Tomorrow is National Philanthropy Day

I found the coincidence that National Philanthropy Day falls just two days before our Gala to be really interesting. Canada is the first country in the world to have this day designated by Parliament to recognize philanthropy. National Philanthropy Day is a special day designated to recognizing and paying tribute to the great contributions that philanthropy – and those people active in the philanthropic community – have made to our lives, our communities and our world.

What makes philanthropy at Southridge so special is that no one is required to give of themselves. There are no policies at Southridge mandating that you must volunteer or get involved. Philanthropy is so powerful at Southridge precisely because it is voluntary. And it's not just voluntary for our parents. Our students are right in there as well. In fact, their attitude toward philanthropy is incredible. The amount of time they spend volunteering is remarkable, and their involvement in building the essence of a strong school community is really impressive.

Through your generosity, and that of parents who have been a part of Southridge before you, millions of dollars and volunteer hours have been given to Southridge. And since National Philanthropy Day takes place tomorrow, I would like to say thank you to everyone in our community (parents, students, teachers and staff) who has given so generously. Your involvement – whether it has been through volunteering, giving, helping at an event or showing your support by staying connected to Southridge at special occasions – makes philanthropy possible.

For those of you who are attending this year's Gala – as volunteers or dinner guests – let's remember that giving at Southridge takes on all sorts of forms. What is important is that we come together as a community to contribute to something bigger than ourselves individually. The Gala is a wonderful example of our community's strong sense of philanthropy.

Welcome Gethin Cawthorn

I am excited to share with you a warm welcome to Gethin Huw Breeze Cawthorn to our Southridge Community. Gethin arrived almost week early at 1:05pm on Sunday, November 11th, weighing in at just over 8 lbs. This is the first child for Emma Breeze, our Senior School Librarian, and her husband Huw.

Mother and son are doing well and are excited to be back home as they start family life together.

Have a wonderful week!

The Faculty of Southridge - 21st Century Learners

Once a term, a group of Junior School teachers meet over sushi in our staff room to discuss the latest educational journal selected for our professional reading club. This group, consisting of various PYP, MYP and specialist teachers, voluntarily meets once a term to discuss, debate, critique, digest and challenge a different educational book or journal with their peers. Sometimes educational journals can be somewhat dry and challenging to comprehend—however, when reviewed in a collaborative setting with colleagues and peers, these philosophies can be distilled down and internalized. Two of our Junior School teachers started this professional book club—since its inception, it has grown to over 12 members, the membership fluctuating dependent on the book, or the time of year. Our last book was Tony Wagner's Creating Innovators—The Making of Young People Who Will Change the World addressed the characteristics of a 21 century learner and how schools can teach students to be creative innovators. Whilst discussing this book, it became apparent to the teachers present that our mission statement at Southridge School actually encompasses all the attributes of what a 21st century learner should be. It was affirming and validating to see that these attributes are timeless, and that the early founders of our school had these core attributes of learning encapsulated so well. I encourage you to reread the entire mission statement—it reinforces to me why I send my son to Southridge, and why I am so proud to be here.

AR Reading Cutoff Date - Monday, November 26th, 2012: Grades 3 - 7

Just a reminder to all students in Grade 3 to 7 that the last day for writing AR tests that count towards term one is on Monday, November 26th, 2012. It is helpful to know that this deadline is looming in order to avoid a last minute rush on test-writing. Ideally, students set realistic goals in consultation with their teachers, and the AR goal is manageable and attainable; we are just supporting good reading habits. However, we are mindful that lives get busy, and knowledge of deadlines is very helpful.

Upcoming Christmas Concerts

Being mindful of the upcoming season and busy schedules, we would like to announce the dates of our Christmas concerts: Matinee performance on Tuesday, December 18th, 2012 at 1:30 PM and an evening performance on Wednesday, December 19th, 2012 at 6:30 PM. We hope that our families will be able to attend one of these presentations.

Dismissal for Christmas Holidays and Return for Monday, January 14th, 2013: Late Start

On Friday, December 21st, 2012, all students are dismissed at 12:00 noon. At this time, all students will receive their report card. Our Christmas break is three weeks this year. Please ensure that your calendar is clearly marked for a return date of Monday, January 14th, 2013. We will have a late start on Monday, January 14th, 2013 and students should be here by 10:25 AM. Classes commence at 10:30 for Period 3, on this Day Two.

Mrs. Laurel Middelaer

Junior School Swim Team

The Junior School Swim Team is going to be starting very soon! Swim practices will be Fridays, from 3:45-4:45pm at the Surrey Sport and Leisure Complex off of Fraser Hwy. We are able to start on Friday, November 16th, 2012, however, we will only have 3 lanes.

Since there is not enough room for all swimmers, only the MYP swimmers (Grade 5-7) are invited to attend on November 16th. Friday, November 23rd, 2012 will be the first practice where all swimmers can attend. All swimmers must be confident and capable of swimming at least 25m freestyle (front stroke) and 25m backstroke independently.

If you are interested in joining the swim team, and not too sure yet, you are welcome to come out on Friday, November 23rd, and try it out.

There are 2 swim meets this year. Swimmers must choose to attend one meet in January:

- Monday, January 21st, 2013 is the Victoria ISEA for Grades 3-5 swimmers (this is a great swim meet for first timers!).
- Tuesday, January 22nd, 2013 is a competitive meet at UBC hosted by Mulgrave. (for Grades 5-7, plus Grade 4 club swimmers optional)

Please email or sign up with Ms. Wray (Riley). When you sign up, please add your name, homeroom and your parents name. We would like to create a Schoology account for the swim team.

Remembrance Day Ceremony

In past submissions and posts I have commented on the unique perspective I can have at a ceremony being on the stage and looking out at the students, guests and parents. Last Friday during our Remembrance Day Ceremony in the gym, I was allowed another chance to learn from this particular vantage point.

Perhaps for lack of a clearer term, the overall feeling I gained from the experience was an incredibly deep sense of pride of being part of this amazing community and especially the students and staff. In fact, the feeling began earlier in the week when the PYP and MYP Choirs came to visit the Senior School to rehearse. It is always a special time to see the interaction that occurs when the younger and older students collaborate. There is excitement, smiles and an overall general sense of enjoyment. In fact, after the rehearsal finished there were a few cheers and clapping. The students sensed that the performance was going to be good!

As the Head of Senior School, and perhaps from the era that I grew up in, I am always hopeful that a ceremony such as Remembrance holds a certain high level of respect for the students. I do think it helps that people my age have a closer proximity to those that served in the Great Wars. In addition, as we grow older we realize the importance of these types of events and why they remain important to continue. So, at the assembly on the Monday, prior to the ceremony, I asked the students to show their respect through their attire (Number 1 uniform looking good), behaviour (quietly reflective) and focus (attuned to the importance of remembering).

If you attended the ceremony, you will know that they followed through to the highest level I, or anyone could ask for! As they came down the hallway to the gym, they were self-checking their uniform, setting themselves up to be focussed and reflective and helping others in their Advisories to do the same. The students that had major parts in the ceremony were simply brilliant! The poems and reflections read, the media productions created and the introductions to different speakers were all done with an amazing level of attuned understanding of the day.

Returning to the beginning of my post, the best part from my vantage point was seeing the audience's reaction to two different events in the ceremony. First, the band and choir performance that involved students from Grades 2-12 was phenomenal! But to watch the audience's reaction made it even more impressive! So many parents and students mouth dropped open as they focussed on the moment, forgetting about themselves and immersing themselves in the music!

Second, as our guest speaker had his son read his words, the audience waited on his every word. You could see the amazement in trying to recall his experiences and reflections. Finally, our trumpeter, Jaren Wong, played flawlessly to finish the ceremony and to be beside our veteran as he stood tall and saluted proudly throughout was a perfect finale to the event.

I know the students "get it" and they continually remind me of the possibility of youth and the difference they can make right now! It is an inspiring position to be in on a daily basis.

Have a great week!

Senior School Educational Program (SSEP) Night

Over the past few years, we have worked at creating a Senior School Educational Program. Graphically, this has taken the form of a wheel divided into three main parts: knowledge, skills and attitudes. Each of these three main parts is further subdivided and give a detailed view of what are essential components that students need to have in order to be successful in post-Secondary education and beyond. Throughout this time, we have begun to implement the program in a number of ways.

Over the past number of months we have formulated a new phase of this implementation. If you were able to attend the Senior School Mini-School Night, you would have heard us speak very briefly about a few aspects of this plan. In addition, we promised to have another evening that would allow a greater amount of time to share some key aspects of the plan.

We invite you to join us on Monday, November 19, 2012 at 6:30 p.m. in the Alan Brown Great Hall. We will be sharing further details of our implementation plan and explaining the SSEP in greater depth. In addition, we hope that this evening will afford you an opportunity to ask any questions you may have.

We certainly hope to see many of you there!

November – Support the Men of Southridge

As we approach the midway point of the month of Movember, the Men of Southridge are looking for your support. MoSistas, MoBros who can't grow, or MoBros who are not growing – we are all looking to you for your support to change and raise awareness of men's health.

The Men of Southridge team has extended its wings this year and we have some returning Alum from the Class of 2011 sporting MOs all across Canada. Thanks to Jacques van Donkersgoed (U of A), Braxton Bonneville (U of A), Mayaz Alam (McGill), Arjun Hair (UBC) and Alex Leroux (St FX) for all supporting the team from coast to coast. Support the whole team or donate to your favorite MO.

Our Southridge team site is:

Cinderella Project: We want your formal wear!

Remember that dress that you wore once but never touched again? Or the dress that was forgotten after all of the new dresses you bought? It can now have a new home! The Grade 12's are once again asking you to donate your gently used formal and semi-formal wear including dresses for girls and suits for boys, as well as accessories such as purses, shoes, shirts, ties, and cufflinks.

The "Cinderella Project provides underprivileged high school graduates with formal attire so they can attend their graduation festivities with pride." "In the spirit of community support, The Cinderella Project celebrates the achievements of high school students in the Lower Mainland who have overcome adversity in reaching the milestone of graduation."

A clothes rack will be stationed at the entrance to the Senior School the Monday after the gala where you can hang your items.

Thank you for your continued support.

An Evening in December: Senior School Music Concerts

Wednesday & Thursday, December 12th & 13th are the two evenings of our Music Department's concert. Students who are involved (all band students, jazz band members, soloists (see announcement below), technical crew, and any others participating) need to attend BOTH nights. For parents and guests, you may attend one or both (or none if you want to be Scrooge-like!). There are no tickets, per se, but we do ask that each attendee bring a can or two of something to donate to the food bank. The concerts begin at 7:00 PM in the Alan Brown Great Hall.

Mr. Steve Burrage

An Evening in December: A Call for Auditions

On Wednesday & Thursday, December 12th & 13th, we will hold our annual Music Department December concerts. As in other years, we invite soloists or small ensembles to perform. Not only does this give us a fuller picture of the talents and abilities of our student body, but it also provides the listeners with a wider variety of musical genres. Though "Christmassy" or "winter music" is nice, it is not necessary. In fact, something that ties in with the theme of giving would be excellent. The auditions for these spots will be held on Tuesday, November 20th, at the beginning of lunch in the band room. Please see Mr. Burrage if you have any questions. Southridge Writes: A Powerful Tool for the Assessment 'of' and 'for' Learning

Last Wednesday all the students in the Senior School were given a one line prompt - Self-awareness leads to meaningful change – and given one classroom period to compose a written prose response. This whole school assessment of student writing is done with several key objectives in mind.

Importantly, for the individual student it is a summative assessment of his or her ability to create a multi-paragraph composition on a given topic in an engaging, thoughtful, grammatically sound and stylistically adept manner. To this degree it is an assessment 'of' the learning in the skills of written English that has taken place to this point in a student's development. We do take into account the age and maturity of the students, but they are graded using the rubrics used in provincial Grade 10 and Grade 12 examinations. In terms of assessment 'for' learning, the student can clearly see where he or she stands in relation to provincial standards and, with the teacher's help, can identify areas of strength and areas of composition needing further development. It is a powerful tool for self-reflection and growth.

Secondly, it provides the English faculty with invaluable professional development and enables them to align their marking to a common understanding of the 6 point scale used in the provincial examination rubrics. As the papers are identified by an ID number and teacher's name only, it further enables us to more objectively measure the student's ability. The discussions that take place as we mark papers, exchange ideas, and seek to work to improve student writing, are invaluable. Lastly, the shared experience of marking each grade at the same time gives us a good overall snapshot of the writing strengths and weaknesses of our student body. We can thus formulate 'an action plan' to address areas that need improvement at each grade level and target our teaching to those areas much more effectively. In this respect the assessment is truly 'for' the future learning of our students.

I hope that gives a little insight into why we believe that “Southridge Writes” plays an important role in improving the quality of our students’ writing.

Gala Clean Up – Sunday, November 18th from 10:00 AM -12:30 PM

Every grad is expected to help with this clean up. Traditionally, clean up was held the night of Gala, but this year to let them sleep, we are holding it the following morning.

Grad Fashion Show – Tuesday, January 22nd from 6:30 - 7:30 PM

Support the grad committee by coming to see a fun night of fashion! There will be door prizes and promotions for local companies that might be useful for your grad!

Grad Convocation & Tea – Friday, June 21st, 2013

The awards ceremony will be held to recognize all of our graduates on their accomplishments throughout the year. A tea will be hosted by the Grade 11 parents after the awards ceremony.

Grad Dinner & Dance – Monday June 24th, 2013

This year’s graduation dinner and dance is held on a Monday based on availability. Please book of any time off work now so you can support your child!

Ms. Heather Mosher & Mr. Doug Palm

Grad Gala Clean Up

All of the grads must all attend the upcoming Gala clean up session that is being held on SUNDAY November 18th from 10 AM - 12:30 PM. To make it easier on the grads, we are doing the clean up the day after so that they are not up from 2 AM into the early hours of the morning. It is mandatory that all the grads assist in the clean up and they have been emailed this information. Thank you,

Grade 12 Thumbprint Platter at the True Colours Gala

The Southridge Class of 2013 left their mark on a gorgeous square platter featuring a hand-drawn illustration of the school they've known and loved for years. Each grad added their name and thumbprint to the platter that will be available to the highest bidder on Saturday night. Calling all Grade 12 parents – this is a one-of-a-kind item that you won't want to miss! Tickets are still available – but only until Thursday at noon. Get yours now at <http://southridge-events.ca/>.

Daily Digest and Menu for the Week of November 19th – 23rd

As the days get colder, you can count on the Southridge Café to warm you up. Come in and taste our hot soups, hot breakfast wrap, tater tots and much more. If a good cup of coffee or hot chocolate is that your craving, we got you covered for that too.

Looking forward to serving you at the Southridge Café. Bon appetite
