YES Prep's Background and Purpose

YES Prep's mission is to increase the number of students from underserved communities who graduate from college prepared to lead. Our vision is that every child in Houston receives equitable access to a public school that delivers an excellent, college-ready education.

YES Prep Public Schools was founded in 1995 by a small group of teachers responding to the chronic high school drop-out crisis in one of Houston's most disadvantaged communities. At the time, the charter school movement was in its infancy. The first public charter school in the nation opened in 1992, just 3 years earlier. Despite the many challenges of establishing a school and implementing a relatively new model, our founder, Chris Barbic, pressed forward and YES Prep received its state charter in 1998. He believed our students could succeed when given access to a high-quality education even when his critics said otherwise. Chris Barbic has been nationally recognized for his visionary leadership to transform public education for historically underserved populations. From YES Prep's humble beginnings as a single school located in a trailer in a southeast Houston parking lot, we have grown to become one of the nation's most successful charter schools in operation. Today, we are a network of 18 high-performing, open-enrollment charter schools that provide a college-preparatory education for all students across greater Houston. We serve more than 13,568 students in grades 6-12.

YES Prep believes that talent is equitably distributed across all communities in our great city of Houston. The unfortunate reality, however, is that access to excellent educational opportunities is inequitably distributed. In Houston today, a student from a low-income family has less than a 10% chance of earning any form of a college degree (including 2-year, 4-year, and technical degrees). By contrast, a child born into a family in the top quartile of income has about an 80% chance to graduate from college. YES Prep exists to eliminate this gap and give children from low-income communities the same quality education as children who grow up in more affluent communities. Our district-wide student demographics are as follows:

- 97% Hispanic Latino and African American
- 92% economically disadvantaged
- 31% limited English proficient
- 43% at-risk (e.g., retained, pregnant and/or parenting, juvenile delinquent, homeless)

For nearly twenty years, YES Prep has shown that students from all economic and racial backgrounds can achieve at the highest levels when given the opportunity to attend a high-quality, rigorous public school. We operate schools in some of Houston’s most underserved communities, including North Forest; the East End; Fifth Ward; Gulfton; Sunnyside; the greater Kashmere Gardens community; Denver Harbor, and more. YES Prep has proven that with outstanding teachers and high expectations, students from these communities can be accepted to and graduate from top universities and colleges across the country. To that end, approximately 71% of YES Prep alumni are currently enrolled in college or have already earned their degrees, and our students are graduating at four times the rate of their peers with similar economic backgrounds.
