THE NEW GYMNASIUM.

Proposed Plans.

The trustees have announced that, sometime in the near future, they expect to erect a splendid gymnasium, which will be one of the finest in the country. Plans for this building are now under consideration, and a campaign to raise the necessary amount of money will soon be entered upon. The building will be of the same general plan of architecture as the school, and will probably be built near the spot upon which the tackling dummy stood last fall. The structure will be between 150 and 175 feet long. On the bottom floor, facing the track, will be two entrances for the teams. The athletes will enter the building over a cinder stretch which will extend on both sides of the track. On one side of the first floor, there will be locker rooms, rubbing rooms, showers, etc., for the home team. On the corresponding side of the building will be locker rooms for visiting teams, some of which can be utilized by the main student body, if necessary. Between these rooms will be a heated swimming pool, about 100 feet long and half as wide. This pool will be used in both Summer and Winter, and will be fed with the purest of water. For the spectators to watch the swimming, there will be a half floor or gallery, while there will also be spaces around the pool which will be available for visitors.

The main entrance to the building will be from the side opposite the team entrances, facing Roland Park. This entrance will be an outside covered staircase going directly to the second floor. Here you will enter a rectangular trophy room, which will be decorated with banners and pennants, as well as footballs and baseballs, while around the wall will be hung shields with the school athletic records engraved upon them. To the left and right of the trophy room will be offices for the athletic director, testing and equipment rooms, and manager's offices. Adjoining these will be locker rooms for those players who are not on the varsity.

CHRISTMAS GIFT OF MISSION ASSOCIATION.

The Mission Association collected, at the close of the Autumn term, a sum of $23.75, which was sent as a Christmas gift to the Locust Point Social Settlement Association. When Miss Loudon, Superintendent of the Settlement, wrote to express her appreciation of the gift, she extended an invitation to any boys who would care to, to come down to Locust Point and see what work was being done among the poor there. She said that in addition to the gift from the Gilman Country School, they had received presents from Park, Friends' and Calvert Schools, and also from Smith, Holyoke and Goucher Colleges.

THE CHRISTMAS TREE THEFT.

As most of the boys of the school know, in the corner of the school property between Belvedere Avenue and the railroad tracks, there is a group of young evergreens. These are just the size for small Christmas trees, and at Christmas, 1912, some were stolen for that purpose. So this Christmas, about the 15th of December, Tom Oldham stationed a guard there to see that it should not happen again. The guard consisted of three shifts: one man all day, one man from 7 to 12 P. M., and one from 12 to 7 A. M. These men kept their guard carefully, and while they were there nothing happened. But one week before Christmas, the 17th, the day man went to eat his dinner at 12 o'clock, and returned at 12.30. But the damage was done! Six of the finest of the trees had been stolen, and there were no traces. Whoever took the trees must have been a finished artist in his line. From that time until Christmas no more attempts were made.

VARSITY 7, FACULTY 1.

On Saturday, January 10, the Faculty was humbled by Captain Davis' soccer team to the tune of 7 to 1. The fast school forwards found no difficulty in evading the Faculty backs and shot for goal again and again. Davis' goal shooting and Ellicott's defensive work were of the highest order. Mr. H. Froelicher shot the Faculty's goal while Mr. Morrow played well at center halfback.

THE WORLD'S TOUR OF THE GIANTS AND THE WHITE SOX.

The New York National League and the Chicago American League baseball players arrived in Yokohama, Japan, after a very rough sea voyage from Vancouver. Because of the delay in reaching Japan, only two games were played there. After leaving Japan the two teams expect to stop at Cairo, Alexandria, Africa, Philippines and Australia, finally reaching home in March; one month before the opening of the Big League Season.

THE DRAMATIC ASSOCIATION PLAY.

"The Ladies' Battle."

The Dramatic Association has decided to have its annual play on March 27, at Lehmann's Hall. Formerly the play has been staged at the Belvedere, but the larger space at Lehmann's Hall made it seem more suitable. The piece chosen is a comedy, entitled "The Ladies' Battle," translated from the famous French drama "Un duel en Amour." The time of representation will be one hour and forty minutes, and the period is 1816. The scene is laid in the castle of the Countess D'Autreval. Monsieur Henri de Flavigneul, condemned as the chief of a Bonapartist plot, flees to the home of his mother's friend, the Countess D'Autreval, a beautiful widow about thirty-two years old. Here Henri acts as a servant, his character known only to the Countess. Leonie de la Villegre, who is a niece of the Countess and is staying with her, does not like Henri at first, because of his bearing, seemingly very insolent for a servant. However, when riding one day, her horse runs away and is stopped by Henri, who discloses his identity to her. This makes her fall madly in love with him, but she does not know that her Aunt also loves de Flavigneul. The Countess in turn is loved by Monsieur Gustave de Grignon, who supplies most of the comedy in the play.

In the second act, the Baron de Montrichard, a prefect of police, comes to the Château D'Autreval, hunting for Henri, who, as he has been informed, is concealed there. He asks for an interview with the Countess, who has twice before tricked him in similar cases. The Countess tells him to make himself at home and find Henri if he can. Henri deceives the Baron by promising him to aid in his search for de Flavigneul. The Baron in an interview with Leonie discovers that Henri is in the house in disguise, and this discovery is confirmed by Henri himself who asserts that he believes such to be the case.

GILMAN NEWS, ROLAND PARK, MD.

JANUARY 13, 1914.

We give you greeting and look hopefully for your welcome. We come before you not with the assurance of Minerva springing full-armed from the head of Jove, nor do we plead the helplessness of our first words. We feel that we have discovered a definite need in our school. We come with a moderate yet essential amount of confidence, and a great deal of courage to fulfill that need. For want of other medium we beg to present ourselves: THE GILMAN NEWS.

The purposes of our paper are as follows: To bring before all those interested in the Gilman Country School frequent and reliable news of the school and all its activities; to publish other news that may be profitable and of interest to the school; and lastly to foster and give expression to that most essential homage due Alma Mater, namely: "School Spirit."

If we claim confidence in our purposes it is because we feel that you whom we reach—boys, faculty, alumni, parents, trustees, and less intimately concerned friends of the school—will gladly assume in our enterprise the responsibility of tendering us your hearty support. If we claim courage, the measure of success which we attain in the fulfillment of our purposes will tell whether the claim is just.

THE PRESS CLUB.

Its Foundation and Development.

The Press Club was founded, at the suggestion of Mr. Mitchell Froelicher in March, 1913. At that time it consisted of three members: R. H. Randall, '15, President; D. K. E. Bruce, '15; and S. P. Nelson, '14. The aim of the association was to give the members experience in writing for daily papers and, also, to advertise the School. It was proposed that at certain intervals, a member of the association should to to the headmaster, the masters, and the trustees to find out if they had any news for publication.

The first work was done toward the close of the 1913 soccer season. Sometimes, the papers published short notices or accounts of the games. Then came baseball and, in writing this up, the association was fairly successful. Most of the games which were reported were published, but in most cases the reports were abbreviated. However, the members worked untiringly and, consequently, a way had been paved for further development the next Fall.

When school opened in September, it was deemed advisable to take in two more members. H. M. Steele, '14, and T. B. S. Denham, '16, were elected; the rest of the association remaining the same.

When the first football game was played on October 8, it was no difficulty to persuade the papers to publish a full account. For the rest of the season, the evening papers generally published notices of the games, and the lineup, while the morning papers published reviews of the games. This was the case during the rest of the term. The papers kept allotting the Press Club more and more space, not only in their sporting columns, but also in the society and local news sections. Finally, an agreement was made with The Baltimore Sun, whereby it was to publish, twice a week, news concerning the school. Also, the association was asked by the New York Sunday Sun to send them news every week. During the Winter term, the Press Club will be more active than ever before, and eventually will certainly become one of the most important and most widely recognized of the School's activities.

THE GOLF CLUB.

Early in October, Mr. Pine assembled the boys of the school who were interested in the formation of a golf club. Interest was shown immediately, for twenty-four boys attended the meeting. After a close vote, in which Boone, Dickey and Pulling were candidates, Dickey was elected president. The officers of the club are as follows: W. D. Dickey, '15; President; T. J. E. Pulling, '16, Vice-President; and W. K. Boone, '16, Treasurer. The officers set to work at once, and soon procured the necessary equipment.

Thanks to Tom Oldham and his assistants, a course was laid out that is really very good, when the difficulties and nature of the ground are taken into consideration. Some of the putting greens are still quite rough, but are improving with age. So, in fact, is the whole course.

With the advent of the course came a fresh influx of members, swelling the total to thirty-five boys. As some of the masters seemed anxious to play golf, it was unanimously decided that the masters be granted the privilege of using the course. Golf became quite popular among both boys and masters, and everything was running along in great shape. The members of the club were requested to hand in scores to the president for handicapping, and quite a few did so.

Naturally a tournament was looked for. It was impossible to have one until the football season closed, because almost all the boys were playing football. So as soon as the Dunham's game was over, a tournament was arranged by the President. The members were handicapped as fairly as possible, and given plenty of time in which to play. Each entrant was to play nine holes, stating before he started to someone else his intention of playing tournament and playing with someone.

The tournament progressed fairly well, although not as many played as were expected. Several surprises were sprung. Edward Pulling, the Vice-President, probably the best player in the club, who had the smallest handicap, was considerably off color when he played the tournament, and only netted 42. John Crossan Cooper, Jr., the winner, showed remarkable form, scoring 40, netting 25. Incidentally, his 40 was the best score made during the tournament. Lawrence Townsend was second, netting 28. David Bruce came in third very unexpectedly, netting 30. James H. Scott had the honor of winning the "booby" prize, netting 45. The prizes were well worth winning consisting of: 1st, a solid silver loving cup; 2nd, one dozen golf balls; and the "booby," a book about golf.

From present indications, the future of golf in the Gilman Country School seems to be bright, not only for this year, but for the years to come. To be sure, golf is not a Winter game, though sometimes the condition of the ground permits of it. Possibly a tournament may be arranged before Easter, but this is doubtful. In the Spring, however, golf should be quite popular, and there will be a big tournament.

Let it be thoroughly understood that all masters, trustees, alumni, and friends of the school are always welcome to use the course, and discover that golf at the school is not merely a theory, but substantial fact. The oftener they come, the better.

MR. PINE'S WEEK-END TRIP.

Feeling the need of a little relaxation, Mr. Pine decided to take a few days' holiday in Atlantic City. Accompanied by Mrs. Pine and his son James, he left Baltimore Friday, January 2, had luncheon in Philadelphia, with several of his Hill School friends, and arrived at Atlantic City Friday evening. While there they could not enjoy Atlantic City in the regular tourist fashion, as there was too much bad weather even to be wheeled much. But to make up for this, they were treated to a view of the most violent storm seen at Atlantic City for thirty years. The waves were mountain high, affording Mr. and Mrs. Pine an interesting sight by beating to pieces old Young's pier, and partly demolishing a new iron pier. The party returned Monday evening, the fifth, declaring themselves very much pleased with their trip.

Unless we are again disappointed by our artist, we shall, by the time of our next issue, have a special and appropriate design for our heading. We trust this will add greatly to the appearance of THE GILMAN NEWS.

BASEBALL AND TRACK CAGE.

Early in the Spring, a cage will probably be built for the baseball and track teams to practice in. Hitherto, there has never been any available space for the baseball and track teams to get into condition, and both should improve with the advantage of this new facility.

INQUIRY COLUMN.

All inquiries made for this column must be written and handed to one of the editors of the paper.

Q. What is the average number of hairs upon an adult's head?

A. Between 129,000 and 150,000. If you do not believe it, count them.

Q. What is the most expensive bridge ever built and what was its cost.

A. The Tower Bridge across the Thames. It took 8 years to build and cost $48,610,000.

Q. What army in the world has the largest peace strength.

A. Russia with 1,200,000 men.

Q. Where did the Christmas tree originate?

A. In Egypt. The palm tree is known to put forth a branch every month and a spray of this tree, with 12 shoots on it, was used in Egypt at the time of the winter solstice, as a symbol of the year completed.

Q. What was the greatest financial loss ever inflicted by a great fire?

A. Over $200,000,000 by a fire in Chicago October 8 and 9, 1871.

NEW BOYS.

Since Christmas two new boys have joined the school. One of them is William Bradford Robbins, Tom Robbin's younger brother. He is a student in the Open Air department, and what might be termed a "vest-pocket edition" of his older brother. The other new-comer is from Cincinnati, by name Henry Du Barry Knowler. He is a fourth former. Another change in the school is that Janon Fisher formerly a day boy, has become a five-day boarder, and is rooming with Tom Robbins.

THREE MERCERSBURG STARS LEAVE.

Arthur S. Robinson of Westboro, Mass., one of America's fastest sprinters, and Goelitz and Cantwell, two scholastic stars have been dismissed from Mercersburg Academy, because of alleged infraction of the rules of that institution.

Robinson is said to have run the 100-yard dash in 9 3-5 seconds and 220 in 20 4-5. His record is still under consideration by the national record committee of the Amateur Athletic Union.

Goelitz is very fast in the sprint. He has done the high hurdles in 25 seconds and the low in 25, and pole vaulted 11 feet 6 inches, and has made a mark of 5 feet 9 inches in the high jump. Cantwell is one of the best athletes in Chicago, where he lives. It is expected that these men will go to some big university and participate in athletics there.

PANAMA CANAL READY IN 61 DAYS.

The Panama Canal will be in condition to pass vessels all the way across the Isthmus within the next nine weeks the only remaining obstacles to prevent the passages of vessels at this moment are land slides. No attempt has been made to fix a definite date for the opening of the canal, as several months must be spent in training the operating force before the waterway is opened to commerce.

TENNIS ELECTION

At a meeting of the tennis association, W. Duvall Dickey, '15, was unanimously elected manager of the tennis team for 1914. A captain will be elected early in the Spring. In the meanwhile, Dickey will work on his schedule.

ITS BASEBALL SCHEDULE.

Manager Andrew H. Hilgartner of the Johns Hopkins baseball team announced this morning the completion of the Black and Blue schedule for this year.

Coach Eddie Hooper will hold the first practice in the cage on January 23. In the meantime Captain Porter is trying to unearth promising diamond stars.

The Schedule:

March 21—Rock Hill College, place undecided.

March 28—Princeton at Princeton.

April 4—Maryland Aggies at Homewood.

April 11—Holy Cross at Homewood.

April 14—University of Virginia at Charlottesville.

 squad. Facing the entrance to the trophy room, there will be a large door, leading into the gymnasium, which will be used on the occasion of dances and plays. Except on these occasions, the spectators will mount two circular flights of stairs, on each side of this door, which lead to a gallery supported by stanchions from the gymnasium floor. At the junction of these stairs will be the school emblem; such as, for instance, the Tiger in the Princeton trophy room. The contestants will enter the gymnasium by iron staircases leading from the locker rooms on the first floor. The gymnasium itself will be about as long as the present one is wide, and will be completely equipped with all the necessary paraphernalia. Back of it will be a row of rooms to be used for boxing, wrestling, fencing, and such sports.

For use in the spring, and in good weather, there will be an open air gymnasium into which apparatus from the main gymnasium can be readily transferred.

The cost of these buildings will be very great, but the trustees realize the growing necessity for them and have definitely determined to erect them.

BASEBALL.

The National and American League baseball seasons will probably open on Tuesday, April 14, and close on October 4, so that the World's series can be played before the cold weather arrives.

In Act three the Countess persuades the devoted de Grignon to pretend that he is Monsieur de Flavigneul and to try to escape. The result is that De Grignon obeys and is captured by the aid of Henri. Henri is dismissed by the Countess, who pretends that she is angry with him and is sent to St. Andeol by the Baron. On his way there he is told that De Grignon will be hung and he returns, unwilling that an innocent man should die in his place. Previous to this, before his escape, he had asked the Countess how he could ever reward her. She had answered saying that all she desired was his love, as she loved him. The Countess hides him again. De Montrichard receives a despatch and tells the Countess that Henri is free. By this means he is captured. Just as Henri is to be led away the Baron obtains his revenge by stating that the despatch is an amnesty, and Henri is pardoned. Leonie then confesses to the Countess that Henri and she love each other, but that Henri is going to marry someone else because it is his duty. Just at this time Henri enters and the Countess makes him free to marry Leonie and bids them be happy. Thus the play ends.
