

Circle Time

It is circle time.

When it is time for circle, I go sit in a blue chair.

I sit with my feet on the floor and my hands to myself.

It doesn't matter who I sit next to. I will shake their hand and say good morning.

I help Mrs. Babyak at circle by listening...

Waiting my turn...

And sitting like a big kid in my chair.

I don't get angry when I don't get a turn because I will get a turn another day.

When circle is over, I wait until Mrs. Babyak tells me where to go.

I did great at circle today!

Ben 10 waits for his turn!

Everyone likes to talk to Mrs. B

Ben 10 likes to talk to Mrs. B. too.

If Ben 10 wants to talk to Mrs. B. he raises his hand.

Sometimes he has to wait for other children to have their turn.

Ben 10 waits patiently.

When Jacob waits for his turn like Ben 10, he gets to move up the chart.

Ben 10 does all his work!

Everyone has Bell Work in kindergarten

Ben 10 checks the board for his Bell Work

Ben 10 works until all his jobs are finished or he is out of time.

When Ben 10 finishes all his work he lets the teacher know.

When Jacob finishes all his work he can let Mrs. B. know.

Mrs. B. will move Jacob up the chart for doing all his work before he talks to Mrs. B.

What should I do when the teacher calls me to her table?

I go to school almost every Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

There are many other children in my class. In my classroom, children work at their desks and sometimes at the teacher's table.

During deskwork time, sometimes my teachers want children to come talk to them. The children usually stop what they are working on and go to see what the teacher wants them to do. This is okay. It is okay to stop working to go to the teacher's table.

When the teacher calls me, I will try to stop my work and go see her right away.

Sometimes the teacher will only talk to me for only a few seconds. Sometimes she will want me to work with her for a little while.

The teacher will be happy if I get up and go to her right away.

Social Stories

Saying Hi

The story

People like it when I say "hi" to them.

There are many times during the day when I can say "hi" to people.

I can say "hi" to my family when I get up in the morning.

I can say "hi" to my bus driver.

I can say "hi" to my friends and teachers when I get to school.

I can even say "hi" to people I see in the hallway.

I can say "hi" to new people that I meet.

I makes people happy when you say "hi" to them.

I will try to say "hi" to the people I see during the day.