From the Administration

Hello Oak Hills Parents:

We had our VEX Robotics Team attend a competition at Syracuse Jr. High last weekend. They represented Oak Hills well. Our team competed against several other school from the District. They spent hours before the contest, building the robot, programming it, learning the rules and then practicing with it. During the competition, the students try to capture as many cones and then move them to a designated area. It is really a fascinating opportunity for these students. Thank you Mrs. Tilley and Mrs. Earl for your dedication and devotion to this. Also, a thank you to Terry Miller, one of our amazing parent volunteers, for all the help as well.

Have a great weekend!

Mike

I wanted to thank Julie Pace for running a very successful Book Fair last week. Also, thank you to all who took turns working at the book fair. Our PTA and parent involvement with all aspects of Oak Hills is what makes our school so wonderful.

Spirit Friday (Feb 15) is coming up again. Treats are given at lunch for wearing an Oak Hills shirt from any year or wearing a shirt that is one of our school colors (red, white or black). Encourage your student to show their school pride. Students are also allowed to wear their Oak Hills hat this day.

Do you have a 5th or 6th grader that is interested in government or is looking for a fun challenge? Have them come and join our Constitution Bowl. For more information, see the flyer attached in this EagleGram.

Our Valentine's Day class parties are coming up. Please remember to check in at the front office before going to your child's class.

Soaring Students...

On Saturday, February 2nd, our Oak Hills VEX IQ Robotics Team competed in the District Rookie Invitational Tournament. We have had a blast over the last few months learning about robotics, building our robot, and learning how to drive it well. We are looking forward to continuing our VEX program and expanding it for more students to participate. Oak Hills is full of future engineers!

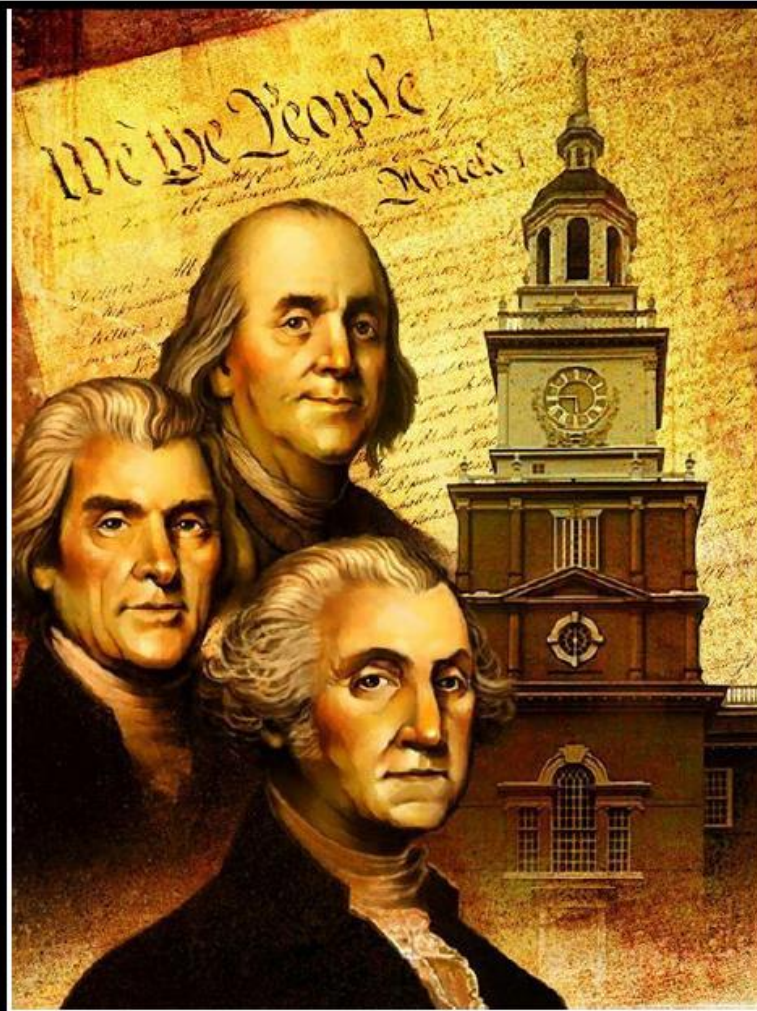

Congratulations Ella Jensen (pictured) & Zander Jewkes! Ella's 3D Art Reflections entry won the Award of Excellence at the regional level and will go on to the state competition! Zander's 2D art entry won the Award of Merit! Way to go!

Counselor's Corner

For the month of February, we will be working on habit #5 "Seek First To Understand, Then to be Understood." Students will learn how to listen to other's ideas and feelings and not interrupt. They will learn about seeing things from other perspectives. When we have conflicts with others, it is important to be a listener and show understanding for the other person. When we show understanding and validation to people, they are more likely to listen to us and see our perspective too. When everyone has the opportunity to share their voice, conflicts are minimized and solutions can take place. So get those listening ears turned up and focus this week on being the best listener YOU can be!!!
