What does this scholarship mean to you?

Without it, I would not have been able to attend Culver. It has allowed me to make some of the most meaningful friendships and memories I have ever had in my life as well as expand my horizons. The many resources and opportunities the school offers are why Culver is so valuable to me.

CLASS OF 2019

Culver provided me autonomy, experience, and community.

All of those resulted in an experience that continues to shape how I live,

what I do, how I view the world and my vision of what it should be.

Frank Batten '45

A legacy of Culver community support

The late Frank Batten '45 and his wife, Jane, have given generously to Culver Academies.

Under Mr. Batten's leadership as publisher in 1960, The Virginian-Pilot received a Pulitzer Prize for articles championing desegregation.

The Virginian-Pilot and The Ledger-Star in Norfolk, Virginia were the foundation of Landmark Communications, the privately-held media company that Batten grew by acquiring additional media properties, as well as by founding The Weather Channel. He also served as chairman of the Associated Press from 1982 to 1987.

Mr. Batten also attended Culver Naval School in 1940. He served on the Culver Summer Schools & Camps staff in 1944.

Mr. Batten received his bachelor's degree from the University of Virginia and his MBA from Harvard in 1952.
