You can attend one of the 2019 Summer Intensive topics below:

SOCIAL AND EMOTIONAL EDUCATION

Gain an understanding of how to achieve a cultural shift, integrate social-emotional skills into your curriculum, and improve social and emotional interactions within the broader school community.

READING AND WRITING

Strong literacy instruction has the capacity to transform student learning of reading, writing, and word study. The Workshop Model provides a framework that supports children in becoming confident, autonomous lifelong learners through high-interest content and individualized instruction. During our two-day workshop, we will explore foundational components of the Workshop Model, assessment to drive instructional decisions, and engage in planning and implementation.

MATH WORKSHOP

Take a deep dive into Math Workshop. We will explore the components of math workshop and update our beliefs about math. Discover ways to modify your instruction while thinking about the structure of the math block, effective math language, differentiation, and one-on-one conferring.

MARKETING

Marketing communications plays an important role in advancing the mission of a school, working with the admission team to inform and inspire prospective families to enroll and re-enroll; and with the development team to inspire donors to give and give again. Planning and executing strategic messaging supports these revenue-generating functions while promoting and protecting the reputation of the school.
