The Masquerade Gala

This was a Gala to remember. When I found out it was planned as a masquerade event, I was really excited because I had never been to such an occasion. Of course, I wanted to find out more about the history of these kinds of things and so I dug around . . . and was quite surprised by what I found.

For those of you who may not be aware, masquerade events have both a glamorous and gruesome history dating all the way back to the 14th Century. Beginning as part of Europe's carnival season, villagers would gather in masks and costumes to take part in elaborate pageants and glamorous processions. By the time France got involved toward the end of the century, though, the masquerade ball had transformed into a night of intrigue and risk sometimes ending with costumes catching on fire and, presumably, serious injury.

Not to be outdone, after reviving the masquerade ball in the 16th Century, Renaissance Italy upped the ante and added decadence, gluttony and an abundance of lust to the intrigue and risk, and a mere 200 hundred years later the event transformed once again, adding a sinister edge to the gruesome affair. Certainly, the King of Sweden danced his last dance at his own masquerade ball in 1771 when an unhappy aristocrat used his masks to sneak into the ball and do-si-doe close enough to the king to assassinate him. From that point onward, the masquerade ball was associated with an ultimate night of risk, inspiring operas and plays alike.

After learning more about these kinds of masquerade affairs I was a little less excited and a lot more apprehensive.

Luckily, our co-chairs Jody Thomas and Anita Hundal, dedicated an incredible amount of effort into establishing our Masquerade Gala as a tasteful and elegant affair – far from the madding crowds of 18th Century Europe. For those of you who were not able to attend, our masquerade gala in no way, shape or form resembled the storied and dramatic affairs of the past. Speaking on behalf of the gala attendees, all you had to do was look around to appreciate the tasteful transformation of our gym into to a place of style and panache.

My sincerest appreciation goes out to everyone who had anything to do with organizing this year's gala. As always, volunteerism at Southridge never ceases to amaze me. Were it not for the combined efforts and contributions of so many parent volunteers, this evening would never have been possible. Your contributions – as sponsors, volunteers, and active participants in the silent and live auctions – went a very long way in helping to create our special event. The video that was shown at the Gala can be viewed here.

On behalf of the Southridge community, I would like to express an enthusiastic thank you to Jody and Anita for their dedication to the creation of this year's modernized and genteel Masquerade Gala event.

Have a wonderful week!

A Light-Hearted Place of Serious Purpose

Our first headmaster, Alan Brown, defined Southridge School as a 'light-hearted place of serious purpose' and I cannot concur more with this apt description. We take the education of your child very seriously—purposefully, professionally, and responsibly. But coupled with that duty of crafting lessons that will lead to mastery of concepts and fostering creative thought, we also look for ways to make learning fun. After all, if our students are to be life-long learners, they need to be ably equipped, but they also need to enjoy it.

Part of creating a light, engaging classroom is with an intentional focus on climate or culture. Each of classrooms is unique but the commonality is that they are safe, caring and respectful. I love to go into each classroom every day, and I get a sampling of the different culture or feeling that exists in each room. Our teachers bring their own personality into their realm of teaching, and this adds to the lightness and humanity of our classes. They actively seek to understand your child, and really get to know them—all about them: their strengths, challenges, likes, dislikes, idiosyncrasies, their passions, their hurts, and hopes. And with that understanding of the child grows engagement. In an engaged classroom, children feel safe, take risks, and then true learning happens.

Simply put, these classrooms have that light-hearted feel. We strive to deliver this trusted environment for your child each and every day: a place where your child feels known and cared for.

Enjoy the week,

AR Reading Cut Off Date—Friday, November 27 - Grade 3-7

Just a reminder to all students in grade three to seven that the last day for writing AR tests that count towards term one is on Friday, November 27, 2015. It is helpful to know that this deadline is looming in order to avoid a last minute rush on test-writing. Ideally, students set realistic goals in consultation with their teachers, and the AR goal is manageable and attainable; we are just supporting good reading habits. However, we are mindful that lives get busy, and knowledge of deadlines is very helpful.

Upcoming Christmas Concerts

Being mindful of the upcoming season and busy schedules, we would like to announce the dates of our Christmas concerts: Matinee performance on Tuesday, December 15, 2015 at 1:30 pm and an evening performance on Wednesday, December 16, 2015 at 6:30 pm. We hope that our families will be able to attend one of these presentations.

Dismissal for Christmas Holidays and Return for Monday, January 11, 2016- Late Start

On Friday, December 18, 2015, all students are dismissed at 12:00 noon. At this time, all students will receive their report card. Our Christmas break is three weeks this year and please ensure that your calendar is clearly marked for a return date of Monday, January 11, 2016 (Day 3). Please also note that we have a late start that day and students need to arrive between 10:10 and 10:20 for a start time of 10:25 a.m. Please do not bring students any earlier as the faculty will be in meetings and unavailable to supervise.

Scholastic Book Fair

The Junior School library will be hosting a Scholastic Book Fair in the Junior Great Hall on the week of November 24 - 26th. This event allows us to purchase materials for libraries and classrooms. We also support the W.E. Kinvig School library with this event. Please come by and browse. Don't forget to enter the draw for a $25.00 door prize for yourself and the classroom. Flyers will be coming home after class previews on the Tuesday and Wednesday of the fair week with your child's wish list attached. Purchasing is optional but if you decide to purchase, you can send your wish list choices back to the school on Wednesday or Thursday or come and visit us at the fair.

On Account, cheques, credit cards and debit accepted. Please note the change of times from previous years:

- Thursday, November 26 - 7:45 am – 3:30 p.m.

Thank you for your support.

Annual Christmas Hampers

As the holiday season approaches we empathize with those less fortunate than we are and help them to enjoy a more comfortable time. Through a local organization, Options, we have been linked to many needy people in the Surrey area. To start, this Casual Day on Friday, November 27th, we will support mentally-challenged single clients from Options, who, because of their single status, are not eligible for Christmas Bureau or other sponsoring opportunities. Please send $5 with your child this Friday for this part of the overall project.

As well, we are sponsoring sixteen refugee families. Each class, from Kindergarten to Grade 7, will adopt one family and fill a hamper with non-perishable supplies. Today your child will bring home a letter requesting specific donations that should be brought in over the next two weeks until December 12th, to your child's classroom. You may also then check with your child's teacher for more information about the family he or she is sponsoring. If you have any strong boxes that may be useful, please offer them to your child's teacher(s) or me, as we always seem to need more. The hampers will then be picked up and delivered by the case workers during the week before the break.

Thank you so much for your generosity and support. Giving to others is a rewarding and important experience for children, as they learn to be caring and respectful community members.

PYP Feast- Magic of Giving

Date: Thursday, December 17

Theme: The Magic of Giving

Dress up: in something magical or sparkly

Purpose: To promote the PYP community by coming together to celebrate. Promote relationships between grades. Provide leadership for grade 4's. To have fun!

We will begin with singing carols in the great hall and move to our multi-age groups to play games and make crafts. The actual eating or 'feasting' begins at 11:30.

The signup sheets for volunteering will be posted by Dec. 2nd outside of your child's classroom door. You also may be contacted via your room representative. We will need help with set up, clean up or prepare food. Jasmine Sandhu and Sabrina Pawa, are our parent volunteer co-coordinator for the feast. Thanks once again for all your support.

What do you need to do as a parent?

- sign up on the list outside of your child's classroom to bring food or to help with set up and clean up
- help your child dress in 'theme wear' – magical, sparkles

Any questions email Jasmine Sandhu: jasmine_sandhu@live.com or Sabrina Pawa: sabrina_bagri@hotmail.com

An Example of Our Community

A wonderful aspect of being at a school is the gift of participating or witnessing inspiring events involving the students and community in general. In my role, I try to attend as many events as possible so I can 'see' these happen live. Often times it is a planned event - an athletic match, assembly, class or co-curricular opportunity. Sometimes these types of interactions occur during less structured times - in between classes, while waiting to board a bus or ferry. I always hope I won't miss these! Unfortunately, last week this is exactly what happened; however, the amazing feedback that came from it by people that did attend was remarkable! It seemed to present a perfect example of our community.

Along with the regular bands, choirs and ensembles that perform at the various concerts throughout the year, there are a number of performers that audition for an opportunity. Usually, this occurs at lunch or after school just in front of our music department. A number of acts are chosen and fit into the program for the upcoming concert. This year, the music department decided to change this process. They wanted to have these 'auditions' occur at an evening coffee house style performance. Each act would be able to perform during the evening and the invited audience, including all of the other performers.

The music department had a vision for how the 'scene' would look and our talented Art Technician, Ms. Janet Bailey along with our amazing facilities department (they set such an amazing example of hard work and dedication for us all!) were able to transform the Alan Brown Great Hall into a back patio type environment. This included light-strings arching overhead! Our Tech crew prepared lights and sound to make the evening professional looking and sounding (they, too, are incredibly dedicated!).

The evening was hosted by two Grade 12 students and featured many Senior School students. Perhaps the best feedback I received was from people trying to convey the various acts that performed. In some cases, an individual or ensemble was already known as very talented; however, the particular song or performance solidified the person's opinion of their musical prowess. The other type of news I received from the evening was what made me wish I had attended. This was the joy and positive impression that came from a student (or students) that exposed a new talent previously unknown to most people. For example a student playing guitar and singing solo that had

SOUTHRIDGE WEDNESDAY

Our Weekly News

NOVEMBER 25, 2015

never done so at school! Think of the risk that this would take and the confidence they had that their peers and community would support them.

I was told that many people attending forgot about the night being an audition because of the enjoyment that came from all of the wonderful talent and the environment that was created. And really, every student had the opportunity to perform and be supported by their peers, parents and friends.

As the evening ended and the lights came up normally everyone would head home...unless it's Southridge that is! Many of the people stayed to help set down the Great Hall realizing how quickly things get done if we all take part – students, teachers, parents and guests. The next morning, as I asked how the evening had gone, the positive buzz that being a part of something special was still very evident.

Looking forward, I know that I will not be missing the Winter Concerts that are coming up and I encourage all of you to attend. Perhaps you can also look for the next inspirational event that might happen – I certainly hope I am there beside you!

Have a great week!

Senior School Christmas Concerts, December 8 and 9, 2015

It is hard to believe that the Senior School Christmas Concerts are only three weeks away! The bands and choirs are eagerly preparing and the student directed ensembles will be performing at Auwh! this Thursday night for a featured spot in the concerts.

All Southridge Music students will be performing in both shows. Please mark the following dates on the family calendar and plan to join us for one or both evenings:

Concerts: Tuesday, December 8th and Wednesday, December 9th, at 7:00 pm
Dress rehearsal: Monday, December 7th, 8:30 am to 11:30 am

There is no charge for this concert. Simply come and enjoy the music!

Donations Need for Sources Women's Centre

Next week, there will be a donation week to collect winter coats and boots as well as food items for the Sources Women's Centre. If you decide to bring in an item, you get raffle ticket to be entered into a draw for a big chocolate bar that'll be raffled off each day. All donations are greatly appreciated and days for different donations will be as follows:

MONDAY: Sweet treats such as brownies, cookies, gingerbread and shortbread

TUESDAY: Take away snacks such as granola bars, protein bars and Ensure drinks

WEDNESDAY: Tomato products such as sauce, paste, diced.

THURSDAY: Canned meats such as tuna and chicken

FRIDAY: Winter coats and boots for women and children only as men are not allowed in the Women's Centre.

This fundraiser is really important for women who are leaving abusive relationships or are suffering from poverty.

Thanks for your donations in advance!

Reporting Student Marks to Post Secondary Institutions.

Grade 12 can be an anxious time for both students and their parents. Ms. Livingston, Mr. Weaver and I have been talking to our grade 12 students to advise them of the best procedure for ensuring that their marks are reported in an accurate and timely manner. The criteria and deadlines for applying to different institutions and programs have become much more varied and complex, as institutions vie for the very best students, and we need to help our students advocate for themselves in an appropriate manner. To this end I have clarified what is, and is not, appropriate in discussing marks with their teachers. Students should not approach teachers directly for additional marks, or ask for extra assignments to generate better marks. They can, and should, ask for help in developing their skills and understanding, attend additional tutorials, work with a peer tutor – all of which may lead to the desired improvement in performance.

I have advised students that if they need to advocate for an increased mark – they are just shy of an average for a competitive program or a major scholarship for example - then the correct pathway would be to go directly to Mr. Weaver, Ms. Livingston or myself. Similarly we would ask that parents follow the same procedure and approach the University Counsellors with any specific requests. Together Mr. Weaver, Ms. Livingston and I would discuss the legitimacy of the request and approach the teachers concerned. Please be assured that, though we must maintain our integrity as an academic institution, we will always work for the optimum benefit of our students.

About ZoomFest:

Mulgrave ZOOM Film Festival is in its 16th year and has one of the highest participation rates of any student film competition in the Province of British Columbia. Filmmakers have 48 hours to plan, shoot and produce a finished film. During the tension-packed 48 hours students will conceptualize, write, shoot, edit, post and drop-off their six-minute film to be judged by BC industry professionals. Zoomfest films are a true look into today's youth culture, last year there were over 100 films from more than 40 BC schools.

Two words: Endless gratitude. Thank you.

We can't begin to thank everyone enough for all the incredible support we received for the Masquerade Ball on Saturday night. Each year the Southridge community kind-heartedly contributes to this annual fundraising event and this year was no exception.

The evening was a huge success and everything from the lively jazz music of our Senior jazz students, the food, the dueling pianos and our dynamic Auctioneer, was truly first-class.

Thank you to all our sponsors – your generous financial support is essential for the event to be an amazing and impressive occasion and we were overwhelmed by your enthusiastic response this year.

Thank you to all our dedicated donors, who's willingness to donate items, services and unique experiences, is a true testament to your commitment and loyalty to our community spirit.

A special thank you to our amazing volunteers – without all your help and assistance in the days prior to, and day of the event, the evening just wouldn't be possible.

And finally, thank you to all the attending guests who embraced the Masquerade theme and dressed to impress in all their feathers and finery – the best gift comes from the heart and your support is the reason we all succeed.

Thank you!

Stories of Character: Episode VI

As Term One winds down, the busy nature of our school winds up, and in this sometimes stressful environment, character often reveals itself. Along with projects, tests, debates, and report cards, the Fall Season of Athletics is also wrapping up. In typical Southridge fashion, this doesn't just mean a quiet wrap-up dinner, but, increasingly frequently over the last several years, it involves participating in the highest level of secondary school athletics possible here, the BC Provincial Championships.

This fall, all of our teams played in these major tournaments. While the Senior Girls Field Hockey Team was battling it out in Victoria, the Senior Boys Soccer came very close to winning it all in Kelowna. At the time of this writing, Senior Volleyball is still fighting it out, and our one Cross Country athlete, Cayla Smith, battled through an icy rainstorm and muddy conditions more suitable to a World War I re-enactment than a final race of the season.

But it was our Swim Team that really wowed me this season. If you were at Senior Assembly this past Monday, you would have heard their story, but it is certainly worth repeating here. Every year, this group of athletes somehow seems to outdo many much larger schools at the Provincial level and this year was no exception – they finished an astonishing fifth out of over forty schools competing. Isabelle Lei, Lauren Toy, and Catherine Grimme scored some remarkable individual results in their events, but it was in the relay events that something special happened. While the mixed foursome of Karl Rumm, Katherine Toy, Isabelle Lei and Tony Ma impressively earned a bronze medal, the heavily favoured girls' relay team faced some adversity. Ranked first after the qualifying heats and the defending champions, they romped over the competition and easily won the final race. However, post-race they were informed that they had been disqualified because of a slightly early start. It would have been easy for the team to turn in on itself and to point fingers at each other in their extreme disappointment. What happened instead was something magical: they stood together and proclaimed that the loss didn't matter, that they had tried their best as a team, and were already looking

Our Weekly News

NOVEMBER 25, 2015

forward to returning next year as senior athletes. Clearly, they are really a team rather than a set of individuals, and their opponents next year better watch out.

What is so neat about this unexpected reaction is it highlights how our kids deal with adversity. Granted, they don't have a lot of practice at this crucial skill – they are often so successful in so many ways, and are surrounded by so many supportive parents and teachers that try to protect them – often to a fault. The character they showed in facing loss, then, was so much more powerful than a story of victory would have been – and I'm thankful that their coach, Ms. Beer, was able to share it with all of us as an inspiring lesson in teamwork at Monday's assembly.
