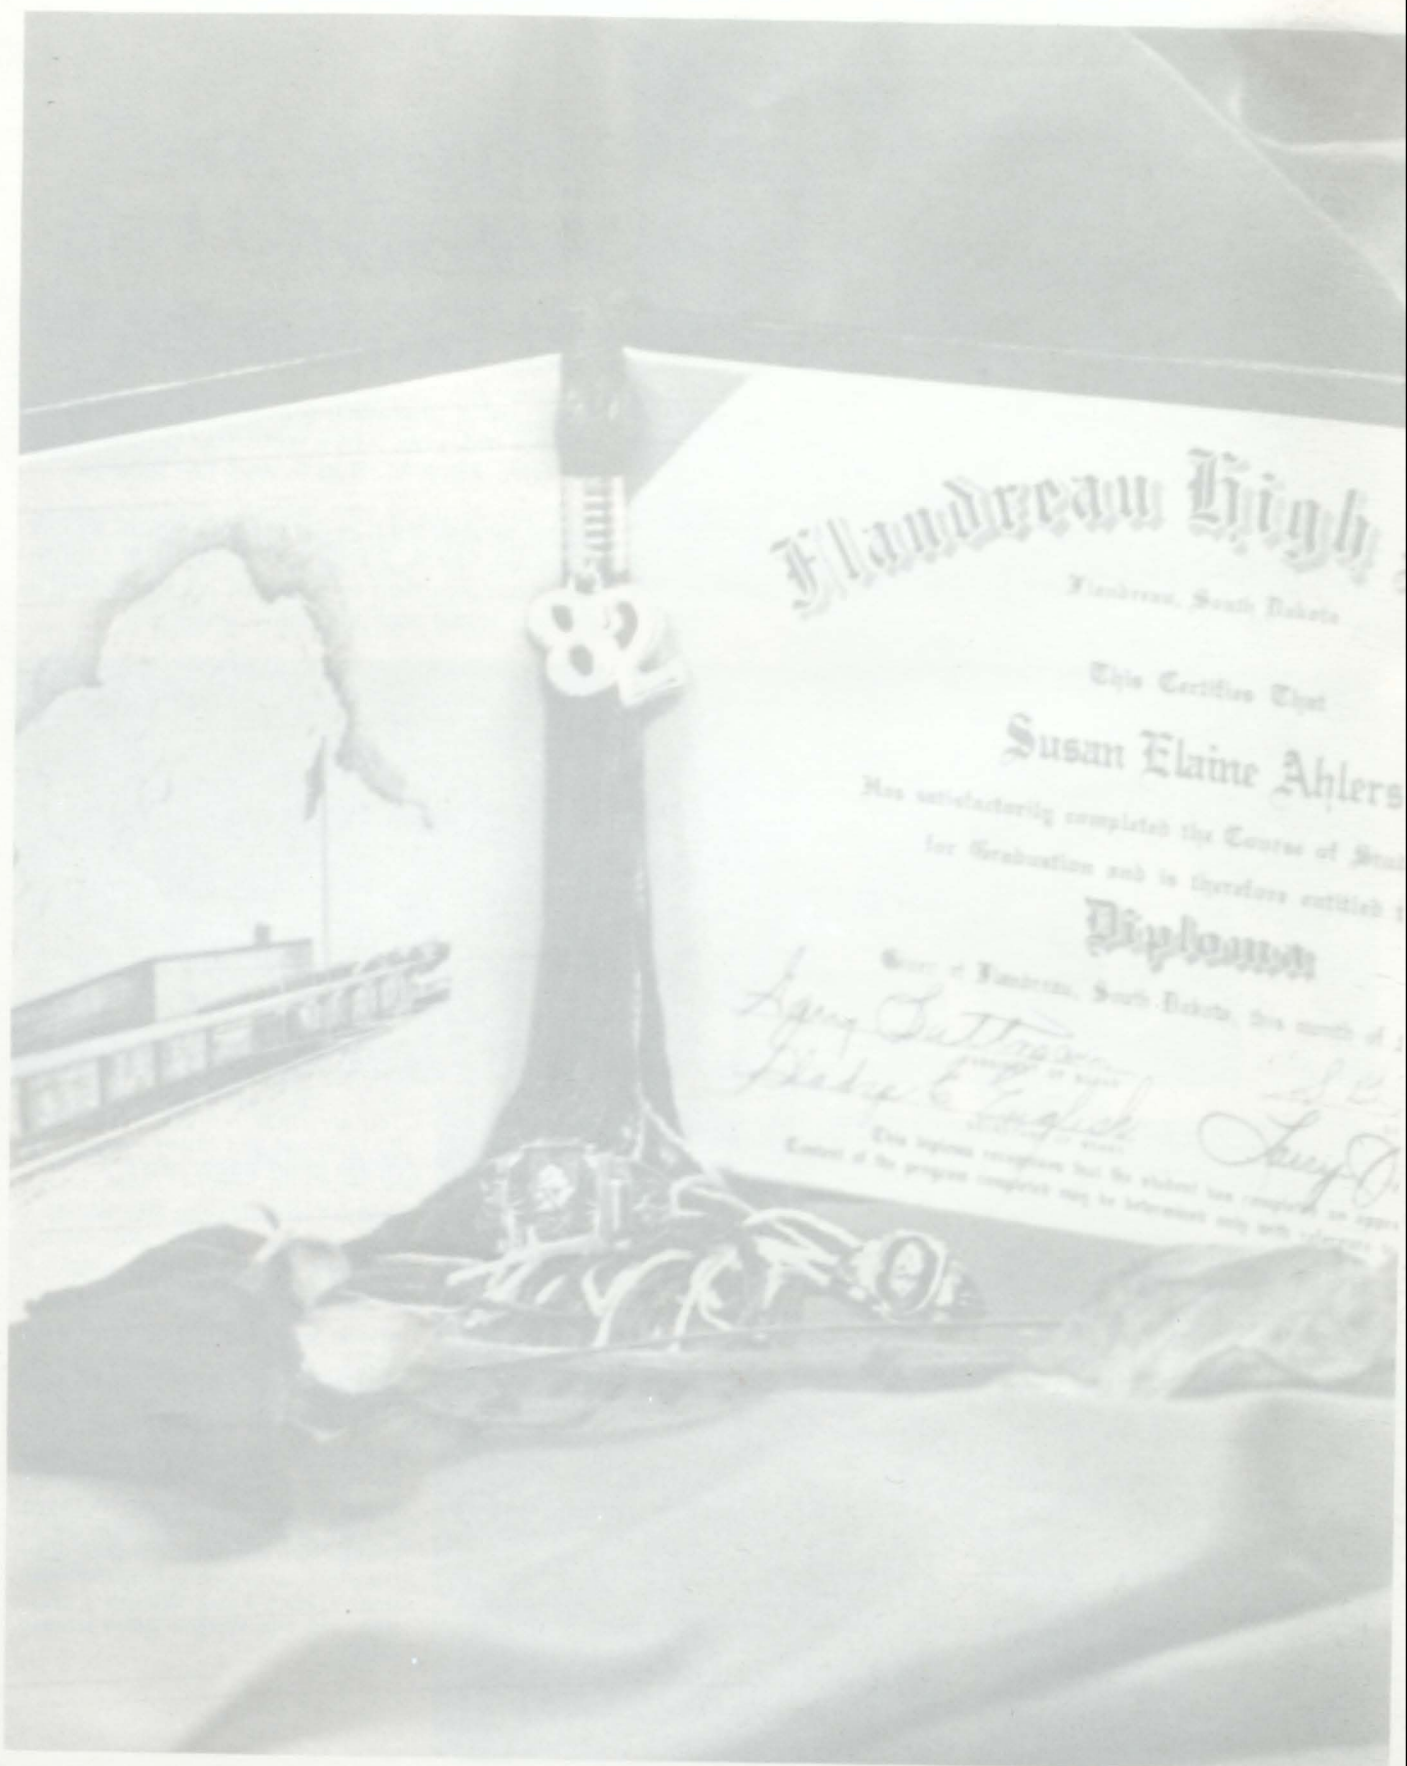

Top are Linda Schreier, recipient of P.E.O. award, and Mindy Petersen, recipient of the B&PW award.

Middle Left are Gerald Ailts, winner of the Masonic award, and Murray McGlone, who received the Knights of Columbus award.

Above are Matt Burns, and Susan Ahlers, recipients of the American Legion awards. Susan, also received the O.E.S. award.
