Registration Worksheet

Student Name: _____

Session Number: _____

Dates: _____

In most cases, you cannot register a child for classes that overlap, so please use this worksheet to decide what classes your child will take during a session before you register online. If you enter a class in one column, you should not enter a class in the other column that would conflict. For example, if a student will register for the three-hour class American Girl Playdate, which runs from 12 – 3 p.m., do not enter a class in the left-hand column after lunch. Please remember to register your child for Extended Morning or Extended Afternoon (shown on this sheet) if your child will need to arrive early or be picked up late. If you have any questions, please feel free to contact us at (713) 468-8211 ext. 200 or at sarah.baker@duchesne.org.

The Digital Dilemma: Software Integration Skills for Students

Today, students are raised with digital devices practically connected to their bodies. They aren't afraid of trying any new application, game or social media app. But ask students if they can easily format a resume, manipulate data from their latest sports game into a spreadsheet, animate a presentation with a TEDx video and related photos from social media, organize a project for a club or create a digital file system and you will get a blank stare and shoulder shrug emoji. Yet these are some of the most basic skills students need to be able to leverage to succeed in high school, college, at an internship or future job. Ditch the digital dilemma and register for this interactive class that will teach your student important skills on the most common software applications while integrating study apps straight from their phone and other devices. The class will have grade-level directed applications for all software integration skills and each student will leave with their own presentation covering the key take-aways and lessons learned from the class. Students will need to bring their own laptops with Microsoft Office package including (MS Word, Excel and PPT).

Writers in the Schools (WITS) Classes

The Writers Workshop at Duchesne Academy

For more than 35 years, Writers in the Schools (WITS) has worked hand-in-hand with educators and professional writers to teach students the craft of writing. The WITS Writers Workshop at Duchesne Heart of the Summer is designed to get students excited about writing from a crafting perspective. Writers Workshop follows classic writing workshop guidelines to provide constructive feedback to a writer in a small group setting. This model is based on the idea that we are not always the best readers of our own work, and we benefit from hearing how others experience it. The goal is not to tell others how to write their essays/ poems/ stories, but rather to take the work on its own terms, describing the piece and offering constructive criticism based on what we perceive to be the writer's intentions. The workshop will focus on the writing process and address key objectives in language arts, including original voice, inventive word choice, sentence fluency, and clear organization. By writing and reading daily, we'll discuss what makes writing succeed, and we'll use these multi-genre prompts to help us put our own thoughts down on the blank page.

Students enroll in a 2-week, 30-hour workshop session taught by a professional writer from the WITS roster. For younger students (1st-4th), we will explore the nuts and bolts of writing, and through prompt-based exercises, help young students develop their own voice, have fun with vocabulary, and allow them to use their imaginations. For older students (5th-8th), we will use the college creative writing workshop as a model to help students peer review each other's work in a supportive environment. We will spend a lot of time learning the tools of strong revision. Students will develop their writer instinct, gain confidence, and improve public speaking skills, all while having fun with strategic multi-genre writing projects.

At the end of the 2-week session, students will perform finished pieces for you and your family in a celebration event, and they'll leave with a portfolio of their own work.

Register your students by the grade level they will enter in Fall 2019. Students will be grouped according to age once registration closes. WITS and Duchesne Heart of the Summer will create class groupings taking into account students' age and grade level. For example, we may combine 3rd – 5th grades into one room, but we would not create a class of 2nd- 6th grades in one room.

Choose from one of the following 2-week courses according to the entering grade of the student:

Ages: Entering 1st – 3rd Grades

Writers in the Schools: Digital

This 2-week camp transforms students from consumers to creators of media as they design and build original video games inspired by their own creative writing. An award-winning STEM and IB-aligned educational experience, WITS Digital gives students a chance to explore technology and storytelling at the same time, honing their critical thinking and creative writing skills in a fun and supportive environment. Professional WITS writers will guide students in crafting their stories and poems and bringing them to life using drag-and-drop game design programs. At the end of camp, students will celebrate their accomplishments by sharing their written projects and exploring each other's writing-inspired video games. No prior experience with technology or coding is necessary.

The Digital Dilemma: Software Integration Skills for Students

Today, students are raised with digital devices practically connected to their bodies. They aren't afraid of trying any new application, game or social media app. But ask students if they can easily format a resume, manipulate data from their latest sports game into a spreadsheet, animate a presentation with a TEDx video and related photos from social media, organize a project for a club or create a digital file system and you will get a blank stare and shoulder shrug emoji. Yet these are some of the most basic skills students need to be able to leverage to succeed in high school, college, at an internship or future job. Ditch the digital dilemma and register for this interactive class that will teach your student important skills on the most common software applications while integrating study apps straight from their phone and other devices. The class will have grade-level directed applications for all software integration skills and each student will leave with their own presentation covering the key takeaways and lessons learned from the class. Students will need to bring their own laptops with Microsoft Office package including (MS Word, Excel and PPT).

Fairy Tale Origins and Evolutions: Credit Course

"The fairy tale is a many-tongued genre, a cultural palimpsest; because even as it speaks of the time in which it is told, it carries the memory of the other times in which it has circulated and flourished." ~Andrew Teverson

This course examines the nature of fairy tales, beginning with the oldest traceable origins and ending with the wonderful world of Disney and other modern adaptations. We will examine the purpose and qualities of the oral tradition and question how the genre's inception resonates with these stories after the invention of the printing press and pamphlet literature. Finally, we will analyze the modern presence of fairy tales in mainstream Western culture, looking to discern what their purpose might be for modern audiences and whether they have lost or gained anything over the centuries through countless retellings across cultures.

Game Programming and Design: Credit Course

Games are an interactive medium that vary from a learning tool to a form of entertainment. We will investigate how some of your favorite games are designed and use that knowledge to create and design our very own board game and video game. The topics that will be covered in this course include: story construction, psychological aspects of design, world and character building, game mechanics, study of randomness, discussion of the design for "Esports" and competitive play, depth vs. complexity, and a glance at the thematic use of music in video games. Students will have an hour break for reflection and lunch. Students will need to bring their laptops or will be able to rent one from Duchesne. Students who do not currently have a Duchesne laptop will need to submit an Equipment Use Agreement and $125 fee to rent a laptop for the duration of the course. (Students entering Duchesne Fall 2019 may put this fee towards their new school laptop if the rental is returned without damage at end of course.)

Study Skills Strategies – High School Transitions

This signature course is designed to kick off the semester on the right foot and help students improve their study habits in the areas of organization, time management, goal setting, notetaking, reading comprehension, test preparation and understanding learning styles. The course is a system for success not only for academics, but also for life. Instructors keep students actively engaged and attempt to incorporate aspects of the middle school curriculum at the student's respective school whenever possible to make the course even more applicable. Students with high grades will learn to perfect their study habits while struggling students will learn new methods to overcome academic challenges. Parents often state how important they feel this course was for helping their student transition well in high school and college. Students say the course is fun and helpful and that they would refer it to their friends. Course fee includes a student workbook and feedback – classes will be grade level directed based on final registrations.

WITS: Know Thyself

The history of the essay finds its origins in the core Renaissance ideal of “rebirth.” This course will allow you to give “new life” to the art of essay writing by asking you to examine your personal story and connect it to a broader world of concepts and ideas. We’ll analyze this important and passionate literary form that will take your writing beyond familiar boundaries. We’ll experiment with fun, contemporary non-fiction forms like flash non-fiction, recipe writing, humor, and even lampoon to expand and sharpen your essay writing skills. This course is especially important for those of you who are preparing to write college entrance essays. Through the writer workshop model of peer review, you will work with your fellow writers to hone techniques and approaches, and you will leave with a portfolio of several completed essays.
