I. INTRODUCTION

Mission Statement

The purpose of the Troy School District is to ensure learning for all members of the school community. The Troy School District seeks to provide every child, regardless of national origin or native language, quality and meaningful educational instruction. Consequently, students who are English Learners (ELs) are provided additional instructional services through the English Language Development Program designed to meet their unique needs.

The Troy School District has prepared this handbook of program policies and procedures to ensure that the English Language Development Program is consistent throughout the district.

II. DEFINITION OF ENGLISH LEARNERS (ELs)

ESA defines an “English learner” as an individual who, among other things, has difficulties in speaking, reading, writing or understanding English language that may be sufficient enough to deny him or her the ability to meet challenging state academic standard. The federal government classifications are listed below.

An EL is a student age 3-21, who is enrolled (or is about to enroll) in a U.S. elementary or secondary school and meets these two requirements:

- A. Belongs to one of the following categories:
 - 1. Was not born in the United States or whose native language is a language other than English and who comes from an environment where a language other than English is dominant;
 - 2. Is a Native American, Alaska Native, or native resident of outlying areas and comes from an environment where language other than English has had a significant impact on the individual’s level of English language proficiency;
 - 3. Is migratory, speaks a native language other than English, and comes from an environment where language other than English is dominant.
- B. May be unable, because of difficulties in speaking, reading, writing, or understanding the English language, to:
 - 1. Score at the proficient level on state assessments of academic achievement; or
 - 2. Learn successfully in classrooms that have language of instruction in English;
 - 3. Participate fully in society.

III. LEGAL RESPONSIBILITIES

A. Title I & Title III: Programs of English Learners

English Learner provisions are included under Title I and Title III of ESSA. Title I outlines the state standards, assessment, annual yearly progress, and other accountability requirements for ELs. Title III provides funding to state and local education agencies that are obligated by ESSA to increase the English proficiency and core academic content knowledge of English Learners. Under this title, local school districts decide on the method of instruction to be used to teach ELs English, but require that instructional programs be scientifically proven to be effective.

State education agencies, school districts and schools must:

- 1. Ensure that ELs, including immigrant children and youth, develop English proficiency based on state expectations, and meet the same academic content and achievement standards that all children are expected to meet.
- 2. Provide parental notification as to why their child is in need of placement in a specialized language instruction program.
- 3. Administer reading assessments using tests written in English to any student who has attended school in the United States for three or more consecutive years, unless it is determined by the school district, on a case-by-case basis, that native-language tests will yield more accurate results. Please note: In Michigan, guidelines require that any student who has been enrolled for one calendar year or more must be tested. Native language tests are only used in bilingual education programs. The Troy School District does not have a bilingual program so native language tests will not apply.

4. Assess in a language and a format most likely to elicit the above information and which would allow the state and local school district to make testing accommodations.
5. Report the test scores of ELs as one of the subgroups to be disaggregated, and as part of the state, district and school test scores for all of the students.
6. Involve EL parents in the decision-making process of Title III programs and activities at both the state and local levels.

Title III Schools and School Districts Must:

1. Describe in their Title III application to the state how the district has consulted with teachers, researchers, administrators, and parents, and others in developing their Title III plan.
2. Inform parents of a child identified for participation in a Title III program within 30 days after the beginning of the school year. For a child who enters school after the beginning of the school year, the school must inform parents within two weeks of the child's placement in such a program.
3. Communicate with parents in an understandable and uniform format, which means communicating the same information to all parents, and in a method that is effective.

Title III Funds May Be Used for the Following School District and/or School Activities:

1. Added English Instruction
2. Staff Training and Professional Development
3. Curriculum Development
4. Remedial Tutoring, Tutorials, and/or Youth Counseling
5. Technology Acquisition
6. Parent Involvement
7. Support for Para-Educator Trained to Provide Services to EL Students
8. Field Trips

Academic Information Tracked by the Troy School District About ELs

1. W-APT and ACCESS for ELs
2. The number of ELs attaining proficiency by the end of each school year
3. Percentage of the district's ELs:
 - Making progress in English proficiency;
 - Achieving English proficiency; and
 - Transitioning out of the ELD program, meaning that they are no longer in EL classrooms and are proficient enough to achieve academically in English

Assessments Required of ELs:

1. All ELs must be included in the state assessment required of all students. Inclusion in this assessment must begin immediately when the student enrolls in school, and no exemptions are permitted on the basis of English proficiency. For the first three years, however, ELs may take the assessment in the student's native language, but the assessment must be aligned with the state content, achievement standards and proficiency standards. After three years of attending school in the United States, a student MUST be assessed in reading/language arts in English, unless the school district determines, on a case-by-case basis, that a native language assessment would yield more accurate and reliable information. Please note: In Michigan, guidelines require that any student who has been enrolled for one calendar year or more must be tested. Native language tests are only used in bilingual education programs. The Troy School District does not have a bilingual program so native language tests will not apply.

2. Districts must annually assess ELs on their English language proficiency to determine how proficient they are in listening, speaking, reading and writing, and this proficiency data must be sent to the state for compilation. Each state is required to set annual measurable objectives for school districts in moving ELs toward English proficiency.

B. Federal Law

There exists a substantial body of federal law which establishes the rights of the LEP student and which define the legal responsibilities of school districts serving these students. Administrators and school boards who are responsible for local policies and programs can turn for guidance and direction to this body of law. It includes the following:

1968 Constitution of the United States, fourteenth Amendment

"...No State shall...deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws."

Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964

"No person in the United States shall, on the grounds of race, color, or national origin be denied the benefits of, or be subject to discrimination under any program or activity receiving federal financial assistance."

Two U.S. Supreme Court rulings, one interpreting the Fourteenth Amendment and one interpreting the Civil Rights Act of 1964, have exercised considerable influence over the educational rights of language-minority students. These cases may be summarized as follows:

1974 Lau v. Nichols

The U.S. Supreme Court ruled that a school district's failure to provide English language instruction to LEP students denied them meaningful opportunity to participate in the district's educational program in violation of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964; the court further noted that equality of opportunity is not provided by giving the LEP student the same facilities, textbooks, teachers, and curriculum which non-LEP students receive.

1982 Plyler v. Doe

The U.S. Supreme Court ruled that the Fourteenth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution prohibits states from denying a free public education to undocumented immigrant children regardless of their immigrant status. The Court emphatically declared that school systems are not agents for enforcing immigration law and determined that the burden undocumented aliens may place on an educational system is not an accepted argument for excluding or denying educational service to any student.

The U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals set forth a three-part test to determine whether a school district takes appropriate actions to overcome language barriers that confront language-minority students.

1981 Castaneda v. Pickard

A program for Limited-English proficient students is acceptable if:

1. A program is based on educational theory that is recognized by experts in the field;
2. The programs or practices used are reasonably calculated to effectively implement the adopted theory; and
3. The program successfully produces results that indicate that the language barriers are being overcome.

IV. PROCEDURES

The following procedures are established for the Troy School District to meet the requirements of requirements of Title I and Title III.

A. Identification Using Language Use Survey

The district uses the Michigan Department of Education two-question Language Survey during the enrollment process. When either question receives an answer of "yes," parents complete the Troy School District Language Use Survey (SEE APPENDIX A). It is to be completed at the time of enrollment. The district enrollment designee (secretary) ensures the Language Use Survey is completed, and ELD staff is notified as appropriate. The completed Language Use Survey and registration forms shall be placed in the students' ELD file.

If a student is identified as having a native or primary home language that is other than English on the Language Use Survey and is, therefore, potentially eligible for English Language Development services, the ELD specialist in the building of attendance will be notified. The district enrollment designee or ELD staff will arrange for a prompt assessment of the student to determine eligibility for English Language Development services.

The Language Survey is available in multiple languages.

B. Initial Assessment for Program Eligibility

Within ten school days of the entry date, a student who is identified as potentially eligible on the Language Use Survey must be assessed to determine if he/she is eligible for ELD program services. ELD staff will contact sending school for most recent ACCESS or W-APT assessment results. If current ACCESS or W-APT scores are available, these scores may be used to determine eligibility. If they are not available, the W-APT is used to determine eligibility, along with the Entrance Protocol (SEE APPENDIX E).

A student’s language skills in listening, speaking, reading, and writing English are assessed, using the Assessing Comprehension and Communication in English State-to-State (ACCESS) for EL or the ACCESS Placement Test (W-APT) during the required testing windows.

WIDA ACCESS, W-APT and Level of Proficiency

The following chart shows the WIDA levels of proficiency. The following chart may assist you to determine the level of the student’s proficiency and the student’s placement into each grade level or courses with appropriate ELD language and academic support.

| WIDA ACCESS/W-APT Score | Proficiency Levels |
|--------------------------------|---------------------------|
| Entering | 1 |
| Emerging | 2 |
| Developing | 3 |
| Expanding | 4 |
| Bridging | 5 |
| Reaching | 6 |

C. Eligibility for English Language Development Program Services

A student who scores Entering, Emerging, Developing, Expanding, Bridging or Reaching on the WIDA ACCESS/W-APT is eligible for ELD program support. For a student scoring Bridging or Reaching to continue receiving ELD support services, the district takes into account the State of Michigan’s Entrance Criteria (SEE APPENDIX E).

D. Transcript Evaluation for Students Entering Grades 9-12

The W-APT or WIDA ACCESS score will be the method used to ascertain whether English credit will be awarded for English courses listed on a transcript that were taken in a foreign country. Within ten days of registration, the student will take the W-APT or WIDA ACCESS. Grade adjusted composite proficiency levels below level four on these assessments are below the threshold required for English credit to be awarded for English courses. Students scoring below level four may apply their previous English courses, if completed with passing grades, toward elective credit requirements. Students scoring at levels four or higher on the W-APT or WIDA ACCESS may apply English courses taken and passed in a foreign country toward English credit requirements. A maximum of one full English credit may be awarded. If the student enrolled in another high school in the U.S. before enrolling in the Troy School District, and the transcript has already been evaluated, credits will be processed in the same manner that they are processed for any student transferring from a high school in the U.S.

E. Exiting from the English Language Development Program - Meets Criteria

A student who meets district exit criteria (noted in Appendix F) will be exited from the ELD Program. This student is also exited from the program in eSchoolPlus and considered Formerly Limited-English Proficient (FLEP) for two years.

F. Refusal of English Language Development Program

Parents may refuse services. Refusals do not carry over from year to year. ELs whose parents have refused services will continue to take the WIDA ACCESS until they reach a passing level. At which point students will be exited as described in Section D.

G. Monitoring Formerly Limited-English Proficient Students (FLEP)

A student who is exited after receiving ELD services and scoring Bridging or Reaching on the WIDA ACCESS and who has met additional state academic achievement requirements will be monitored in English Language Arts (Reading and Writing) and Math. ELD staff will monitor students formally, at the end of each quarter. If, during monitoring, it appears that the student is not succeeding in the general education program, the staffing team will meet to determine if further assessment of the student is warranted, if the student will be re-entered into the ELD program, or if other services are appropriate. Between these formal monitoring times, ELD staff will communicate with general education teachers regularly. A record of the monitoring, as well as any placement changes resulting from the monitoring, will be placed in the student's ELD file. (SEE APPENDIX G)

- No later than 30 days after the beginning of the school year for students who enter at the start of the school year.
- Within 10 school days of attendance for children who have not been previously identified.

The Troy School District, a Title III school district, will inform parents of:

- The reasons for identifying their child as being limited English proficient and for placing their child in an English language development program;
- The child's current level of English proficiency, including how the level was assessed;
- The method of instruction that will be used in the program, including a list of all services;
- The program "exit" requirements; and
- The parents' rights to refuse service.

School Districts are required to notify parents of student academic failure.

- Notice is to be provided no later than 30 days after this failure occurs.
- Notice must be provided in an understandable and uniform format.

J. English Learners Who Are Struggling Learners

When indicators suggest that an English Learner (EL) is having difficulties meeting linguistic, academic and social expectations, which are unrelated to the student's English language proficiency, classroom and ELD interventions are identified and implemented. If the student does not respond to these interventions, then the student will be referred to the school Student Assistance Process possibly for additional intervention strategies. Periodic reviews will be conducted to determine the success or failure of the strategies. The Troy School District has an established procedure for referring students for special education evaluations (SEE APPENDIX K).

When an EL who is certified for Special Education completes a full-year ELD course at the secondary level, but is unable to move to the next level due to reasons other than English language proficiency, he/she will not repeat the class. The student will be placed in an appropriate course offering outside the ELD curriculum, as decided by the Special Education team.

K. English Learners' Folder Contents and CA-60

Student Folder:

The EL folder moves with the student and is maintained by the ELD staff at the building. The folder will contain:

- Language Use Survey – (SEE APPENDIX A)
- Enrollment Form Information

- Parent refusal letter if applicable – (SEE APPENDIX B)
- Assessment results (WIDA ACCESS/W-APT)
- Monitoring records
- Placement form at the elementary level
- Summary of student services at the secondary level

After the monitoring period, the EL folder will be disposed of according to the district protocol.

VI. PARENT COMMUNICATION

A. Parental Communication/Interpreter Services

Parents of ELs will receive notices of school programs and activities impacting their child's education.

Many parents of ELs need interpreters/translators to participate in school activities such as registering students and Parent-Teacher Conferences. The more informed parents are, the more likely it is that they will be able to support their child's learning. Do not rely on students to interpret for their parents. The following suggestions may facilitate successful communication when using an interpreter:

Prior to the Meeting:

1. Accurately determine the parents' native language prior to the meeting and identify an interpreter (may be an adult family member) who is fluent in that language. Note that it may be important to determine the particular dialect of the family to use an interpreter who can easily communicate.
2. Talk with the interpreter prior to meeting parents to clarify his/her role and explain the anticipated content of the meeting.

During the Meeting:

1. Show respect to parents by addressing them directly and allowing the interpreter to simply interpret your words. Sit so that you speak directly to the parents rather than to the interpreter. Often, it works well to place the interpreter to your side rather than between you and the parent.
2. Speak at a normal rate and volume.
3. Keep the group limited to a small number of people. Introduce each person and the role each plays in relation to the child.
4. Stop periodically and ask if there are any questions.
5. Support your statements with examples of the student's work that parents can take with them and examine further.
6. Do whatever you can to encourage parents' future school visits and participation in school activities.

Following the Meeting:

1. Clarify any confusing interactions with the interpreter.
2. Ask for feedback and suggestions on the interpreting process from the interpreter.
3. Make a record of significant information discussed.

B. ELD Parent Advisory Committee

The Troy School District has organized an ELD Parent Advisory Committee. The purpose of the district committee is to gather information from parents of ELs, about the ELD program. The committee is organized and facilitated by ELD specialists.

C. Code of Conduct

The Code of Conduct will be translated as needed and made available to parents of ELs.

VII. PERSONNEL PRACTICES

A. Postings

The district will post all ELD positions in compliance with current policies.

B. In-Services/Professional Development

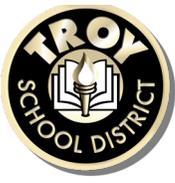

- ELD staff meets regularly to update knowledge and skills, obtain additional training and share information and materials.
- ELD staff will have the opportunity to attend conferences and in-services inside and outside the district.
- Professional Development for general education teachers on ELD issues will be provided.

VIII. PROGRAM EVALUATION

The Troy School District will have an ELD Evaluation Committee that will consist of the following people:

- Deputy Superintendent, Teaching and Learning
- Assistant Superintendent, Elementary Instruction
- ELD Elementary Specialists
- ELD Secondary Specialists
- Director of ELD, Federal Grants and State Assessments
- Administrative Data Specialists

This committee will assess student progress using standardized test scores. They will also assess the program's effectiveness, resources and staff needs. This committee will present their findings to the Superintendent and the Board of Education, when requested.

Dear Parents:

You have indicated that you DO NOT want your child enrolled in our English Language Development Program for this school year. Although we are offering a program we feel is the most appropriate for your child's level of English proficiency, you have the right to refuse this service.

This letter confirms that your child will not participate in the Troy School District English Language Development Program for this school year. However, your child is required by law to take the ACCESS for ELs until proficiency is established.

ELD Specialist

APPENDIX C: Definitions

ELD Student Folder

The ELD staff at the building of enrollment keeps this file. It contains a copy of the Language Use Survey, district enrollment information, assessment data, monitoring records and placement or student service data.

ELD Para-Educator

An ELD para-educator provides support services to the ELs. Para-educators must demonstrate English-language proficiency in listening, speaking, reading, writing, and comprehension.

CA-60 File

This file is kept in the school office and is the official record of the student. It contains: birth certificate, immunization records, standardized test scores, report cards, and other official documents including ELD services.

EL (English Learner)

EL refers to a student whose primary or home language is not English, and encompasses both students who are just beginning to learn English and those who have already developed considerable proficiency.

ACCESS

WIDA Assessing Comprehension and Communication in English State-to-State (ACCESS) for ELLs is the annual assessment that measures English language proficiency in listening, speaking, reading and writing for ELs in Michigan.

W-APT

The WIDA- ACCESS Placement Test (W-APT) is a short version of the ACCESS used to measure English language proficiency in listening, speaking, reading and writing for ELs in Michigan for newly arrived students in a school district.

English Language Development (ELD)

ELD instruction is used to teach English language components (grammar, vocabulary, and pronunciation) and language skills (listening, speaking, reading, writing, and comprehension) as well as content areas.

Language Support (Sheltered Content) Class

A content class at the secondary level that is designed for ELs and is aligned with the general education curriculum.

ELD Specialist

An ELD Specialist is required to be certified and have specific training in ESL instruction. The ELD Specialist may provide English Language Development instruction or support services to ELs, and may collaborate with classroom teachers. In some cases, the ELD Specialist will be working on certification while in the position.

Formerly English Proficient Students (FLEP)

Formerly Limited English Proficient (FLEP) student has been exited from the ELD program because the student has scored proficient on the ACCESS, and multiple district assessments.

Inclusion

An EL is placed in general education and may receive tutorial support or receive service through a team approach.

Placement Team

The following staff should be part of the team working with ELs

- Classroom Teacher
- ELD Specialist
- ELD Para Educator
- Administrator

Content-Based Language Development Programs

Content-based Language Development programs group ELs from different languages together in classes where teachers use English as the medium for providing content area instruction. Teachers modify classroom language to the proficiency level of the students.

APPENDIX D: Guidelines

Most students should be placed in an age-appropriate classroom. Even if the student has not attended school before, the social nature of schooling cannot be ignored. It is important to place students with their peers and allow them to interact naturally. Exceptions may include students who have not attended school for more than a year.

- A student should be placed in classrooms that utilize the most interactive methods of teaching. English Learners (ELs) need to listen, speak, read, and write in meaningful contexts, at their proficiency level, to acquire English.
- All students need time to learn how to interact in an American school setting. ELD staff teach about the culture and language of school.
- Consideration is given to alternative means of assessment for the ELs. Portfolio assessments that include a broad range of student work, teacher observations, and even audio and videotapes of the student's work will offer a vision of student's progress over time. Every test is a language test; therefore, the student may understand content but be unable to decipher a multiple-choice test. The ELD Specialists collaborate with teachers in identifying ways of allowing the student to demonstrate what they have learned without using complex English. Assessments should be accommodated to meet the child's proficiency level.
- Student involvement in extra-curricular activities is encouraged for ELs at all grade levels.
- Additional standardized and curriculum-based assessments inform the decision of the team.

APPENDIX I: Parent Complaint Procedure

If/when a parent complaint is made about any facet of ELD services, the following steps will be taken to resolve the parent complaint:

1. The complaint will be brought to the classroom teacher or ELD Specialist.
2. The classroom teacher, the ELD specialist or the parent issuing the complaint will take the complaint to the building principal.
3. The building principal will contact the Director of ELD, Federal Grants and State Assessments regarding the complaint.
4. The Director of ELD, Federal Grants and State Assessments will explain the ELD eligibility process, ELD services, or appropriate portion of the ELD program to the parent and building principal. This explanation will include the requirements of Title III/ESSA as it related to the unresolved issue.
5. The appropriate documentation will be on file as having been completed by the parent issuing the complaint.
6. The appropriate documentation will be returned to the building principal, with a copy sent to the ELD Specialist and a copy placed in the ELD file for the student connected with the complaint, along with a copy of the formal complaint issued by the parent.
7. If the complaint cannot be resolved with the above procedure, further action on the part of the parent issuing the complaint will be shared with the Superintendent of Schools as necessary.

APPENDIX J (1): Guidelines for Grading Elementary ELs

These guidelines have been written so that ELs can be accurately assessed based on their abilities to perform academic tasks. They allow ELs to be assessed in their general education classes based on their current English language proficiency level rather than being penalized for their lack of English language proficiency.

There are two options on the report card:

1. Along with grades, EL is in the pull down menu for all subject areas on the report card. The report card key reads "EL=English Learner, needs more time to acquire the English language."
2. There is a check box on report cards. It reads "This student is an English Learner. The student's work was accommodated to meet his/her level of English Proficiency." This box should be checked when accommodations are being made in the classroom.

Non-English Speaking (NES) English Learners:

The student's First Marking Period:

- No grades-only EL for subject areas
- No effort grades required, but may be included

The student's Second Marking Period:

- No grades-only EL for subject areas (math computation may be graded)
- Add effort grades

After the student's Second Marking Period, grades can be added when appropriate.

Levels 1-5 English Learners Being Pulled for Services:

No grade lower than a C or P should be given to an English Learner, unless the report card descriptor indicates grade level. If an EL cannot earn these grades on his/her own, classroom accommodations NEED to be made. If the EL is receiving accommodations in the classroom, grades NEED to be accompanied by a checkmark in the English Language Learner Box.

Only exceptions: (Must consult with ELD staff and/or Principal)

- When the grade is because of a lack of student effort
- When the lower grade is not due to English proficiency
- A student that is not progressing at all, even with accommodations, and is possibly being considered for Special Education

Level 4-6 English Learners Not Being Pulled for Services:

No grade lower than a C or P should be given to an English Learner, unless the report card descriptor indicates grade level.

Only exceptions: (alert ELD staff of your concerns so that service can resume if necessary)

- When the grade is because of a lack of student effort
- When the lower grade is not due to English proficiency
- A student that is not progressing at all, even with accommodations, and is possibly being considered for Special Education

English Learner When Parent Refuses Services:

- No ELD accommodation for service or grades
- General classroom accommodation are required

The ELD staff is always available to assist with report cards. We can help the classroom teacher determine an appropriate grade, and write comments.

The WIDA Assessing Comprehension and Communication in English State-to-State (ACCESS) or Placement Test (W-APT) was administered to your child to determine eligibility in the Troy School District English Language Development Program. This test is required, on an annual basis, of all students whose native language or home language is not English. Your student's results, as indicated below, qualify him/her to receive G/H grading at the discretion of his/her teacher. A "G" grade indicates that the student has earned credit for the class. An "H" grade indicates that the student has NOT earned credit for the class.

Assessment Used: ___ WIDA ACCESS ___ W-APT (ACCESS Placement Test)

Level of English Proficiency:

- ___ 1 Entering
- ___ 2 Emerging
- ___ 3 Developing

APPENDIX K (3): Guidelines When Considering a Special Education Evaluation of an English Learner

Evaluation of an English Learner

I. Definition of English Learners (ELs):

An English Learner (EL) is as an individual who, among other things, has difficulties in speaking, reading, writing or understanding English language that may be sufficient enough to deny him or her the ability to meet challenging state academic standard

II. IDEA Federal Regulations:

The Individuals with Disabilities Education Improvement Act (IDEIA) of 2004, passed by Congress, is the statute or law that is the basis of special education in the United States. The Office of Special Education and Rehabilitative Services in the Department of Education is the agency that promulgates the federal regulations needed to implement the IDEIA. These regulations are referred to herein as the Federal Regulations (2006).

The Federal Regulations (2006) are very clear that a student should not be found eligible as a student with a disability if the determinant factor is limited English Proficiency. A team must rule out that the primary cause of the student's inadequate achievement is not a student's limited English proficiency. In determination of eligibility, the Individual Educational Program Team (IEPT) must consider the child's cultural and language differences. Assessment tools must be non-discriminatory with respect to race and culture.

CONSIDERING A SPECIAL EDUCATION EVALUATION

Second language acquisition is a lengthy, developmental process, whereby students acquire English listening, speaking, reading, and writing skills at the same time they are learning classroom academic content. Appropriate instruction should focus on both teaching the English language and providing access to and participation in all content area instruction at the ELs grade level. Even with the best instruction, there may be cases of students who are lacking progress and educators might wonder if the student might have a disability. The following are factors to consider when ELs are suspected of having academic difficulties.

I. Language Learning Differences Are Not Disabilities

ELs are learning English differently than their peers who are enrolled in English schools and have been learning only English throughout their entire lives. This difference does not constitute a disability. However, just as educationally-handicapping disabilities occur in students with English as their primary language, an EL student may also have a disability, in addition to learning English as a second language.

II. A Team Approach is Required

A Student Assistance Team (SAT) can develop a more accurate picture of the student than any one person can do separately. When possible, the team may include an ESL resource teacher and/or a bilingual/bicultural interpreter in the language and culture of the child/family.

III. Meaningful Data Collection and Analysis Must Occur Prior to Any Special Education Referral

One of the first tasks the team needs to do is to conduct a parent interview (with an interpreter of the family's native language, when possible) in order to obtain information about the student's native language development, language experience at home, and any prior literacy and school experience.

- The attached Parent Interview form will be completed in an in-person interview by a member of the SAT (Appendix A). It is meant to guide the discussion and all questions may not be pertinent. Consideration for the parent's level of English proficiency and education must be given at all times. Use parent friendly language.

The SAT needs to review the core Title III ESL services that the student has been receiving and the student's progress with the English Language Development (WIDA-ELD) standards that have been taught prior to the development of intervention strategies or a special education evaluation.

- The attached General Education Teacher Questionnaire (Appendix B) and the ESL Staff Questionnaire (Appendix C) should be used to gather relevant data. Not all questions may pertain to every student.

The SAT will assess reasonable progress by gathering repeated assessments of student performance over time on similar tasks at the ELs proficiency level. This allows the team to study a student's individual growth. Progress monitoring data should be collected to determine the student's response to these intervention strategies, including observable and measureable data. Periodic reviews will be conducted to determine the success or failure of the strategies. In the event the various strategies are not successful after being delivered with sufficient intensity, fidelity, and a reasonable amount of time, the student may be referred for a special education evaluation.

IV. Understanding Second Language Acquisition is Crucial for Accurate Data Interpretation

As students acquire English as a second language, they develop both Basic Interpersonal Communication Skills (BICS) and Cognitive Academic Language Proficiency (CALP) in English (Cummins, 1984). BICS represent the day-to-day vocabulary, grammar, and conversational skills that students use to engage in social interactions and meet their basic wants and needs. BICS are usually attained within the first two - three years of exposure to a second language. CALP represents more advanced, higher-level knowledge of the academic vocabulary, sentence structures, and classroom discourse that enable students to comprehend and express classroom academic knowledge. CALP develops over a longer period of time and may take from five to seven years or longer for ELs to master. CALP is a complex process that is impacted by previous schooling, age, cultural values, and background experiences. Students who have never received schooling in their primary language may take seven to ten years to become proficient. In general, ELs who have acquired solid literacy skills in their primary language (i.e.: possess primary language CALP) are more likely to master English CALP within the five to seven-year period. Conversely, younger ELs who have not had an opportunity to fully develop CALP in their primary language will generally take longer to develop English CALP. When language loss occurs, there may appear to be a lack of proficiency not only in English, but also in the primary language for a period of time. It is important to remember that this language loss is typical during second language acquisition because concepts are developing in two languages rather than just one. As ELs continue to be exposed to their primary language at home and English at school, they overcome this temporary loss and gain proficiency in both languages.

V. Determining “Adequate Progress” for EL Students is a Multifaceted Process

Evaluating the progress of ELs is accomplished by determining individual progress, not progress against grade level standards or national norms. Therefore, it is essential to establish a baseline of linguistic proficiency (speaking and listening) and academic performance (reading, writing, and math) in both L1 and L2. It is important to be able to determine individual progress from this baseline information.

| Adequate Progress (Team not likely to recommend a special education evaluation) | Inadequate Progress (Team likely to recommend a special education evaluation) |
|--|--|
| A half year of progress per grade level as a student is learning both the English language and academic skills in English. | Less than half year growth per grade level in English reading, writing or math skills |
| Acceleration in rate of progress in English reading, writing, or math skills as the student becomes more proficient in English. | Lack of acceleration in English reading, writing or math skills across school years. |
| In using the WIDA ACCESS, there should be yearly growth that can be compared. Typically, students may start at Level 1 (Entering) and move quickly to Emerging (Level 2); however, they may remain in Emerging (Level 2) for two or more years. The same pattern can happen within Developing (Level 3), where the student may remain for several years. As a general guideline, teams should consider one third to one half level of growth per year as typical | Less than one third to one half level of growth per year on the WIDA ACCESS. |

VI. Be Aware of the Major Methodological Issues When Using Standardized Tests for EL Students

Assessment of culturally and linguistically diverse students using standardized tests raises validity and reliability issues for three major reasons: 1) lack of representation in the norm sample, 2) cultural loading in any given test, and 3) linguistic demands required by the test.

Reporting statistical scores from standardized, norm-referenced tests is inappropriate when a student does not share the same characteristics as the normative sample used to develop the test. Standardized or norm-referenced tests should be used with extreme caution and only with a skilled examiner who understands both the linguistic and cultural load of the test. While standard scores, percentile ranks, or age-equivalents may provide baseline information about a student’s accuracy with the skills assessed on norm-referenced tests, they should not be used as the sole indicator of his/her skills or used to gauge how discrepant the student’s performance is from the average of his/her peers to determine eligibility for special education.

VII. Be Aware of IDEA 2004 Requirements

A student’s communication and learning difficulties must not be primarily due to cultural factors or limited English proficiency to be eligible for special education services under Federal Law (IDEA 2004, Sec. 614.(5),(C)) and State of Michigan Rules and Regulations (2012, R. 340.1713). Therefore, essential components must be addressed in the special education evaluation process for students learning English as a second language:

- Socio-Cultural History- Parent interview should occur in the parent’s primary language
- Student’s proficiency in their primary language (L1)
- Student’s proficiency in their secondary language (L2)
- Student’s history of core ESL instruction in school

To determine eligibility for special education, the following student characteristics must be considered.

| Student Characteristics | Special Education Recommendation |
|--|---|
| Difficulties only in English (L2) that are typical of students learning English as a second language | Not eligible as a student with a disability |
| Difficulties in both English (L2) and the student’s primary language (L1), with no history of L1 concerns prior to beginning English schooling “Language Loss” in the primary language (L1) may result from the process of learning English and a lack of sustained academic literacy support in L1 | Not eligible as a student with a disability |
| Difficulties in both English (L2) and the student’s primary language (L1) Difficulties in the primary language (L1) are explained by a true language disability present from early on and atypical of students learning English as a second language | Eligible as a student with a Speech and Language Impairment |
| Even with access to instructional level content in English reading, writing, or math, a pattern of strengths and weaknesses in achievement exists that is significantly discrepant from grade-level standards, both in rate of progress and overall achievement This pattern of strengths and weaknesses in achievement cannot be attributed to specific differences associated with a culture or its language This pattern represents atypical differences in achievement that are not predicated on a speech and language impairment * Please refer to Appendix D: Limited English Proficiency Key Decision Points adapted from the 2011 Oakland Schools SLD Guidance Document for further information on SLD identification for EL’s | Eligible as a student with a Learning Disability |

CONCLUSION

This document was jointly developed by members of the Troy School District ELD Department and the Special Education Department. It is based on a similar, more comprehensive document written by staff at Oakland Schools and available at Oakland.k12.mi.us. The purpose of this document is to facilitate a common understanding of the Big Ideas and Best Practices to be used by teams as they work together to meet the needs of EL’s.

APPENDIX K: (4) Provision of Service to Student Who Are Both English Learners and Eligible for Special Education Support

According to Federal laws, including the Vocational Rehabilitation Act, the Civil Rights Act, and IDEA 2004, individuals with disabilities cannot be excluded from or denied the benefits of programs or activities supported with federal funds solely on the basis of their disability. Therefore, students with disabilities who are also English Learners have the right to participate in both English Language Development Programs and/or Services as well as Special Education Programs and/or Services. In other words, a school district may not automatically exclude such students from either type of program/and or service. Rather, decisions about how to provide programs and services to meet the student's unique needs must be made on an individualized basis.

A variety of factors should be considered in developing coordinated SE-ELD services for the student:

- The learner's disability.
- The learner's current stage of English acquisition, proficiency level, and corresponding ELD service level.
- Effects of the certified disability on the student's ability to benefit from ELD service.
- Scheduling that balances all support services and provides the most appropriate and inclusive educational opportunity.

ELD Service Options:

At all grade levels:

- ELD service at or below the number of minutes recommended in the ELD Handbook
- Monitoring, collaboration and consultation in place of direct service

At the elementary level:

- Push-in English language intervention
- Pull-out English language development instruction

At the middle school level:

- Transitional Language Arts classes
- Content area or English language tutoring
