Comments:

Who is going to keep the content up to date? No matter what we choice we need to have keep content up to date.

Finalsite would be the best. It also is the most expensive.

It comes to content.

People need to be assign the work to keep things up to date.

Those conversation will be had and it will be a part of this process.

Brian will get final proposals for each. Potentially a mid-March meeting if we cannot come to decision over email.

We want to start this project over the summer.
