DEAR CAMPERS AND PARENTS,

We have so many new and exciting changes afoot at WA summer camps! In addition to our usual array of incredible enrichment, athletic, academic, and activity camp offerings, we have some great new camps this year such as Triathlon Camp, Counselor In-Training Camp, Digital Storytelling, and Everyone Can Code and Create Camp—just to name a few.

Additionally, this year we're happy to announce that we'll be splitting up our Odyssey Day Camp into "Odyssey Juniors" (rising K-3rd graders) and "Odyssey Explorers" (rising 4th-7th graders). Everyone should be challenged and rewarded at summer camp and by dividing Odyssey Day Camp by grade level, we'll be able to create even more engaging, age-appropriate curricula and activities for our campers.

Finally, I'm thrilled to announce that after a thorough peer review of our operations—from staff qualifications and training to emergency management—we are now accredited by the American Camp Association (ACA). This means that our program was designated as up-to-date with the latest research-based standards and practices in camp operation and safety, from staff-to-camper ratio recommendations to developmentally-appropriate camp goals.

The ACA accreditation only confirms what we already knew here at WA Camps: we've got great kids and tremendous counselors working together to create, learn, grow, and—most importantly—have some summer fun!

See you this summer!

Q&A WITH CAMP COUNSELOR, ANNA CATHERINE FARLEY

Q: What's your favorite part about being a Woodward Summer Camp counselor?

I think I have the best job ever! I get to hang out with absolutely amazing children who brighten every day with their happiness and constant positive energy. There is never a dull moment at Woodward Summer Camps!

Q: What makes a good camp counselor? What have you learned from your time at WA Camps?

The first lesson I've learned is to have patience. There will be frustrations. There will be thousands of questions all the time. In every single situation, a good counselor reacts with patience and kindness to each and every child.

The second lesson: imaginations rule the world. As we grow up, our minds can become more limited, but kids have absolutely no limits and joining them in their imaginative reality is something every counselor should do.

The final lesson: every kid is different. They have different wants, needs, aspirations, dreams, bad and good habits, and everything in between. In order to create an environment where their creativity is not stifled, a good counselor understands and accepts the uniqueness of every child and accommodates accordingly.

HOW WAS LAST SUMMER, CAMPERS?

"My favorite part of summer camps is making snow at Mad Scientist Camp. My teachers were very fun and I also had fun swimming with my friends!"

—Hunter Sampson

"I like how nice the counselors are and how organized camp is. And I loved making a meme in social studies!"

—Jack Cobb

"I loved learning the dance moves in Dancing Divas camp. We rocked the house! And I got to meet new people. All my new friends were so cool. One new friend always had on awesome animal print shirts!"

—Cameron Thomas

WHAT DO PARENTS THINK?

"My son had an amazing time, and I believe met some life long friends. The upperclassmen who helped with the football camp were the perfect role models, and I still hear about them everyday. We look forward to next year!"

—3rd Grade Parent

"My daughter came home each day excited to share what she did in Young Surgeon Camp. She loved it!"

—6th Grade Parent

"My boys have really enjoyed summer camp. They love being in Minecraft and Robot Wars camps! And, the daily check-in/check-out process is very easy and everyone is always so friendly! Thank you! "

—5th Grade Parent
