Culver Chapel Columbarium

Culver Chapel Columbarium

One of the most beautiful buildings on Culver's campus is the Memorial Chapel. Dedicated in 1951, the Memorial Chapel was built through the generosity of friends and alumni to honor those men and women of Culver who have given their lives in service of their country. The Tudor-Gothic building opens its doors to the shores of Lake Maxinkuckee and serves as a place of worship, reflection, and celebration for many members of the Culver community.

Located in the northeast corner of the Chapel is a Columbarium with 108 niches. Those who wish to make Culver their final resting place may have their ashes placed in an urn and stored in a niche in the Columbarium. The names of the deceased are engraved on a brass plaque affixed to the niche.
