Only once in a lifetime a person experiences an unforgettable moment in time. It could be a variety of different things, whether it's trying to get a handle on things so the rest of high school will go smoothly, moving up a step on the high school totem pole, or finally making it to graduation. Either way it was a trying experience. We have all managed to make it out just a little bit stronger than we were before, and maybe a bit smarter too.

With all the activities throughout the year, people have managed to keep themselves busy, from homecoming, plays, prom, sports, concerts and homework, to graduation.

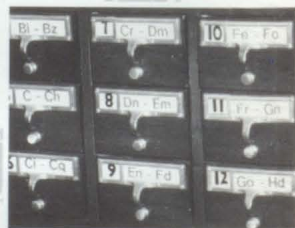

Even though we might experience some of the things we have done this year again, they will never be the same because it only happens once in a lifetime.

Had there been a theme song for this year's FFA events, then this would have been it! Flandreau FFA members created many memorable moments this year whether it was with lifelong friends or new ones they met along the way.

The year-long party began in the summer when the six member officer team traveled to Custer, SD to attend Leadership Camp.

event was "the most fun she had in FCCLA all year" because she got to meet new people and attend fun workshops. Another activity FCCLA did was the penny wars. The senior class won this competition by collecting the most pennies. All in all, the chapter raised $126.55 for the Flandreau Breadbasket during this contest. All of these activities, along with others, made it a fun year in FCCLA.

Once upon a time, there was a group of Flandreau High Schoolers who talked, and talked, and talked some more. Why did they talk all the time? Simple: They are members of the Oral Interp team.

Members went to six scheduled meets and put in hours of practice to perfect their pieces. Members can compete in such categories as

At the beginning of the year when everyone asks, "Will you sign my yearbook?" do you really think of the people who put it together? Cheerleaders spend season creating new routines with younger students while having fun at the same time

by Ashley Ahlers

The spirit at FHS was very high with much help from the cheerleaders. Practices were started at the end of June going every Wednesday. Many cheerleaders worked hard to new routines, floor cheers, chants, stunts and making posters to decorate the gym. All squads were busy trying to find new ways to improve themselves. Sophomore Angie Lee states, "It was fun making up new dance routines and cheering with my squads."

"The best part about cheerleading was during Homecoming making up new dance routines, cheers and chants," said Sophomore Kelsey Blum.

As a fund-raiser the cheerleaders held a cheer camp for grades one-six. The cheerleaders worked very hard to perfect a routine for all grades.

The cheerleaders were able to raise money to be put into the Cheerleading fund, and had fun teaching future cheerleaders. The girls that participated in the cheer camp were able to perform during halftime of a home boys' basketball game.

by Ashley Ahlers

An early start for the Flier football team gave the players some warmer weather to work with. The Fliers started the season out with a 1-3 record. The team was lead by eleven seniors. For the first time under the coaching of Chris Long, the Fliers passed the first round playoffs, through the quarterfinals, and finally to the semifinals. In the semifinals the Fliers had a chance to prove themselves and go to the dome to play West Central. The Fliers ended the season with a sad loss to Belle Fourche and no trip to the Dome. "Things don't usually go the way you want them to, but together we are in it," said Senior Collin Jacobs.

There were many highs during the season. Joyful cheers rang through the air as the Fliers beat McCook Central 30-6 to win FHS's Homecoming game. The Fliers spoiled the Bulldog's Homecoming game with a 15-8 win over Madison. "The season didn't go off as expected but in the end we proved a lot of people wrong," said Senior Ross Bowman.

GOODBYE

Seven Seniors Say

By Jessica Ellefson

The 2000 girls' basketball team got off to a good start with seven wins and no losses until Homecoming week. The team won the main Homecoming event against McCook Central 49-33. However, the second game of the week was lost to Dell Rapids. This year was also the third year of being invited to the Hanson Classic in Mitchell where the girls lost to Clark by two points.

This year's team was led by seven seniors. They each led equally in all areas to make a winning basketball team. Senior Amanda Zephier led the team with 48 percent of her two-point shots made. Mona Zephier, a Senior, led the team in free throws with 49 made. Senior Andrea Gullickson led the team in rebounds. The team averaged 52 points per game.

The girls' season ended during the first round of the District 4A tournament where they lost to Madison 57-55.

"Overall the season was full of ups and downs, but it was fun playing with a great bunch of girls," said Senior Angie Duncan.

Amidst the cold temperatures on race day, the Cross Country team's quality of performance soared to great heights this year for FHS by finishing with fourth place at regions.

The boy's team qualified as expected, given their history of running excellence, and were able to add a twelfth place to their banner.

Most of the runners individually claim to have had a great year. Senior Charles Knutson shares one of his many great memories gathered in his high school running career. "One day we went out of town about six miles and Coach Keyes made us run in. So Darin, Tony and I made a day of it. We threw corn, ran through corn and jumped from (hay)bale to bale. It was a great day."

The outsider could not imagine how great the feeling is of approaching the finish line and knowing they gave their all. What they take with them is just as awesome: the confidence, determination, endurance and friendship. All things that will be taken with to run the rest of their life's race.

Runners strive to go the extra mile

Senior calls student body to be "corn haulers" for District Tournament

by Kim Schmidt

As two opponents step onto the mat, they shake hands. Three...two...one, what is your next move? The Fliers wrestling season started strong and ended with Sophomore Ryan Reed taking sixth place at the State Tournament.

Head Coach Travis Barthels and his team endured many injuries during the year: Sophomore Beau Severtson-knee, Junior Brent Belkham-shoulder, Senior Joe Rydell-knee and Junior Ernie Claflin-ear. Flandreau overcame the challenges of having injuries and took third in the Conference and second at Regions.

Sophomore Tate Sutton led the team in takedowns with 69 while Senior Jacob Parsley led escapes with 32.

Parsley, Ross Bowman, Rydell and Cody Chamblin served as the team's Seniors and Co-Captains. Let's not forget all of Jake's analogies! Parsley compared the wrestling season to many things, one of them being the harvesting of corn. In an effort to spur excitement, Parsley asked members of the student body to "help haul corn" at the District Tournament and cheer on the team.

Providing leadership and dependability, seven seniors led the Flier team in the right direction. They started off the season with three straight wins. The pot-holes in the road soon showed up, however, filling in with dry spells, miscues and upsets. The season was full of ups and downs.

Ending up second in the conference was thrilling, but also heartbreaking. Thrilling for coming so close, but heartbreaking in the sense that senior Maren Skroch, a big part of the team, would finish the season then and there with a shoulder injury.

The team played well in spite of the loss, winning Districts for the second straight year to face Clark at Regions.

Many times this season they were so close, yet so far away.

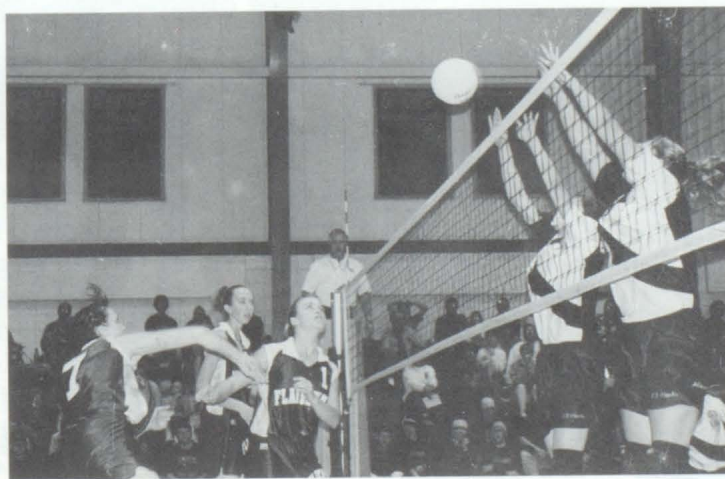

"We had a lot of ups and downs this year, but nevertheless, we pulled through when we needed to. We had a fun season, and made a lot of memories, and I think everyone will agree that the seniors will be missed," said Sophomore Alison Ramsdell.

Basketball players find their season in a fire of emotions

by Courtney Jones

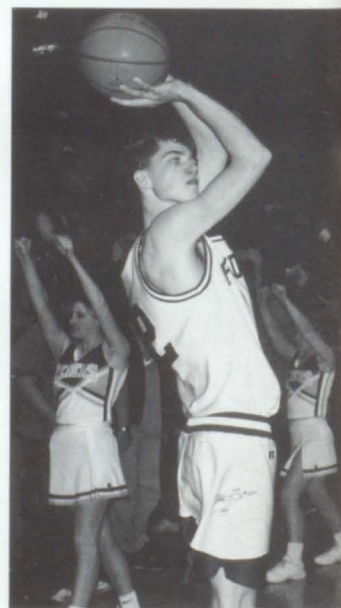

The Flier Boys Basketball team made up of seven seniors, four juniors and two sophomores, started off the season with a bang winning their first eight games. Their first two losses came to West Central, however. Going downhill from there, the rest of the season went up in flames with a few sparks along the way. The injury to Senior Brett Erickson was a setback. Junior Jeremiah Peterson filled his starting spot and it turned into a more positive experience while Erickson was away.

Getting third in the Conference was one of the few happy moments that the team enjoyed the rest of the season.

They did get one step further in Districts, going to the second round by beating Madison, but falling short to Sioux Valley.

Senior Aaron Boysen said, "Basketball was a unique experience and that is all I have to say about that."

For both the girls' and boys' teams the season got off to a slow start at the Husky Invite placing fourth and sixth respectively. However, the girls' strengthened the rest of the year with placings in the top two for five of the ten meets. A first place finish at the Region 3B meet brought four members, Senior Kris Solem, Junior Jessica Jewett and Freshmen Kacie Fodness and Laura Reinfeld to the State competition. Together, the team placed thirteenth while Jewett received second place honors with a score of 173.

Competition in the boys'

arena was largely dominated by the Dell Rapids team who shut out their opponents in five of the nine meets before the State B's. The Flier boys, however, consistently finished within the top three at most events. Senior Shaun Powers and Junior Mike Drennen advanced to state competition but did not place.

Head Coach Chris Long summed up the season by stating, "We had to overcome a lot of obstacles like having no course to play on and cold weather, but we improved steadily all year long and played our best golf at the end."

After getting a late start on the season due to rain and flooding, the track team managed to still have a medal winning season. The team was led by twelve seniors, eight juniors, sixteen sophomores, eleven freshmen and even one eighth grader. Some season highlights as a team for girls include first at Beresford and the CVC meet, and second at Hamlin Banana Relays, Bunker Relays in Madison and the Sioux Valley Invite. As for the boys, they placed first at Beresford and second at Hamlin, Madison, Sioux Valley and the CVC meet. A school record was broken at Howard Wood by the medley relay, a composition of Leslie Johnson, Stephanie Bechen, Ashley Blum and Ramona Zephier. Many people were fortunate to qualify for state before the region track meet.

What are the major differences between Middle and High School?

Step...

"In high school you are treated more like an adult and you get to have pop in study hall."

~Erin Thomas

"You are treated more like an adult and your classes have much more of an effect on your life."

"In high school you get more homework than in middle school. We don't get bossed around that much."

~Kelci Dickey

"In high school the classes you select and your performance in those classes have much more of an impact on your future, so you try harder."

~Brian Kontz

"High school has a lot more people and it seems everyone knows everyone. Going into high school is scary, but only before you actually start high school."

~Tina Amdahl

People filled the halls dressed for the occasion. The crowds cheered. The music blared until the students' eardrums rang. This could have been no other occasion than Homecoming. Each day held a unique adventure for different reasons to dress up and pretend for a day you were some one else. Monday was old-fashioned prom day. Tuesday allowed students to dress as their favorite celebrities.

Wednesday brought students back to the hippie era. Thursday was a mixture of trendy Hawaiian outfits and rugged camouflage. Friday gave students the chance to show the entire town how much flier spirit flows within. Senior Danielle Rosheim won best overall dressed girl for the week. Kyle Wiese, also a senior, was the winner for the guys. Ms. Nielson won for the teachers showing her expertise in clothing for the events. On Friday students braved the cold, rainy weather to put on a parade through the town to raise the spirits of the community. The homecoming game started with an unknown outcome that night. However, the outcome became very clear by half-time. Flandreau won against McCook with a score of 30-6. The following night the Homecoming dance was held to celebrate the victory. Senior Kim Schmidt said, "I liked it (the dance) on Saturday night because it was different."

Q: What did you enjoy most about the Plays?

A: "The best thing about the All-School play was that Luke skipped two pages of the script."

Andy Lacey, 11

Robert DeNiro. A husband who leaves his family. A plan to cover up an attempted suicide. What do these have in common? No, its not a low-budget movie plot -- they were all pivotal parts of the plays put on by Flandreau High School students this year.

This spring the One Act plays were run a bit differently. Instead of doing one play, two were performed for judges to determine which would go on to the regional contest in Madison. One play, Waltzing DeNiro, was about none other than actor Robert DeNiro. Joanna begins dating DeNiro and, much to her dismay, her best friend does not believe her. The second play, and the one chosen to compete at regions, Fumed Oak, contained a dark comedy where an unhappy father decides to leave his annoying wife, mother-in-law and daughter.

The All-School play was Neil Simon's Rumors. In the play, a handful of guests at an anniversary party try to figure out why the host shot his ear off and where his wife has run off to, all while keeping the whole ordeal a secret from the rest of the guests.

The lights are low, the music high. People are dancing and laughing with all of their friends. Prom was a very exciting and memorable night for many.

Junior Elissa Weatherly said of her prom night experience, "Even though the group that I was with left the dance early, we all had a blast. More people kept coming all the time. Everyone looked all dressed up and so nice!"

Candidates for prom queen were: Lachelle Ahlers, Jennifer Bruning, Sara Sorensen and Mona Zephier. Candidates for King were Brady Olson, Collin Jacobs, Jacob Parsley and Shaun Powers. Those chosen as Prom King and Queen were Aaron Boysen and Maren Skroch.

The theme for prom, chosen by the Junior class, was "These are the moments" as was the song "These are the moments" by Edwin McCain.

The night ended with an After-Prom party sponsored by the Junior class parents. Students traveled to the Madison Community Center for swimming, sports, games and prizes.

Q: What are you most looking forward to after graduation?

A: "I am most looking forward to getting out of Flandreau and being able to experience new things on my own. I have had a wonderful time at FHS, but it is time to spread my wings and move on."

Maren Skroch

A: "I am most looking forward to getting to boot camp. I can't wait to become a US Marine. I am really anxious to earn a lot of respect."

Robert Arnold

For the seventy-four seniors of the Class of 2001, May 19th brought the end of thirteen years of school. The ceremony began with The Graduation Song sung by the Flandreau High School Chorus. A plaque was presented to the Bennett family and the school by Student Body President Shaun Powers, Antoni Martin and Jessica Elverud in honor of Blaine's memory. Next, commencement speaker Mr. Jason Schramm spoke to the seniors on what it takes to be a success.

Senior Class President Brady Olson took a few minutes to remind the class of just a few memories they have shared over the years. Following Olson's address, Stephanie Kontz sang I Will Remember You. Diplomas were then handed out. Roses were given to those special to the seniors while Lori Schmidt sang The Rose.

Before leaving the gym for the final time during high school, silly string flew and many hugs were shared, for these Flandreau High School students were now Flandreau High School alumni.

New Alumni

Evans retires after 31 years

by Nate Gould

Mr. John Evans will retire at the end of this school year in May of 2001. He has been a part of Flandreau High School for thirty-one years. He was born on October 11, 1941 in Mitchell, SD. He attended Kadoka High School, then Dakota Wesleyan, and then on to South Dakota State University for his Mastery degree. He then came to Flandreau and from then on has been a part of the FHS staff. He also participated in coaching. His first task in coaching began in junior high as a football, basketball and track coach which lasted for a while, but he gradually moved out of junior high sports. After that experience, he took on high school sports as assistant track coach for fourteen years and moved to head coach for seventeen years while also serving as the assistant football coach for twenty-eight years.

When asked what was the best part of Flandreau, Evans said, "Flandreau has always had good people to work with, the students and staff, but it's been a lot of fun." He also stated he was going to miss the interaction with the students and staff.

Mr. Evans plans on taking it easy right away for the upcoming year, painting in the summer, and looking for something to do.

Senior Charles Knutson said about Evans, "I enjoy running for him and he's going to be greatly missed."

• KICK BACK AND RELAX •

Mr. John Evans finishes up loose ends before leaving FHS for the final time.

• QUOTEABLE QUOTE •

"It took me thirty-one years to graduate. For the most part, it's been just what I've wanted to do."

"Working on the yearbook: words can not describe the trials and tribulations that I have endured throughout these four years; long, hot, sunless days emmersed in darkroom chemicals so only the purest pictures are developed; motionless hours sifting through thousands of photos to fill 92 pristine pages; days and nights, to and fro, mean and happy people tolerated in order to obtain a Pulitzer prize winning photo. All this pain and suffering for YRBK Week: five days of celebration to honor the glorious result - the yearbook."

"I can't begin to imagine all of the hours I've spent in the computer lab these past four years. Putting the entire yearbook together takes an incredible amount of work, but it's all worthwhile when the book comes back. I can take pride in saying that I helped create it, no matter how good or bad it is. I just hope everyone realizes that ten years from now."

• EVERYDAY PROCEDURE •

• MOVING OUT •

Senior Melissa Dickey packs up her books into a suitcase in order to haul them all home at the end of the school year.

• FRIENDS •

Senior Laura Eng shows her affection for her friend Dick Prouty at the band's performance for the Girls' Basketball State A's in Watertown.

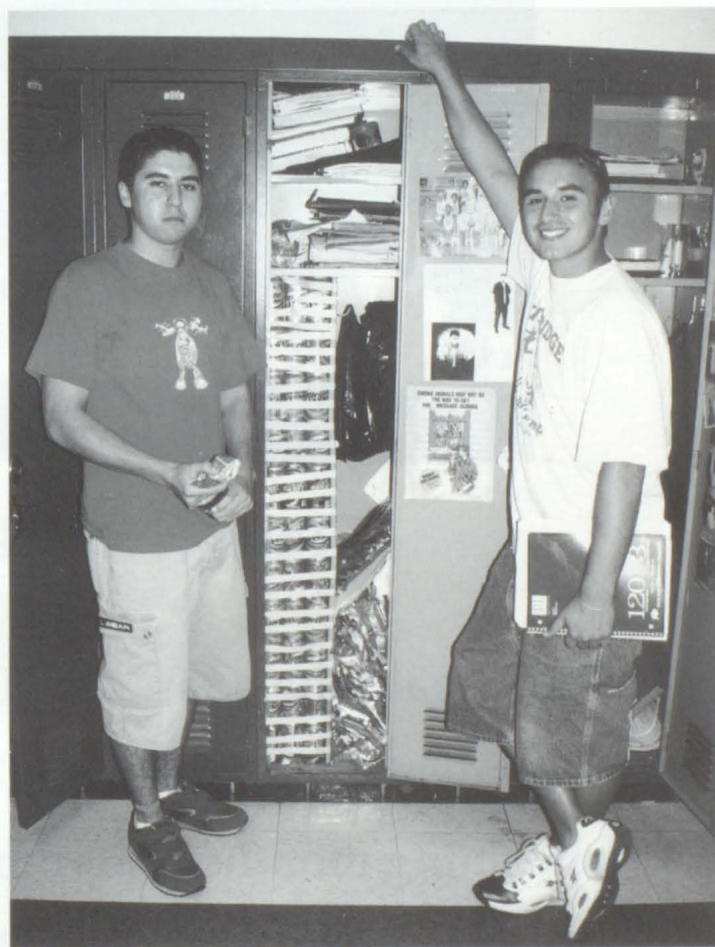

• SNOWBOUND •

The Rock found itself buried most of the winter in a snow drift. Despite the long winter and high banks, Mr. Jason Schramm noticed it and referred to it as "The Golden Nugget of Education" in his graduation address.

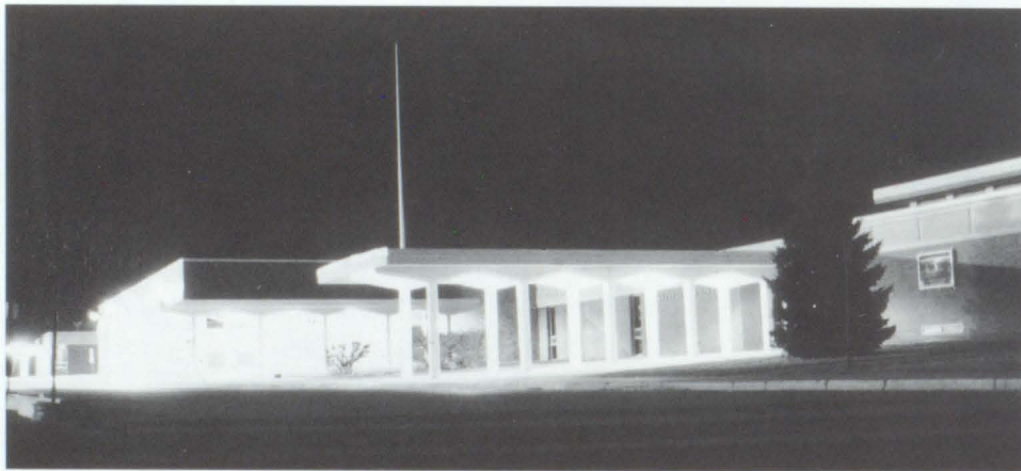

• COLLECTOR'S EDITION •

Above: Seniors Dave Forman and Nate Gould show off their collection of Mello Yello cans and chip bags accumulated from the entire year.

Two Thousand ONE.

Flandreau High School

Once again the doors at FHS close for the summer as students and faculty look forward to enjoying the upcoming months free from books, pens, papers and classrooms. The final bell has rung for the year two-thousand ONE.

Flanagan High School

Once again the Flanagan High School for the summer as students look forward to enjoying the upcoming months of summer, sports, camps, parties and classrooms. The Flanagan High School for the year two thousand and ONE.
