

CLIC Sargent helps children who are suffering with cancer, Roald Dahl's charity supports children who have neurological or blood conditions. ReadWell brings new books to children in hospital along with professional children entertainers. together for short lives works with children with life-threatening and life-limiting conditions. Each charity supports not only the child but their family as well. Money goes to support medical staff, training and new equipment. Learn more about the organization at www.readathon.org