Our ONE Gala

What a fun night at Southridge! On behalf of the entire Southridge community, I would like to thank everyone who attended our annual gala this year. A special and big thank you goes out to our gala co-chairs, parents Karen Dosanjh and Krinder Rai. They put together a wonderful night and their efforts are highly appreciated by all of us. I'd also like to thank Jennifer Smith, Nancy Hutton and Maria Flather who put in countless hours for the kids art projects.

At Southridge, one of our four defining pillars is a genuine commitment to service – service to each other and to the wider community. We see this happen often at Southridge through the relationships we have with the many organizations and communities we support, both locally and internationally. In fact, the inspiration for the theme of this year's The ONE Gala was our service pillar. The idea that one act can change lives was very well articulated by Grade 12 student, Cassia Armstrong, in her remarks to our gala guests. It was also further supported by emcee Andrew Bay's opening comments as well. At Southridge, we put as much emphasis on goodness as we do on knowledge, and the support that this year's gala gave to that notion was really meaningful.

The proceeds from our gala evenings over the past eighteen years have provided our teachers and students with valuable equipment, outstanding learning resources and wonderful educational opportunities. The ONE Gala specifically supported important capital items at the school, including athletics equipment and uniforms, library acquisitions, lab equipment, art supplies and building improvements and upgrades. In addition, funds from the ONE Gala will also purchase important new technology at the school, including class sets of tablets, Kindles and USB writing pads.

In keeping with the service theme of the ONE Gala, we will be allocating a portion of our revenue to our Senior School students who will be travelling to Ecuador and Kenya this spring on service trips. These students fundraise in the months leading up to their trips in order to provide relief and support for the communities they will be visiting. Support from this year's event will help kick start their fundraising, so that they might make an even bigger impact in our sister communities.

Whether you came to the gala as a parent, a teacher, or a special guest, I would like to thank you for supporting the Southridge community. I would also like to thank all of those businesses and individuals who supported the gala through their generous donations and sponsorships. Finally, all of the members of the Gala Committee deserve a special acknowledgement for their dedication. Well done Southridge!

Have a wonderful week!

Mr. Drew Stephens
Head of School

Share your Strengths

Imagine what a harmonious world it could be if every single person, both young and old, shared a little of what he is good at doing.
Quincy Jones, Musician

At Monday's assembly, we listened to one of our Grade 5 girls sing a beautiful rendition of a Disney song entitled, 'When you Believe'. As I listened at her purity of voice, and the clear message that she sang to all who were gathered in the Great Hall that morning, I was humbled by her gift of talent. It reminded me of the diversity of talent in our school, and the gift of contribution when people share their unique talents.

I listen to Dr. Bessflug so easily play the piano for us, and I marvel at how Mr. Teja can solve my seemingly insurmountable IT issues with a few clicks on the key board. I watch our Grade 7 girls as they endure through basketball tryouts, leaving all their energy and grit on the floor - I marvel at their skill level and determination.

I listened to the Remembrance Day writing selections and pondered the selection of words and rhyming schemes with which these students communicated respect and honour. I respect how Mr. Gallant can timetable and organize tournaments, or how calmly and kindly Ms. Reid can respond to a first aid injury of any magnitude.

I appreciate Ms. Schaub's friendly demeanor and kindness no matter how many band aids she applies or how many photocopies she makes. I value Mrs. Raber philosophically debating educational ideas, values, and implementation with such passion and knowledge, and the calm methodical approach of Ms. Wray when dealing with issues of fair play on the playground. When I walked into the Southridge Gala on Saturday evening, I was amazed at the décor, the transformation of our gym into a magical hall—many hands and ideas brought this to fruition, using talent that many of us could never emulate. 'Each of us has different talents' - a line we sing each day five from our school song. Our hope at Southridge is that each of us shares our talents, and makes our school that much better each and every day.

Have a great week,

Mrs. Laurel Middelaer
Head of Junior School

Upcoming Christmas Concerts

Being mindful of the upcoming season and busy schedules, we would like to announce the dates of our Christmas concerts: Matinee performance on Tuesday, December 17, 2013 at 1:30 pm and an evening performance on Wednesday, December 18, 2013 at 6:30 pm. We hope that our families will be able to attend one of these presentations.

Dismissal for Christmas Holidays and Return for Monday, January 13, 2014 - Late Start

On Friday, December 20, 2013, all students are dismissed at 12:00 noon. At this time, all students will receive their report card. Our Christmas break is three weeks this year and please ensure that your calendar is clearly marked for a return date of Monday, January 13, 2014 (Day 2). Please also note that we have a late start that day and students need to arrive between 10:10 and 10:20 for a start time of 10:25 a.m. Please do not bring students any earlier as the faculty will be in meetings and unavailable to supervise.

Typhoon Haiyan Relief for the Philippines

With the recent devastation in the Philippines students in both the PYP and MYP have been inspired to build awareness and raise funds for the Red Cross. As such a lemonade stand and candy jar guessing contest are planned for Thursday with sales by the gym at recess and lunch hour, and in the Great Hall after school until 3:15 PM. Lemonade is by donation and guesses are $.50 cents each.

It is important that we are all aware of the challenges faced by others and that we take a moment to offer our support. All donations will be matched by the federal government to double our Southridge donation to the Red Cross of Canada. Thank you kindly for your support.

Mrs. Murchie
Junior School Service Co-ordinator

W. E. Kinvig Clothing Collection is Happening this Week!

Once again, we will be collecting donations of new and gently used clothing for families at W.E. Kinvig Elementary School in North Surrey. Many children that attend W.E. Kinvig come from families who live below the poverty line and cannot afford to meet some of their basic needs. Some of the families are refugees from countries where the climate is very different from ours, and some of them had to leave with only the few things they could carry in their arms. We are very privileged at Southridge to be able to afford more than our essential needs, and we want to share with those who have more limited means.

Winter clothing (e.g. coats, jackets, sweaters, hoodies, scarves, mittens, jeans, long-sleeved shirts, boots, and shoes) is in high demand, but all kinds of clothes for babies, children, teens, and adults are needed. Please ensure that the clothing you bring in is clean and in good repair. Donations of NEW undergarments, tights, and socks are also welcome.

From Monday, November 18th until Monday, November 25th, Southridge will run the W.E. Kinvig Clothing Drive in the Junior School Great Hall, and everyone can drop off their donations in the labelled collecting boxes. Southridge has been contributing in various ways to families and staff at W.E. Kinvig School for almost a decade! Students in both Junior and Senior schools are very excited to be hosting the clothing drive again this year. Our goal is to collect even more items than last year! Thanks in advance to everyone for your support!

CELEBRATING!

"There is no such thing in anyone's life as an unimportant day" ~Alexander Woollcott
"The more you praise and celebrate your life, the more there is in life to celebrate" ~ Oprah Winfrey

I began my Monday Assembly remarks with a "Peanuts" Cartoon. This particular one had Snoopy sitting upon his red doghouse with his typewriter (remember those in schools?!) and saying, "Sometimes when you are a great writer, the words come so fast you can hardly put them down on paper..." The next frame has him staring blankly at the typewriter. The final frame has him repeating the word “sometimes...” while looking very distressed. Sadly, on some Monday’s this is how I feel with my impending Wednesday submission coming! For this particular week, however, it wasn’t the topic that had me perplexed but how to best expand on it and try to clearly explain the idea. As you can see from the title above, my topic is celebrating and the seed of this idea came from a number of places, both personally and from my experiences at school. Perhaps the beginning of this idea came from the wonderful news last year that my aunt, Jocelyn Palm, had been awarded the Order of Canada! This coming Friday marks her celebration at Rideau Hall in Ottawa where the pomp and circumstance of receiving the award occurs. My mother will be travelling with her as her special guest. However, my mom wanted to have a party for my aunt in Toronto, where she lives, afterwards on the weekend. When she first brought forth this idea, my aunt wasn’t very keen about the idea, wondering who would want to attend. As my mom persisted and asked some friends and family (who quickly accepted the offer!) my aunt began to warm up to the idea and now is quite excited to have this event. I am fortunate enough to be able to attend as well and I am excited to be able to share in this wonderful accomplishment of a family member I very much admire. It also got me thinking about the topic of celebrating in general.

Over the past few weeks and in my capacity of Head of Senior School I have had the privilege of sitting in some amazing classes that have occurred. A few math classes I observed in particular had the students discussing a number of problems assigned for homework and really working hard to find the solutions together. It wasn’t easy and, as the teacher facilitated their efforts and discussion, the students stuck to it for over an hour. In the end, I truly believe that every student understood how to solve these particular problems and use this knowledge for future problems. As their principal, I honestly felt like cheering and clapping for this effort. It was inspirational and made me proud of the class’ perseverance, but they weren’t nearly as eager to feel this way when I tried to celebrate this. Why? This got me thinking more about celebrating...

Added to these two pensive events is my continued frustration that can sometimes occur during our Senior School assemblies during the year. As many of you will know, we have some pretty amazing students here at Southridge who do some amazing things. In my opinion, this is a description of ALL of our students! We like to acknowledge these great accomplishments and often ask the students to come to the front of the Great Hall. Usually, this is met with a look of terror and a begging of “please don’t make me!” As a compromise, teachers will simply ask students to stand up at their seats but they will stand up and sit down so fast that it is hard to even ascertain who participated. Why do adolescents have such a hard time celebrating these great accomplishments in front of their peers when they often represent such dedicated and committed effort?

The last piece of my topic arrived on last Saturday morning. After a lengthy illness with dementia, my father-in-law passed away. As you can imagine, there is a great deal of sadness with this news and he will be dearly missed. Obviously, there is so much more that I could write about this single event; however, within the context of my topic, his life can certainly be celebrated. He was a wonderful role model and man! He was incredibly kind and thoughtful and always had time for the people in his presence and accepted them for who they were. I will always remember him as a great listener and those that were fortunate to spend time with him always came away feeling that they were valued and special because of the focus and attention he gave to them. How do we ensure we can celebrate all of the ways people impact our lives in such positive ways and how can we use their example to pass this on to others around us?

I told the students after expounding on these thoughts that it was important to celebrate and I used the two quotations found at the top of this article in order to give further context my assertion. Celebrating an accomplishment helps to make it meaningful for us and creates momentum to move towards new goals and challenges. It gives us confidence! Even little successes need to be celebrated – not in the same manner as bigger ones but still with a sense that it is acceptable and important to do this. This could be finding the solution to a problem, making sense of lab data, getting a scene just right in drama, or just simply making it through a tough day. I encouraged the students that the next time they came up to the front of an assembly to enjoy their moment! And I asked the students to please help those people to enjoy the moment by clapping and making them feel special.

Here were a few other ways I encouraged them to celebrate:

- Singing O Canada strongly and proudly at assembly (this doesn't always happen very well!) Celebrating the wonderful country in which we all live!
- Attend a home game even if it means maybe calling your parents to ask if they can pick you up a little later, especially a playoff game. Celebrating the students and coaches that have worked hard to represent Southridge.
- Attend productions, movie nights, winter concerts or student initiated service events such as Mini We Day. Celebrating effort and commitment and great ideas initiated!

I tried to sum it up into one word: SPIRIT!

It seems these days that some of these important accomplishments go uncelebrated and we want to try and acknowledge that celebrating is an important part of learning and life and that it is perfectly acceptable to do!

I encourage you to help your child(ren) try to find these accomplishments – both big and small and together, celebrate them! You just might see me cheering them on, too! In fact, as they left the assembly I played Kool & the Gang's song, Celebration! "Celebrate good times, come on!"

Enjoy the week and I look forward to sharing my celebration in Toronto with you in the future.

Doug Palm
Head of Senior School

Southridge Annual Blood Drive

Every year Southridge holds a blood drive this year we are hoping to get more participants than ever. If we surpass the amount of blood donations that other school have we will be awarded money towards our graduation. We hope that students (17 or older), parents and teachers will donate blood or anyone else that would like to donate. The blood bank appreciates every donation and is used to save lives across Canada. British Columbia has the biggest shortage of blood in Canada and with just one donation you can save three lives. When donating blood you will find out what blood type you are and will receive a donor card. Transportation will be provided to and from school or you can go on your own time throughout the day.

We will be going:

January 22nd 11am-7pm

April 24th 11am-7pm

Please email one of us to sign up or for more details:

Success at Watermania

This past Friday and Saturday eleven Southridge swimmers competed at the British Columbia High School Swimming Provincial Championships at Watermania in Richmond. It is a very competitive meet with no division between seniors and junior or small schools and large schools. During Friday’s preliminaries we qualified 3 relays and 3 individual events to race again on Saturday. Our 4X50 free mixed relay team made up of Melissa Liu, Isabelle Lei, Karl Rumm and Tony Ma placed 6th while Melissa placed 7th in her 50m free race. The top eight swimmers in Melissa’s event were all within less than a second of each other. The highlight of the weekend came at the very end of the day on Saturday in an extremely exciting 4x50 girls free relay. Melissa Liu, Nicole Ure, Katherine Toy, and Isabelle Lei were in a tight race for silver with Semiahmoo Secondary and Penticton High. They ended up winning the silver medal by 0.44 seconds over Semiahmoo. What a great finish for this relay – gold at Fraser Valleys and silver at Provincials. Congratulations to all swimmers, and I am looking forward to another exciting swim season next year. I would like to thank Jessica Lee for timing at the meet, Dr. Ruby Chan and Mrs. Wendy Lei for volunteering as stroke and turn officials on Saturday and for being great supporters of all of us. All of your help is greatly appreciated, always!

Ms. Beer

W.E. Kinvig

Last year we collected gently used clothing for a school in North Surrey called W.E. Kinvig. A number of families at this school live in poverty; many are refugees who come from war-torn countries and are not well-prepared for winter in Canada. Several children at W. E. Kinvig School do not have enough food to eat and warm clothes to wear. We at Southridge have so much more than we need and would like to share with those who don’t have enough to meet their basic needs.

Our collection will run until Friday, November 29, 2013. Please place your gently used winter clothing and footwear in the labelled boxes that will be provided by the Senior School front door, and help us to fill even more boxes this year!

Kyla Davies, Isabelle Lei, and Madisen Muncey-Buckley (Grade 9)

Thank You from the Bonneville's

On behalf of Serena, Braxton, Jim and myself, I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone in the Southridge community for their support through Serena's crisis. She is now considered to be in remission and this has allowed her to move on to the next stage of treatment which will be approximately 5 to 6 months in duration.

We really cannot thank you all enough for the kind words, emails, texts, cards, gifts along with the wonderful dinners that somehow show up on our doorstep every Wednesday. Between trips to Children's Hospital and juggling our work schedules it is a welcome sight to have a home cooked meal on the table that comes complete with the love and support that this Southridge community can provide. If there is one thing we have learned through this journey so far it is that large or small, it's the caring and supportive gestures that get you through.

Sincerely,

The Bonneville's

Thank You Gala Volunteers!

The ONE Gala was an enormous success, thanks in no small part to the participation and support of our wonderful volunteers. As always, our parents, staff, students, faculty and even some very kind grandparents, pitched in wherever help was needed. From the auction procurement team and kids' art volunteers that start working over the summer, to the Sunday morning clean-up crew, volunteerism at Southridge is certainly alive and well! A special thank-you to Mr. McInnes for creating a time-lapse video of the gym set-up on Friday, November 15th, which just happened to be National Philanthropy Day. Ironically, it shows what volunteers are capable of when they work together – the true meaning of philanthropy.

We also would like to add a special thank you to this year's grad class, and Ms. Mosher and Ms. Becker, who came early Sunday morning to help clean-up the gym, Great Hall, and cafeteria. They made quick work of a very big job and their hard work and support was much appreciated. The Class of 2014 continues to inspire and impress us all! Thanks!
