Little Notes

**It's so hard to believe we are quickly nearing the end of the 2nd trimester! And with February Frenzy next weekend, I know the kids will be extra excited this next week. Please remind them to continue to focus on school and to put forward their best effort in regards to their studies and behavior.

**We have moms who will be working with the class on Friday to work on customer service skills in preparation for the weekend. What a great way to work something educational into a fun weekend!

Thank You!

Thank you to the moms who volunteered with the Valentine's Day party! The children will enjoyed themselves. And thank you for all of the treats! My family is helping me indulge a bit. 😊
