He who has health,
has hope;
and he who has hope,
has everything.

—Arabian Proverb

As teacher and friend he offered himself;
Inspired by music, he made us one.

Chatfield's winning streak of 30 games, the longest up to the '68 season, was ended when the Gophers tied with the St. Charles Saints. However, the Gophers did better than most expected as they had only three returning starters. Although most of the players lacked experience, they finished the season without six of the team's starters, including both co-captains who were kept from playing due to injuries. In spite of these problems, the gridders outplayed their opponents in every aspect of the game except in passing. Because of the opportunities the underclassmen had, next year's outlook is hopefully promising as the team looks forward to beginning a new winning streak and regaining the conference championship.

Outstanding individual for this year's team was Larry Thieke who scored 36 offensive points and a record breaking 228 defensive points to lead the gridders in both categories. Dave Manahan won the coveted "Cazz" Connelly memorial trophy for determination and persistence.

Declam... a challenge in speech

Participants in declam improved their techniques by preparing selections in eight categories and presenting them in the local contest. William Pavlish in non-original oratory, Marilyn Johnson in humorous interpretation and Linda Mitchell in storytelling went on to the regional tournament at Waseca. Marilyn Johnson won there and participated in the state tournament at Richfield. Coaches of the students were Mr. Richard Fenwick and Mr. Joseph Thicke. Eight students, Franklen Krahn, William Pavlish, Marilyn Johnson, Linda Mitchell, Linda Meeker, Mike Martin, Karen Hanson and Roth Trulson advanced to the district tournament at Mabel.

Phantom shadows pass down halls,
To rooms once their own.
With complete abandonment,
We wrote the years,
And in turn, Time made us.
Today became yesterday,
And slowly the years slipped by.
The eyes may see, yet not know
The secret thoughts of the mind.
Memories of feelings are Recaptured;
And one reacts inside the way
It was done with openness before.
The past is made precious as
Moods change quickly
Like shooting stars that glow
Briefly,
Then fade away.
Here we loved, laughed, and cried.

Let us meet new beginnings
As gates open wide.
Pass through eternal youth.
Be pleased with life,
For you are life.
And let your mind be as the Sky
And have no end.

To the Burr Oak staff a year of hard work was a unique experience—the freedom of a fifth hour reserved for creating layouts and copy, the tedious counting of lines and characters, the frantic squeezing of 100 underclass pictures into a two-page spread. Fragments of conversation could be heard wherever staff members congregated—"I can't see to crop!" "Will somebody do this layout?" "Who took my pencil?" "When's our deadline?"—a year filled with frustration of nearing deadlines and the anticipation of seeing new pictures for the first time. But at last we see the Burr Oak in its entirety.
