

Stars

Seconds have no value,
Hours pass so fast,
Seasons change in the blink of an eye,
Years just never last.

Tears fall till they can fall no more,
Hearts break every second.
At night the sun settles into dusk,
In morning rises at dawn.

Hugs are shared and kisses blown,
Carried on the wind.
Wishes of peace and love and hope
Into souls are pinned.

As time flies by,
And as life flows along,
I raise my head to the heavens
And sing their song.

The greatest joy in life, to me,
Is looking at the stars,
And knowing God is looking back
And loving who you are.
