

Lycée français de San Francisco

Background

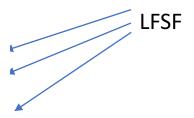

- International Sections exists since 1981, in France and within AEFE (Agency for French Education Abroad) network.
- 16 languages and culture are available
- The American international section was created with the collaboration of the French-American (Fulbright) Commission, the College Board and the French Ministry of Education
- The objective is for foreign students to maintain their level in their mother tongue in order to continue the studies in their country of origin and to French students to reach a level close to that of a mother tongue
