

Senior Spotlight: Charles-Antoine S.

I was born in Hong Kong, China where I lived for half a year with my French mother and American father. I then moved to France where I lived in a small village named Villenne Sur Scene outside Paris for 5 years. After that, I moved to the Cayman Islands in 2006 making it 12 years. I have lived in Hong Kong, France, and Cayman. I have been a student at CIS for 10 years. I am an active student as I love to go out and run, I am punctual and will always be on time, I am a hard worker as I am juggling the full IB program as well as many extracurricular activities such as track and field and Jazz. I am a very big fan of running and I plan to start running marathons in college. One quality I highly admire in others is the perseverance as being able to constantly stick to something even if it gets hard shows that you are more than just words and that you have the capabilities of going through on the things you say you will do. In the future, I hope not become famous as it would be very tiresome to have to deal with trying to keep your life private. My dream job is to be an architect as I am fascinated by architectural history and the building process. Something interesting about me is I love long distance running and I am always training to become better. Finally, after I graduate from CIS I plan on going to college and study architecture.
