It was just another school year, made up of the old basic ingredients; football games, noisy lunch hours, long classes, short vacations, and all the rest. From the outside, it was very ordinary. But from the inside, looking out, it was anything but that. To us, we who were involved in it, it was much more—it was our life.

Memory is a sly servant. The year, once real, is now only a kaleidoscope, a swirl of ideas, colors, emotions, half-thoughts, and a few solid, comfortable, well-remembered events. Actions of great importance then are of much lesser stature now. Monumental moments are no longer monumental—they scarcely exist in memory. But their importance still lives, as does that year. In you, in us, it exists, lives and cannot and will not die. We cannot allow it to die; it is too important. Through it we can re-live old friendships, review past actions, and relearn old lessons. The past is not without its worth. This particular past was one of many achievements, lessons, friendships, and activities. It cannot die, or we lost part of ourselves. It will not die. Its vitality endures. Join with us in keeping the spirit of that year alive.

It was a year like any year. To some, it was triumph and wonder; to some, disappointment; to some, something to be endured; but in spite of its connotations, it was a year shared, thoughts shared, feelings and emotions shared, work shared, and above all, life shared. The key word is life. The importance of that year lies in the fact that it was our life, and because of that fact, its events will mean more to us than they can to any other person. They can be valuable only if we remember that year if we take time out to let them teach us. If we don't, the year's importance is gone, and its worth is taken. We cannot allow that to happen—our memories are too valuable.

Changes and the adjustments that followed the changes made the year what it was. Some of the changes were broad, some subtle, but they all helped shape our lives. There were changes of all sorts—in procedures, in attitudes, in the school, in our environment, in ourselves; changes that fostered changed and changes that fostered us. They taught us, shunted us onto different tracks, led us off on tangents and forced some of us outward; and some of us, perhaps, inward to ourselves. There were changes that forced discovery. It wasn't always fun or easy. Some discoveries left us wishing for times past, but those times were and are gone . . . forever.

We have evolved. Through and by this year we were changed, transformed, made into something that was never before and will never be again. We were children finding our way through a tangled thicket, stumbling, falling, learning. We were and are and always will be those children, and that year and that school were part of our thicket, part of the woods that all of us must fight and none conquer. But man must always strive for the edge of the woods, for that of which we have no knowledge, and we are striving and will continue to strive until we falter and die. We were near the center of the woods then, but it is the knowledge and the skills that we learned and started learning there that are helping us now. It was the foundation upon which we built. We don't know now and never will know the real strength of that foundation. But this we do know—without that foundation we would be lost.

Homecoming

A time of business here and there
When students live without a care
within the school!
The dance committee met and planned
While all around the many fans gathered for the game.
And garages completely filled with floats
Now stand empty as the winner gloats about his prize.
The glorious moment for which they wait
Recurred in the hearts of each candidate for king and queen.
The cheerleaders, busy spreading spirit
Shouted throughout the halls, "Let's hear it!"
and made signs.
The athletes with their great belief
Sighed and smiled in relief
because they won.
And all remember how happiness beamed
Among the students and their team
and are satisfied.
But now the let-down had rolled in
And all seemed slow and quiet within,
and sadness prevailed.
A tribute was paid to the Senior Class
And all enjoyed as we watched it pass and enjoy it still.
And though the halls are quiet and still
All of us forever will remember HOMECOMING.

Chicago will never be the same . . .

Views of the Senior Trip

At 8:30 A.M. on May 28, 1970, 33 of us, 27 Seniors and 6 chaperones embarked on an exciting Chicago Trip! None of us knew exactly what we were in for but we were all full of enthusiasm for we knew it would be fun. Our enthusiasm was dampened slightly as we met our first delay—a 3-hour wait for our train in Winona. However this time was used by many for last-minute shopping which we hadn't finished at home.

We arrived at the Palmer House in Chicago late in the afternoon in time to freshen up a bit and then to leave for "Chicago By Night". All of us were thrilled to spend our time in such exciting places as Old Town, Chinatown, and Buckingham Fountain. We also saw the hopelessness of Skid Row.

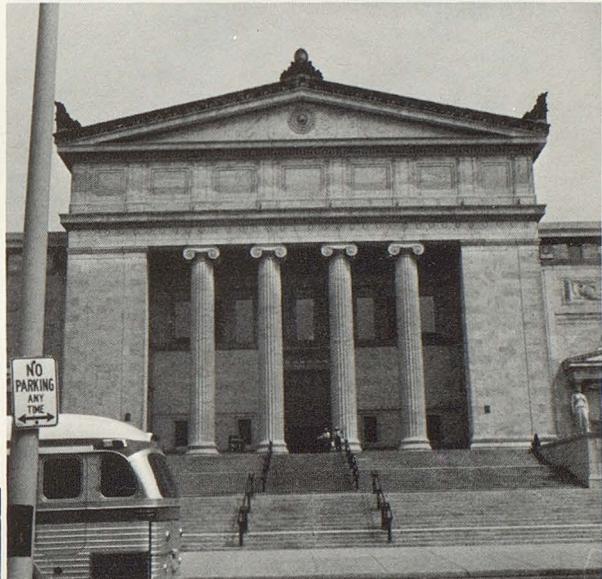

The next day on tour we visited the Lincoln Park Zoo, Museum of Natural History and the Museum of Science and Industry. Friday night then was our night on the town when we were free to eat out, tour Chicago some more, go to a movie or stage play. Swimming was available at our hotel too, and many of us took advantage of this.

On the way home there were no delays. We left the Palmer House at about 9:30 A.M., Saturday morning, to catch our train. On the way home our trip was filled with such things as cards, reading, quiet talk and above all, sleeping and relaxing.

I'm sure most of us that went would have to agree that we had a marvelous time, not only on tours but after bed-check hours too!!

Student opinion reflected through Student Senate

The Student Senate of Chosen Valley High School assists the administration in bringing new ideas concerning the governing of the school system to the attention of the administration. Each member is elected by the class or club he represents, and all work with Mr. Jerome Knapp, advisor of the group to improve the school system and student activities. Opinions of both groups are discussed and voted upon. In this way the views of the student body and of the faculty can be voiced.

This year's Senate was active in arranging Homecoming activities, dances, and money raising projects to provide funds for the non-profit organizations of the school. Many new concepts in school government were brought up by Dick Bernatz and Dave Manahan after they had attended a Student Senate President's Conference in Harmony where they learned of the Student Senate activities of the surrounding area schools.

Scholarship, leadership, service, and character are the principles which help the faculty to select members for the National Honor Society. Eligibility requires a minimum of a "B" average during high school. In the junior year five per cent of the class is elected and an additional ten per cent in the senior year. No honor conferred by the school excels that represented by the society.

Charter members from last year include Paulette

Bren, Linda Mitchell, Peggy Donahoe. Not Pictured: Melissa Severud and Robert Bergstrom.

Henry, Judy Martin, Gary Bren, Peg Donahoe. This year seniors, Linda Anderson, Laurie Bailey, Bob Bergstrom, Charles Campbell, Diana Drewes, and Tom Lovejoy, and juniors Michael Bernatz, Terri Bernard, Linda Meeker, Linda Mitchell, and Melissa Severud were elected to the society. Their banquet was held at the Golfview in Rushford, and the initiation ceremony was conducted at the Peterson High School.

Block! Tackle! Score!

In his first year of coaching football in Chatfield, Head Coach Bill Nelson had an excellent season considering how the team lacked size and speed. The overall record of the 1970 team was 4 wins, 4 losses, and 1 tie, but the Gopher's conference log was 4 wins, 1 loss, and 1 tie. Their non-conference action with Rushford, Lakeville, and St. Charles proved to be quite disastrous, but they came through with wins where they counted in Maple Leaf conference games. The team's only conference loss was to the champion Spring Valley Wolves by an 18-0 margin. Coach Nelson, whose team finished second in league play, should have a good start in building for a strong team for future years.

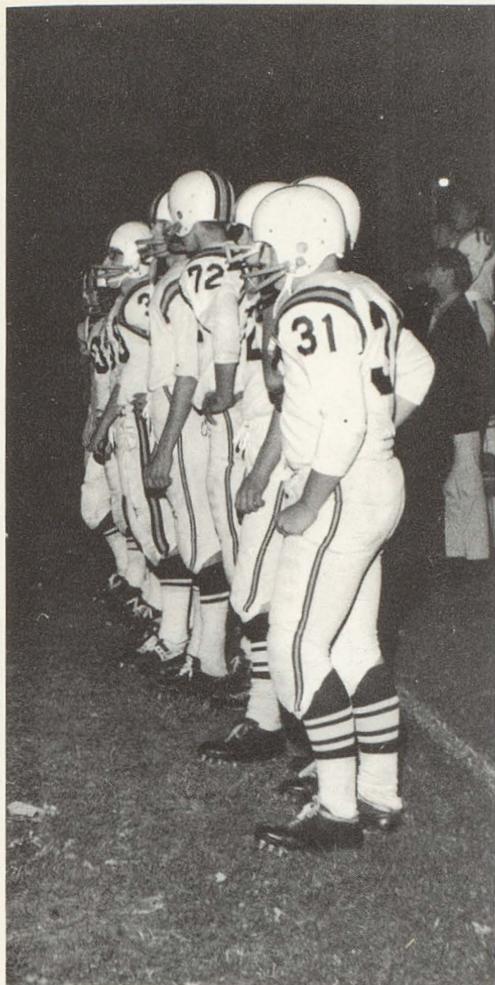

Coaches Baisley, Scheevel, Nelson, Jacobson.

An up and down season in basketball

Coach Marlyn Baum, in his first year at Chosen Valley High, opened what looked like another excellent basketball season. In winning four of the first five conference games, losing only to Preston, who later became the District One Champs, the Gophers looked as though they would again be a tough contender for the Maple Leaf crown and possibly even win the District championship.

Although a little lacking in height, the Gopher Cagers were then receiving good outside shooting as well as taking advantage of their quickness and agility. However, in early February, after giving Preston a good run for their money, the team was crippled by the removal of seven players, due to ineligibility.

In a desperate effort to regroup, several "B" squaders were brought up to the varsity. With only two seniors left, the team was able to pull out only one of the final five games although they maintained a good team spirit. Coach Baum should have a good start for next year and will most likely field a rugged basketball squad which will provide a challenge to the other district teams.
