Consider the following questions:

- Does the school have your major?
- Have you looked at the course catalog (the offerings interest you)?
- What percentage of students with your SAT/ACT score and high school grades enter each year?
- What are students' legitimate gripes about the college?
- What type of student thrives at that college?

Tips

- Gather information from multiple sources
- Ask Questions
- Be Picky
- Keep a College Notebook – Organize and Take notes
- Review the colleges accreditation report and most recent student satisfaction survey
- Apply to more than a few colleges (negotiate)
- You wouldn't marry someone you've never met – don't commit to a college you've never visited
- Interview on campus (it may boost your chances) and meet with a professor in the department of your prospective major
- Write a letter of thanks to the Admissions Rep
