

Senior Spotlight: Avery G.

I was originally born in Maine in the US but then moved to North Carolina where I spent most of my life. I have 2 sisters, Olivia, who is 20 and Mia who is 13, I am the middle child (yes it is all it is cracked up to be). I moved to Cayman 4 years ago, going into my freshman year here at CIS. My friends describe me as, loud, outgoing, creative, and passionate. One interesting thing about me is that my dad and I share a birthday. I collect keychains from every place I travel. I like to keep a physical memory of each place, and like to look through them and think of all the fun times I had there. My most rewarding community service experience was going to Nicaragua as a school. While there we built a garden for a local school in Nicaragua. The children and families could then go and collect fruits and vegetables from the school. It was a crazy experience because it completely changed the way the people of the community thought about food, and gave them at least one reliable source of food. My favorite movie is The Greatest Showman, because the soundtrack is amazing and the whole movie is so fun and energetic, and every time I watch it I get the chills. After I graduate I plan to go to the University of New Hampshire in the US. I am going to be studying Human Development and Family Studies with the hopes of becoming a counselor for little kids. If I was about to walk the green mile last meal would definitely be pad thai from Mizu!
