Fairfield College
Preparatory School

A Jesuit, Catholic School of Excellence

Dear Alumni, Parents, and Friends of Fairfield Prep,

In the Gesu Church in Rome, where St. Ignatius of Loyola is buried, there is a marvelous painting of St. Francis Xavier kneeling at St. Ignatius' feet. St. Ignatius is pointing off to the distant reaches of the Far East and says, Ite Incendite! "Go set the world aflame!" At the time, the command filled St. Xavier with a profound sense of mission. He knew what he had to do, and more importantly, why he had to do it. I like to incorporate St. Ignatius' very words at the conclusion of the May Baccalaureate liturgy, as we prepare to send our seniors into the world.

When you now enter Fairfield Prep's entrance, you will see our beautiful new stained glass windows that have been shaped into the Gothic architecture of the original Berchmans' edifice. The new windows depict meaningful moments in the life of St. Ignatius and include his directive Ite incendite! in addition to the Jesuit motto Ad Majorem Dei Gloriam - "For the greater glory of God." You'll learn more about this latest enhancement at Prep by reading Greg Marshall's article, which describes the planning and production of these new windows. I am most grateful to Greg '73, Dean of Enrollment and Marketing, for overseeing this recent project to educate future Prep students of our important Jesuit mission and identity.

This issue of Prep Today also features our expanding initiatives to connect and communicate with our great alumni. We have recently launched our new website at www.fairfieldprep.org and are actively reaching out to all alumni to register online with our Fairfield Prep Alumni Community. Dillon Collins '98, Director of Alumni Relations, describes these easy steps to "get connected." Our Development & Alumni Office is currently launching regional alumni clubs in order to connect Prep alumni at the local level. I've recently visited Atlanta and Washington, D.C. where I've enjoyed getting to meet some of you. Please consult the Alumni pages of our website to see more photos from our travels in second semester.

Our students continue to excel with recognition in academics, sports and fulfilling the Jesuit mission. I hope you enjoy reading about our Urban Plunge program, our ongoing Kairos retreats, and our students selected by the Ignatian Solidarity Network to speak at the national Ignatian Family Teach-In for Justice held in November. We are always so proud of our students and their many laudable accomplishments.

In this issue we recognize Prep Football Coach Rich Magdon and Soccer Coach John Hanrahan for their collective decades of leadership and service to fall sports. As they step down to focus on their ever-demanding administrative duties, I would like to thank them for their incredible contributions to the important Prep sports legacy.

Finally, we are including our Annual Report to keep the Prep Community informed about the magnitude of our budget and the generosity of our many benefactors. With the selfless gifts from our donors, we are able to deliver the finest Jesuit education to another generation of young men who will "set the world aflame." I am deeply grateful to all of you who have provided us with continual support of our Jesuit, Catholic mission.

Christmas blessings to you and your families, and may God's peace be with you in the New Year!

Rev. John J. Hanwell, S.J.

Sincerely,

Rev. John J. Hanwell, S.J.

Jesuit Inspiration Shines Through

By Greg Marshall '73
Dean of Enrollment & Marketing

Throughout most of Fairfield Prep's history, while entering and exiting Berchmans Hall Prep students passed through the arches of what was then the Berchmans exterior rear portico, more than likely without giving much thought to the gracious curves and intricate stonework of its Gothic architecture. With the addition of Arrupe Hall and the Brissette Athletic Center, what used to be the rear of Berchmans Hall is now the front, the exterior portico is now the main office waiting room, and the archways are graced by beautiful stained glass windows.

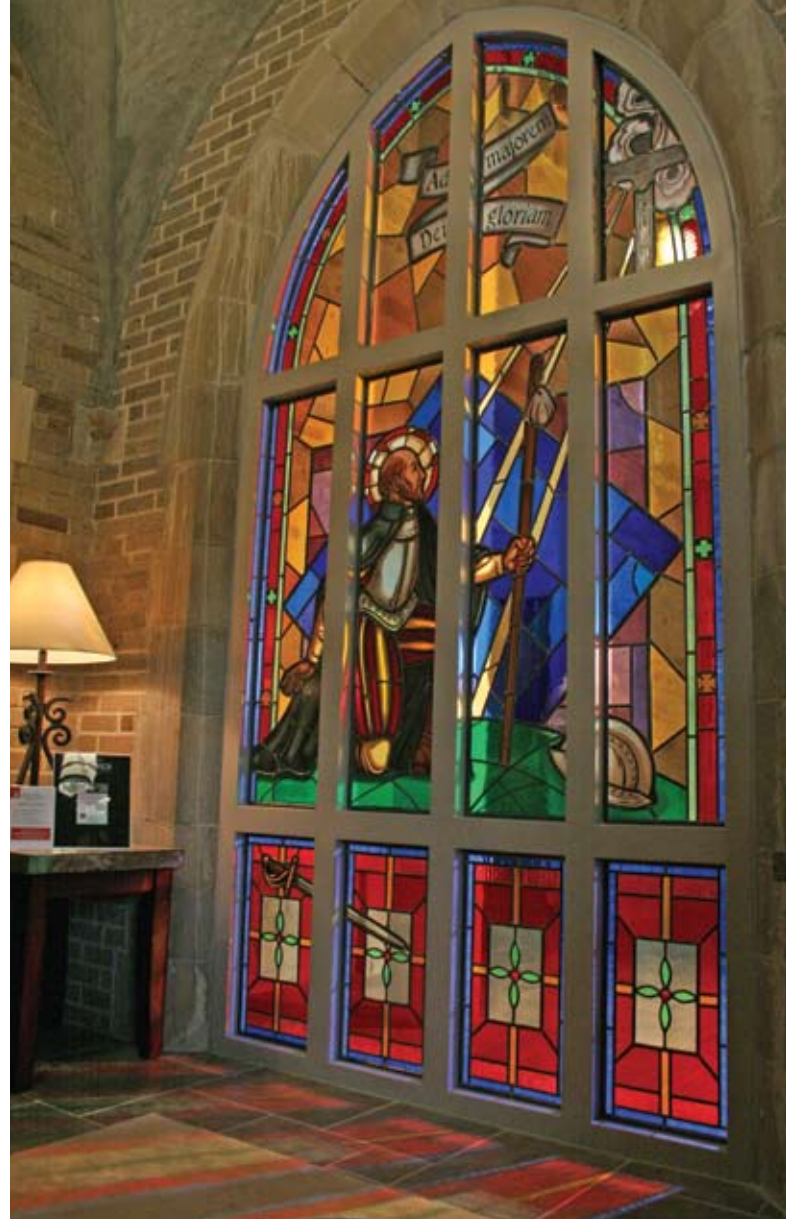

When the decision was made in fall 2007 to order the creation and installation of stained glass in the waiting room, the first question to be addressed—what should the stained glass depict?—was easy for a Jesuit school to answer: scenes from the life of St. Ignatius Loyola, founder of the Society of Jesus and spiritual father to all schools worldwide calling themselves Jesuit. Certainly the conversion of Ignatius from warrior to priest and saint is a story of inspiration that can readily translate to pictorial presentation.

Hiemer & Company Stained Glass Studio of New Jersey was selected as contractor for the job. After a meeting with the Prep ad hoc committee established to work on the project, Hiemer's principal artist, Judy Van Wie, delivered drafts for each of the four windows involved.

Judy's conceptual basis for her designs was that each window would have both a literal and a figurative significance. The literal significance would be depiction of an actual historical occurrence in Ignatius's life; the figurative significance would be the meaning that the event has for us in Jesuit education 450 years after those events occurred, whether one is student, teacher, administrator or alumnus. With subsequent minor alterations the committee wholeheartedly and excitedly embraced Judy's vision.

The first window depicts Ignatius the Soldier undergoing his spiritual conversion. After having spent years as a professional warrior, Ignatius felt God's call strong within him. Laying aside his weapons of war (sword and helmet), he picks up his pilgrim's staff as he now dedicates his life ad maiorem Dei gloriam, "to God's greater glory." The scene is emblematic of the conversion that each of us in Jesuit education is called to undergo as we struggle and strive to dedicate our own lives to the same goal that inspired Ignatius.

Ignatius the soldier lays down his weapons and picks up his pilgrim's staff, devoting his life to Jesus Christ.

The second window shows Ignatius the Scholar composing his Spiritual Exercises, which he hoped would guide his followers along the same path he had chosen. Similarly, today we take inspiration and guidance from Ignatius's spiritual plan and his words of encouragement, as meaningful today as they were when first written down four and a half centuries ago.

The third window shows Ignatius the Leader sending forth his initial band of followers. Under the directive ite incendite (loosely translated "go set the world on fire") Ignatius's followers went forth, the fire to do God's work burning within them. In similar fashion, we send forth our graduates to follow the path blazed by those original Jesuits, to go into the world as men for others, inspired by their Prep experience to make the world a better place for all, especially those less fortunate.

The final window surrounds the doorway that now serves as the entrance to the waiting room. There are three main graphic sections: the first section contains pictures symbolizing regions of the Eastern Hemisphere visited by the early Jesuits: Africa, India, Asia. The second section shows pictures symbolizing the Western Hemisphere: North, Central and South America, again all visited by those early Jesuit missionaries.

The doorway is both real and figurative, representing the entrance through which students new to Prep pass as they embark on their four-year Ignatian experience, and the gateway through which Prep graduates exit as they go out into the world.

The fourth window's third section depicts the seal of Fairfield College Preparatory School, with the school's motto Per fidem ad

Ignatius composes the Spiritual Exercises to serve as a guide to his followers.

Ite Incendite — Ignatius directs his followers to spread the Gospel in foreign lands, saying "go set the world on fire."

Prep's main office doorway features the seals of Fairfield College Preparatory School and the Society of Jesus in the arch above. Flanking the door are symbols representing the early Jesuit's mission trips. The left panel depicts Africa, India and Asia and on the right is North, Central and South America.

plenam veritatem, "Through faith to the fullness of truth" prominently displayed, flanked by the seal of the Society of Jesus, with the motto Et vocatum est nomen eius Iesus "and his name was called Jesus." Both seals are found, appropriately enough, at the Gothic arch's pinnacle and serve as a reminder that every graduate will be guided throughout life by the experience of Jesuit education he received at Fairfield Prep.

Installation of the windows was completed during the week preceding Prep's annual open house for prospective applicants. The windows have been well received as legions of new Prep students ponder their beauty and their meaning while entering and exiting Berchmans Hall. May they forever serve as an inspiration for generations of future Prep men for others.

A Rich Tradition

Coach Rich Magdon leaves a powerful football legacy

By Jack Slavinsky
Retired Prep teacher and coach

If you walk into Richie Magdon's office at Prep you will see a number of security screens, a couple of comfortable chairs in front of Richie's desk, and on the wall a number of photographs of friends, relatives and players past and present. There are motivational sayings and press clippings of players in colleges across the country. The walls also contain a number of awards the coach has received over the years. In one corner is a poster of a speech given by Vince Lombardi. "And in truth, I've never known a man worth his salt who in the long run, deep down in his heart, didn't appreciate the grind, the discipline. There is something in good men that really yearns for discipline and the harsh reality of head to head combat."

Football is a tough game played by tough people. Coaches have to be tough. They also have to be compassionate and caring. They have to be big brothers, surrogate parents, strict disciplinarians and father confessors. They walk a fine line between being Torquemada and Dr. Phil.

Rich Magdon has been a football coach for his entire adult life, most of it at Fairfield Prep. He began coaching when he was still a student at Fairfield University. While playing club football he injured his leg and could not continue playing. He decided he would try coaching and approached Earl Lavery about working as an unpaid assistant. Richie was an Economics major and had intended to pursue a career in business. He discussed his dilemma with his father and his high school coach Lou Saccone. His father suggested that he should get an education degree. Lou told him it was a good career choice and he felt he would be successful as a teacher-coach. Richie coached freshman football at Prep for the 1970 and 1971 football seasons, going unscored on and undefeated in the 1971 season. In those years he was paid a total of one hundred dollars.

In 1973, Richie took a job at Seymour High School as an assistant coach working with Dan Heffernan. Like Earl Lavery, Dan was one of the legendary figures in Connecticut high school football. Rich stayed at Seymour for five years and then returned to Fairfield Prep. After fifteen years as an assistant Richie became a head coach in 1993.

Times have changed. Most young coaches today don't have the patience to spend fifteen to seventeen years as an assistant waiting for their chance to become a head coach. Nor do they want to attend clinics and college spring practices in their spare time. However, in the seventies and eighties this was the accepted path to a head coaching position.

I've known Richie both as a rival and as a colleague. I worked with him as an assistant for eight years. Richie can be eloquent and profane and he can be eloquently profane. He conducts himself with the swagger of a Hollywood tough guy; the Jimmy Cagney of high school coaches. He is one of the most loyal people I have ever worked with and is one of the most truthful. He is the same way with the kids who play for him. Coaching in high school can be difficult. Juggling parents and adolescent

"... he was tough and worked our tails off to make us a better team, but he made sure that his teams were out there for the right reasons — to have fun and to build good character. He knew that winning games was simply a byproduct of getting the emphasis right. I think this all comes naturally to him, at least it always seemed to, and is apparent to anyone that has spent time around him. He has the ideal mix of smarts, humor, grit and caring, and he knows how to strike the right balance between being his players' coach, mentor and friend. Reflecting on this, it's no surprise that the first thing that comes to my mind when I think about Prep is Coach Magdon."

— Dave Alpert '00

sensibilities is never an easy task. Richie has always been a master at dealing with both and has never sacrificed his integrity in the balance.

Greg Zelinski '01: "Playing for Rich Magdon was not only fun, it was a privilege. Rich was a great teacher of the game: his knowledge of football and skills in managing the football team, coaching staff and parents were very impressive. More importantly, however, Rich Magdon taught us about life. He had a plethora of quotations, anecdotes and wisdom. His most frequently offered advice was to 'keep everything in perspective.' Playing at Fairfield Prep for Rich Magdon meant more than just playing football; it was learning to grow up, be responsible, and be a man."

One of the things Richie has been proudest of is the number of retired head coaches who have come to work for him at Prep. Besides myself, there was Vin Lombardo, John Oko and Charlie DiCenso. Perhaps Charlie said it best: "Coaching with Rich has really been a completion of my coaching career. Rich runs the program and makes the big decisions, but he wants his assistants to coach. He is the type of guy you want to coach for."

Richie has had a great career. He finishes with a record of 94 wins, 67 losses and 2 ties. He's had a remarkable influence on a large number of players and students. He's kept up the Prep tradition of excellence, both on and off the field. He'll continue to influence our young men daily as Prep Housemaster and Director of Facilities.

One final word; I worked for a guy years ago and a student referred to him one morning as Mr. So and So. He looked the kid in the eye and told him, "Call me coach, anybody can be a mister." So long coach.

Jack Slavinsky taught at Fairfield Prep from 1998 through 2007. He was voted Educator of the Year in 2002. He has been coaching football for over 30 years including Head Coach at Stamford Catholic and Assistant Coach at Prep.

Hats off to Hanrahan!

John Hanrahan steps down after 26 years of coaching soccer

By Bruce Jaffe, Head Coach, Social Studies teacher

I have worked with John both in the classroom and on the soccer field for 26 years. He has been my department chair in history and my head freshman coach, my head JV coach and my assistant varsity coach. John has had more soccer coaching experience at all levels of the sport than anyone else. John brought to soccer the same skills, personality and competence he brought to the classroom. John's knowledge of soccer is extensive whether in constructing drills or in selecting players to start a game. He understands both the sport and his players and matches skills and needs flawlessly. John's personality is the perfect complement to my own. I tend to be more emotional and more voluble. John is more controlled and quieter. This complementing of personalities meant that each player was always reached and, hopefully, helped. I've never considered John as my assistant but rather as my co-coach.

It has been a long and successful relationship in which we have played in the state tournament every year except one and have played in the quarter finals twice. I shall greatly miss John's advice, humor and perspective not only on soccer but also on life. Whoever is selected to be my assistant next year will have to fill a gaping hole in our coaching staff. I shall miss working with John every day and hope that he can still find time to come to the soccer field and share his perceptions and knowledge of the game.

A message from the coach...

In my recent farewell to the Varsity Soccer team I expressed that they were a special group and that I was happy to end my coaching years at Prep with the '08 team. Truly I could have said this to every other team I've coached in twenty six years at Prep but knowing that this would be my last season as it began, made the '08 varsity team and this season representative of my entire career. My final season also prompted me, on a number of occasions, to reflect on my experiences as a coach in the Prep soccer program. I thought often this season of how dedicated our athletes are and of how supportive our parents have been. This year I particularly enjoyed conversations with Bruce Jaffe on a number of long bus rides to and from games. And I realized more fully than ever what a special opportunity I have had coaching soccer at Prep. The many "lasts" of this season offered me a unique opportunity to reflect on my twenty six special seasons. In my years at all three levels in the Prep soccer program I have experienced the white hot enthusiasm that freshmen bring to the field, the raw energy of the JV's and the focus and determination of our Varsity soccer athletes. I also had the privilege to coach my son, J.P., Prep '98, who is now a father himself. Our soccer athletes have taught me that wearing the jersey is a privilege and guiding them has been a solemn responsibility for me. As a teacher and counselor in my Prep years, time on the field with the guys has offered me an opportunity to know them in unique and important ways. They love the game, are proud to represent Prep, and they have my full respect for the commitment they make.

And now, as a full time Prep administrator and a proud new grandfather, it is an appropriate time for me to take my leave from the Prep soccer program. The extraordinary effort and enthusiasm of the many soccer athletes I have coached and the support of their parents have inspired me through the past twenty six seasons. Win or lose I have always been proud to walk on and off the field with them. Coaching soccer at Prep has truly been a privilege.

John A. Hanrahan

Dean of Guidance & College Advising

Varsity Soccer ended the season with a 10-5-1 record and advanced to the first round of the State Playoffs. Brad Boehringer '09 (left) and Kevin Maxham '09 (right) were named All SCC Quinnipiac Soccer Athletes.

NATIONAL MERIT SCHOLARS — EXCELLENCE RECOGNIZED

Fairfield Prep is pleased to announce recognition of twelve seniors based on the PSAT/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test taken in their junior year. Two students, Stephen Habetz and Robert Nayden were named National Merit Scholarship semifinalists and ten students were commended in the National Merit Scholarship Program. Over one million students from across the nation entered the competition by taking the test, and the Prep winners were selected based on top performance in the highly competitive state of Connecticut.

Urban Plunge: Learning outside the classroom

Prep's September and October Urban Plunges found students serving across the city of Bridgeport in a number of schools and non-profit agencies. From tutoring and helping in after school programs at Beardsley, Saint Ambrose and Saint Augustine schools to beautifying the city through the annual Park City Sweep, Prepsters demonstrated their commitment to being "Men for Others." Participants from the Class of 2010 were John Altieri, Stephen Gulish, Andrew Golankiewicz, Tyler Capasso, Matt Boran, Daniel O'Rourke, John Paul Benedetti, Chris Conetta, Kristoff Toth, Jason Ottomano, Tom O'Brien, Mac Guerrera-Sapone, Ryan Cahalane, Andres Kummén, Drew Ross, Daniel O'Brien, Mike Carey, Stephen Sanko, John Campoli, Stephen Giles, Wohno Kim, Ryan Carr, Jackson Bargiello, Justin Alves and Alex Namin.

Matt Leonard '10 awarded "Best Story"

The American Scholastic Press Association reviewed The Bellarmine Review and presented our publication with a "First Place with Special Merit Award." In their review process Prep earned 975 total points out of a possible 1,000.

Additionally, junior Matt Leonard was awarded "Best Story" for his piece entitled Coffee Shop. Congratulations to Mr. Jamie Chesbro, English teacher, and his team of talented writers.

September 11 Commemoration

On September 11 Prep students stopped at 10:10 a.m. to pray for those lost in the terrorist attacks seven years ago. Throughout the school, students listened to the intercom as prayers and a reflection on the tragic day's events were presented by students and faculty.

The quad was filled with small American flags lining the walkways. A candle was lit in the chapel, symbolizing the students' prayers and remembrance of the victims. Student government representatives Christian Babikian '09 (left) and Peter Gruppo '09 (right) placed a wreath at the foot of the flag pole in the quad, which flew the flag at half mast.

Kairos Reflections

Prep's 35th Kairos Retreat took place at the Nazareth Spiritual Life Center in Monroe, CT in November. Twenty two juniors and seniors took part in the retreat for the first time. They were accompanied by ten team members comprised of seniors and faculty.

The Kairos retreat provides a special time with the Lord. This Christian experience focuses on prayer, reflection, friendship and community. Student candidates gave of themselves generously and by the end of the retreat were certainly committed to the Kairos spirit.

A big thank you goes out to the student leaders Rector Andy Kowalski, Assistant Rector Matt Gaughan, Garrett Bushby, Chris Holguin, and Tim Manning. Special thanks to the adult leaders Jon DeRosa, Fr. Larry Ryan, SJ, Kevin Altieri, Alecia Watson, and Kevin Kery. Kairos is open to juniors and seniors.

43 Plays for 43 Presidents

"43 Plays for 43 Presidents" was presented at the Regina A. Quick Center for the Arts, in the Wien Experimental Theatre on November 13, 14, and 15. The play was a wild and wacky ride, from the first George to the last, in which each president got two minutes in the sun. The show highlighted some of the best and worst moments in American history, with an epilogue for our President Elect written by the cast. All 43 presidents, their first wives, vice presidents, and other guests were played by the ensemble of 12 actors: Jesse Alpert, Joe Burgess, Bayindir Citak, Andrew Garvey, Richard Johnson, Christen Keogh, Dylan Levinson, Dan Luciano, Dan O'Rourke, Victoria Peri, Alex Tortora and Phoebe Wright. Directed by Megan Hoover, Drama and English teacher.

Editor discusses essays

Trumbull Times editor and Prep alum Donald Eng '90 (shown here) was invited by English teacher Jamie Chesbro to speak to the senior writing elective class entitled "Mastering the Essay."

(L to r): Rob Hammond '10, Quinn Rooney '10 and Jon Gale '10 carry the Prep banner in the 2008 procession to recognize the victims of violence in Latin America.

Garvey and Marini speak at Ignatian Family Teach-In for Justice

Andrew Garvey '09 and Justin Marini '09 were selected by the Ignatian Solidarity Network to speak at the Ignatian Family Teach-In for Justice, Columbus, Georgia in November. Andrew and Justin's drafts were selected from applications received from Jesuit high schools and colleges across the country. The Teach-In annually commemorates the Jesuit Martyrs of El Salvador who were murdered on November 16, 1989.

Here are excerpts from their speeches:

"As my group left Mexico... I felt truly changed. I thought about how there is no consistent standard of 'normal' throughout the world, because every culture is vastly different and amazing. No longer was poverty the only thing I noticed in Mexico. Instead I focused on the faces of people... To show solidarity — a persevering determination to commit oneself to the common good — has enabled me to enact on my connection to this crisis... the people of Mexico desperately need help, and as members of the human family, it is our duty to help them. We cannot dwell on political differences when so many innocent lives are at stake."

Justin Marini '09

"All of these lessons and experiences have helped me to shape my own voice and to use that voice to speak out. They have encouraged me to learn as much as I can about the issues and pass that knowledge on to others. These are lessons that I will never forget nor cease to pass on. Being part of the Ignatian Family Teach-In has taught me to be passionate about social justice and to manifest that passion in the classroom, everyday conversation and most importantly in the way I act. It has made me realize that I am part of a global community that is connected and that an injustice anywhere is threat to justice everywhere."

Andrew Garvey '09

Joe Ehrmann speaks to Prep families

The Bellarmine Guild and Fathers' Club presented, Joe Ehrmann, the subject of the NY Times Bestseller "SEASON OF LIFE" by Jeffrey Marx, in the Brissette Athletic Center on October 22.

Joe Ehrmann is a truly energetic, soulful and compelling speaker. An All-American football player at Syracuse University, he played professional football for 13 years. He was selected as the Baltimore Colts Man of the Year. Joe was featured on the cover of Parade Magazine as "The Most Important Coach in America" because of his work to transform the culture of sports by redefining the social responsibility of coaches, parents and players. Joe addressed the critical need to help young boys and damaged men become strategic men. Almost 400 attended Joe's dynamic presentation at Prep.

Uwem Akpan, S.J. visits Prep

Father Apkan visited Mr. Chesbro's and Mr. Sather's English classes on November 4, relating his experience as a fiction writer. His recently published collection of stories, Say You're One of Them, includes five stories set in different African countries and told from the point of view of a child subjected to poverty, dislocation or worse.

Father Apkan relayed his story of being rejected by publishers initially. He advised them to not give up and persevere to achieve their dreams and develop their talents. He discussed the importance of spirituality and "good family" relationships in their lives. "God has given you an imagination," he advised. "Act justly, walk tenderly...with your God."

Charitable IRA Rollover

Charities and foundations are created and sustained by people who want to give their resources to solve problems and enrich their communities. Recognizing this, in 2006 lawmakers enacted a provision intended to encourage increased charitable giving by rewarding Americans who make donations to charitable organizations. This provision has just been extended by Congress to December 31, 2009. The Charitable IRA Rollover permits taxpayers age 70 1/2 and older to make tax-free charitable gifts totaling up to $100,000 per year from traditional Individual Retirement Accounts (IRA) and Roth IRA's.

How does the Charitable IRA Rollover work? Taxpayers age 70 1/2 and older are required to make annual distributions from their retirement accounts. The distributions are included in the taxpayers' adjusted gross income (AGI), and taxpayers pay taxes on them. The Charitable IRA Rollover permits taxpayers to make donations directly to charitable organizations from their IRA's without counting them as part of their AGI and, consequently, without paying taxes on them. Please consult your accountant/attorney for further information.

Bombs Away!

Bomb Squad boldly bears burden of cheer

By Greg Marshall '73
Dean of Enrollment & Marketing

When the class of 1973 entered as freshmen in fall of 1969, they and the rest of Prep's student body were led in cheers at home games by Prep students. Apparently a male-only cheerleading squad came to be seen as a bit behind the times, as the 1971-1972 academic year witnessed the establishment of a new cheerleading squad staffed by girls from Lauralton Hall.

Prep finally had its own cheerleading squad composed of young ladies. However, the tradition of Prepster-led cheers would not die easily, and the following year members of the class of 1973 sought a way to continue that tradition, now in support of our new cheerleaders. The result was the establishment of an institution that continues today: the Fairfield Prep Bomb Squad.

The Bomb Squad began its existence on the basis of a simple premise. Since the fans in the stands were already leading cheers anyway, it was felt that by means of a uniform look students, the agents of cheer, would demonstrate their group solidarity with each other as well as with their schoolmates competing on field, court or ice. That uniform look took the form of a red T-shirt with a white logo.

Kevin Kallaugher '73, class president and art student, created the now-famous design, by ingeniously sculpting the letters of the words "BOMB SQUAD" into the shape of a bomb, fuse lit. Beneath the logo the phrase "PREP '73" appeared. Mrs. Betty Kachmar, Prep visual arts teacher, provided valuable input on preparing the design for the silk-screen process. ("KAL," as Kallaugher is known, went on to international fame as a political cartoonist for the London Economist and the Baltimore Sun; several volumes of his collected works are in print).

As to why "Bomb Squad" was chosen as the name can only be speculated, but the early seventies saw numerous bomb threats throughout the country (Prep was not immune, although thankfully the threats here were hoaxes) and the local police department's bomb squad would be called in to defuse the situation. Consequently, members of the police bomb squad were seen by the public as heroic and brave, the experts who would be called to a dangerous situation to make things right.

The bomb squad concept for a cheering section tapped into that perception. It also gave rise to the impression of explosiveness, which a cheering section would want to convey, and to defusing an opponent's efforts against our own men. Certainly the appellation would have struck a positive chord at that time. In any event, the idea did catch on and as we all know continues to this day.

The Bomb Squad debuted in the middle of the 1972-1973 basketball season, a year that saw Prep's hoopsters head to the state tournament. Even Corky Calhoun, the class of 1973's official ventriloquist's dummy, became an integral part of the new cheering section, outfitted in his own Bomb Squad shirt and leading an occasional cheer. In an audacious display of the new entity's loyalty to Mother

A few Bomb Squad members from the 1973 Hearststone.

Prep and her playoff-bound team, several members of the Bomb Squad's more fanatical wing announced their intention to dribble basketballs through town and city streets all the way from Prep to wherever would be the location for Prep's games. They followed through on their commitment, and finished the trek (in Bomb Squad T-shirts, of course) by dribbling onto the court just as Prep's team was engaging in pre-game warm-ups.

The Bomb Squad's logo has gone through many changes through the years but the purpose of the group has not changed. In fact, the Bomb Squad's existence is of greater necessity now than it was at its founding as Prep no longer has cheerleaders, which differentiates us from most competitors we face. Nevertheless, we certainly don't lack for exuberance when it comes to supporting our teams and the Bomb Squad is an important reason why.

And so the revered Prep tradition of fan-led cheering continues, and in recognition of this tradition's long history KAL's original Bomb Squad logo was brought back. Courtesy of the Bellarmine Guild, on Freshman Orientation Day in August the newly-minted members of Prep's class of 2012 received their brand-new Bomb Squad T-shirts bearing the original logo as designed thirty-six years ago by Kallaugher and Kachmar. The back of each shirt reads "Prep 2012." The shirts were an instant hit among the freshmen, who can follow their Prep forebears as we cheer for our school at games.

The tradition continues... scholam nostram ludis erigimus.

Going for the green at Great River

This year was another success for the Fairfield Prep Annual Golf Outing as the tradition continued at the Great River Golf Club.

Eighty-nine alumni and friends came out on October 13 to support Prep's scholarship fund by participating in the annual golf tournament. The day consisted of friendly competition, great golf and a lot of Prep memories. A special thanks to the tournament committee chaired by John Chiota '86 and consisting of John Chiota '61, Kevin Foley '73, Tom Welch '83, Jim Butler '86 and Alex Oracheff '94.

The tournament was organized as a best ball scramble. As the golfers made their way through the round; John Chiota, Jim Butler, Mike Hibbert, John Chiota, was the foursome to beat. They ended up coming in with a gross score of 57. Not to be outshined, the foursome of Marc Defeo, David Fowler, John Heher, Pat Kelly posted a 51 to come in with the lowest net score for the day. The tournament marked a series of firsts for Prep golf with our first female golfer, Lindsay Minkus. Not only did Lindsay brave the course with 89 alums and Prep friends but showed us how the game is played by capturing the title for Longest Drive. Matt Conner landed the award for Closest to the Pin. Most importantly, the group was able to raise money for Prep. We hope to continue the success of this tournament next year.
