R130 GUIDELINES CONCERNING RELIGION

In order to implement the guidelines set forth in the accompanying policy, the following steps shall be taken:

1. A summary of the guidelines set forth in Policy 130 (“guidelines”) shall be distributed no less than annually to each member of the staff including coaches and activity advisors in building-level faculty and other employee meetings with full discussion of their meaning and use.
2. The guidelines shall be available for District-wide dissemination and included in all employee orientation materials.
3. Committees of art and music teachers shall be formed to discuss materials suitable for District-wide use within the framework of these guidelines.
4. In developing the resource file of community volunteers particular attention shall be given to the need for qualified persons who may serve as consultants in educational programs concerning religions.
5. The Superintendent shall review, at least annually and in consultation with a cross-section of the school community, the implementation of these guidelines in the schools, and prepare a report to the administration and Board highlighting this review.
6. The guidelines shall be shared periodically with students and their parents and guardians at activity and athletic group information meetings and published in the student handbooks and in other District-sponsored media such as the District website.
