Instead of April Showers it Rained

It all started one day...

The clouds came together. They made sky dark, but the clouds were not black, in fact, they were another color.

They were purple or pink or a mix of the two, but whatever it was it was not like the others.

The sky seemed to rumble in the gentlest way and out of the sky, flowers on blossoms came tumbling down. The Flowers sunk into the ground and around the corner water droplets came bounding out of the ground.

Why was the Earth so confused? It might have been because the sky had changed. But the biggest reason is that flowers own the world.

Instead of April Showers it Rained...

It was supposed to be a rainy day. I wanted to go outside and play in the April showers. When I went outside, it was not raining rain. It was raining marshmallows! All the kids were outside stuffing them in their mouths. Some were trying to catch them in their mouths. I grabbed a few extra jumbo ones and made huge smores. After it finished raining marshmallows, it rained chocolate. I grabbed some for my smores. After the chocolate, it rained graham crackers. I made the biggest smore and ate it. It took me two days to finish because the marshmallow was so big. I had to find a big graham cracker and a big chocolate bar to eat it with the proper ratio of all the ingredients. That was such a fun day. I hope it rains smores again instead of rain this year.

CHICKENS!! This led to the upricing of the empire of Chick-FL-A!!! Where cows ruled the earth!!! (and where lucky charms made a remarkable comeback thanks to the river of milk that flows over Kaysville, Provo, Salt Lake ect.) Then the chickens rebeled against Chick-FL-A and engaged in an epic food fight with the cows. The fight ended when a pig threw onion grenades at the armies. That’s what started the peace between the cows and chickens.

Instead of April showers, it rained...

Instead of April showers, it rained April FLOWERS!! There was a guy named Jeff. He loved the sun and flowers. He didn't like the rain because it got him wet. One day when he was walking home from work, it started to rain! He started running so he didn't have to be touched by the rain. He was soaked by all that rain. Then he said aloud, "WHY DOES THE RAIN HAVE TO COME EVERY SPRING!!" Then he found a 4-leaf clover and wished that water would never fall from the sky ever again. Well, his wish came true. Fortunately, he found another 4-leaf clover. He said, "Well, I do love flowers, so I wish that it would rain flowers." He had no idea that it would work, but it did!! It started raining flowers. He was SO happy. He went on with his day catching flowers and smelling them as they fell from the sky.

The next day, the oceans filled up with flowers and an earthquake happened! It made a huge flower tsunami!! When the flower tsunami went across towns and cities, it decorated all the buildings and houses. In April, they found out that once a year, there would be a huge flower tsunami and make all the buildings and houses look beautiful again. They called it the April flowers.

Raining Dogs and Cats

One day I was outside playing with my friends. We jumped on the tramp, swung on the swings and did cartwheels all around. After a while we got tired and decided to go in. However, as we were walking in, it started raining! And not normal rain.... it was raining cats and dogs! It was super awesome but kind of scary! We didn't want to get hit by the animals but now we had tons of pets! And all of them were so cute! It stayed raining for a while and we didn't know what to do after. But that's ok. Because for now, I'm just reliving the memory of it raining cats and dogs!
