Fellow Classmates,

I know you had an exciting, fun November and a wonderful Thanksgiving. Thanksgiving, that time of year dedicated to giving thanks and enjoying that delicious Thanksgiving Dinner with family, relatives and friends. We have a lot to be thankful for, we were blessed to be raised during a famous, rewarding time in history. As we start the Holiday Season there is another happening in November that I would like to discuss with you. All of you Astrologists, especially our Sagittarius Classmates know that on November 22nd the Sun entered the Sagittarius Season. It is all about returning to and basking in the light. In fact, it may feel as though the light switch was literally flipped on for many of you. Sagittarius season is truly the season of holiday cheer. It's common to feel lighter, more productive, and more joyful with this recent cosmic shift. Many of you may feel ready for a new adventure. Others of you may feel the need to push yourself beyond your comfort zone in some way. Still others of you may feel more outgoing and inspired to not only show up, but truly shine! That's the energy of Sagittarius, and it will be with us through December 21st (let your light so shine). Sagittarians are the incurable optimists. They are always looking at the positive side of a thing. Their optimism can't be dampened by hardships or negative results. Sagittarians often are outdoor people. They will take interest in all sorts of sports and outdoor activities. They are also adventures in nature. Although they are true to their faults but can also turn completely deaf to criticism and turn down suggestions.

The sun in Sagittarius also makes it easier for us to connect with others. One way to create connection is through gratitude. There are so many ways that expressions of gratitude can make our lives better, from improved health and personal success to making the world a better place. Expressing gratitude enhances your energy levels and reduces stress. Heart centered feelings, like gratitude and appreciation, can bring about beneficial physiologic changes in your body in a very short amount of time. Robert A. Emmons, Ph.D., professor of psychology at the University of California, Davis is the author of many studies and books on gratitude, including, Gratitude Works! A 21 Day Program for Creating Emotional Prosperity. He has found through decades of research that people who practice gratitude daily report higher levels of alertness, enthusiasm, determination, attentiveness, and energy.

Gratitude leads to joy. When you count your blessings on a regular basis, they will multiply many, many times over. Opening your heart to those less fortunate creates joy and blessings in the world. Count your blessings and let the good times roll. Express gratitude to those you are truly grateful for and watch how everything just gets better.

As we finish out 2018 I would like to take this opportunity to express my gratitude and appreciation for all of my wonderful DHS Class of 1956 Classmates and their families.

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year

The month of November went by too fast, as usual. We had a wonderful Thanksgiving, all of family but our Atlanta clan were home with us. Our Daughter and nine year old grandson from Virginia spent a week and half with us. Since they live in Virginia we only get to see them once or twice a year, their visits are always fun, quality time. I recommended that we eat our Thanksgiving dinner at our local favorite restaurant, wow, I almost got lynched. They all said that "no way would they trade my Turkey Dinner with my homemade dressing for eating at a restaurant". I think next year I'll probably win on my recommendation to eat out, the many hours of planning, preparation and serving the turkey dinner is not as fun as it used to be. We can't just move the Thanksgiving Dinner to one of our sons home, I still have to do it. December is here and boy is it moving fast. We have received more snow than usual for this time of year. Have most of our Christmas decorations up already and getting ready for the big day, family members from Atlanta will be with us. Season Greetings to all, have a fun safe time wherever you may be, stay healthy.

Now that 2018 is on its way out, it is time to start prioritizing 2019---

Assemble at 11:00AM for registration, meet and greet---eat lunch/visit 12:30PM - 3:00PM---visit and collect hugs until 4:00PM. Please come prepared to take the Microphone (open MIC time) and share some memories with your Classmates.

"UNDER SIEGE"

Our Class of 1956 was gifted with many outstanding artists! Our Classmate Garry Glissmeyer continues to share his new masterpieces with us through our Dart Newsletter. We are honored this month to enjoy his latest, UNDER SIEGE pastel-----

Hi, Dart Classmates,

This Eagle/Flag pastel is a recent piece of Art I just completed for our college's FACULTY ART SHOW in the school's Art Gallery. It is titled: "UNDER SIEGE."

It was 'inspired' because of the present tumult and discontent we, as a country, politically are experiencing, ---- between the Left and the Right-- seemingly each saying the same words, but those words being used against each other, with different antonyms in our minds as our motivation. We seem to now be very divided in our country, more so than even in the mid-1960s?

Our National Bird and Flag are symbolic victims of this rancor we are witnessing and feeling? Indeed, our values seem UNDER SIEGE and disintegrating, in some areas? And it seems each group is perceiving THEIR values and interests are more important than the other's? It doesn't matter which side of the political arena you are in, this seems to get a good reaction; each side sees their "valued" principles being attacked, under siege?

For any of you with art curiosities or backgrounds: this is a Soft Chalk Pastel piece, on 600 grit, black sanded-paper. It took about 16 on-the-board hours to do, with another couple of planning-and-framing hours.

Hope you all enjoy it now, as much as I did creating it?
Garry Glissmeyer

Now that I have updated you on the negative classmate news, it is time for some positive classmate news. In previous newsletters I have reminded you that 2018 is the BIG 80 Birthday year for most of us and requested that you send me articles and pictures of your party/celebration. I received one from Gary Hansen and would like to share it with you.

Gary M. Hansen-----Happy 80th Birthday----- 80 ★

He says he has had a great life. Has always done what he loved to do. Played football, ran track and enjoyed wrestling at Davis High School. Coached football, wrestling and track at Kaysville Jr High and Layton High School. Loved his athletics, still does. Taught biology, physiology and drivers education to great kids at Kaysville Jr High, Layton and Northridge High School. Volunteered as a fireman for the town of Uintah. Drove crews for Wild Land Firefighters. Served his church in various callings and also an inner-city mission with his wife. He loves his children, Kirk and Louann, Malinda and John, Heidi and Kirk, Guy, Jill and Del, Joel, Nicole and Brian and Dan. He loves his twenty-eight grandchildren and thirty-seven great-grandchildren. He is a faithful companion and loyal friend. Thanks to all who wrote great letters remembering him on this special birthday.
