From the Administration

Hello Oak Hills Parents:

This coming week, February 25 through March 1st, is our Read-a-Thon week. The PTA has worked hard organizing this week to be an engaging week full of fun activities to help promote reading. Thank you Mrs. Grover for organizing this reading week. There are a lot of activities throughout the week, see below for our daily participation.

This week is full of activities, but the real reason is to get everyone to read more. During the day on Friday, each class will hold a read-a-thon. It would be awesome if all our parents would participate in the read-a-thon as well. My challenge to you is to take 30 minutes out of your Friday to read. It would be great if you read along with your students for a few minutes Friday to show to your students that reading is important. Thank you for all that you do to support your students and the school.

Thank you,
Mike Page, Principal

PTA News

Hello Oak Hills,

Next week is sure to be so much fun! It is our annual Read-a-thon. This year we will be having the author Tyler Whitesides come and talk to the students. This is a great week to encourage your student to read extra. There are prizes and fun activities all week long.

The musical is going to be magical. Would you like tickets? The musical will be showing the week of March 11-15. Tickets will be given out in the front breezeway on Friday, March 1st from 1:30-3:30. You will be able to get 6 tickets at a time and then required to get back in line if you would like more. Tickets are free. We will be having concessions again and ask you to be generous.

We are also having a fundraiser for the school during the musical performances. We are working on raising money for technology at our school. It is Mr. Page's goal for each student to have access to technology all day.

Thanks for all the support you give our students, teachers and staff.

Terra Lechtenberg, PTA President

Counselor's Corner

We are focusing on Habit 5 "Seek to Understand, then to be Understood." One important part of this skill is to be an active listener. Sometimes we have BLOCKERS that interfere with our listening. Here are the blockers we talked about in my lesson this month:

1. Daydreaming - imagining other things and not being in the present moment
2. Filtering - only hearing what you want to hear
3. Rehearsing - thinking of what you want to say, while the other person is speaking
4. Judging - making observations about the speakers clothes, personality, tone, body language
5. Distractions - hunger, tiredness, noise, others talking, music, electronics

Be careful of these common blockers we all struggle with, when you notice you are doing one... name it and STOP it, and then get back on track to active listening. 😊

Spotted Around Town...

Mr. Cassler, pictured above, was spotted at a very close basketball game featuring some of his 3rd Grade Students. Mr. Cassler is a supportive teacher, who teaches Math and Social Studies as well as Geography using sport teams around the United States. Mr. Cassler's students love him and were very excited to see him supporting them in their basketball game. We have great athletes at Oak Hills. Way to go Junior Jazz Oak Hills Teams! ☺
