

Participate Schools Overview

Participate schools enable equitable access to high-quality language immersion and instruction, while igniting change and empowering students and teachers to create impact on a global scale.

With ongoing program support, our school model makes significant impact on students, teachers and communities. Using the world as a context for instruction, schools experience:

- Increased student and teacher engagement.
- College and career readiness.
- Equitable access to quality education.
- Higher rates of teacher retention.

The Participate model strengthens academic achievement for diverse student populations through immersive language learning opportunities and school-wide, equitable access to global, inquiry-based education. Participate schools aim to develop global competencies and students' language and literacy proficiencies in a second language, as well as the ability to operate across multiple content areas.
